

Reports Persist Herter May Not Seek 2nd Term...
Rumors Say Ike May Ask Him to Take High Post...

Reports persist in unusually well informed Republican circles that Governor Christian A. Herter may accept a high Federal post under President Eisenhower at the expiration of his present term and not stand for reelection a year from November.

This writer's disposition is to dismiss the rumors as being without foundation and of the type which spring up around any man holding high public office. Yet, it's within the realm of possibility that there might be some basis for them, far-fetched as they might appear at first glance.

Should they blossom and ripen into the stage of reality in the coming months, a hard fight undoubtedly would develop next year between Lieutenant Governor Sumner G. Whittier and Congressman Laurence Curtis for the Republican nomination for Governor.

It has been assumed both within the Republican party and outside of it that Governor Herter would seek a second term and that he and Senator Leverett Saltonstall would head the G.O.P. for their fight across the State next year.

An Interview with Tito

Local Young Lady Tells of Her Impression of Yugoslavia Head

By ANN MAZICK

President Josip Broz Tito of Yugoslavia greeted a party of American students for the first time on August 24. The two Experiment in International Living groups in Yugoslavia met together for this conference at the president's summer villa on one of the Brioni islands off the northwestern coast of the country. After welcoming us graciously in English, the president was interested to know the nature of our trip and our impressions of Yugoslavia, before we proceeded with our interview.

One group had lived with families in Zagreb, the capital of Croatia, for three weeks, and the other group had stayed in Ljubljana, the capital of Slovenia. Following that period, the two groups traveled separately through the country, accompanied by some of their Yugoslav friends, and finally met at Brioni before returning to their home cities for a short visit before leaving the country.

Although we traveled as students, many of the group members were no longer engaged in formal studies. The ages ranged from 19 to 30, and in addition to college students, there were engineers, newspaper reporters, teachers, a psychiatric social worker, and a junior high school principal, from many parts of the United States. The president was interested to know what we had learned about Yugoslav life aside from our family relationships and student acquaintances, and we explained that we had visited farms, factories and several government officials. He asked for our impressions of the country and wanted to know which people we had met to gather our information so that he would know where to continue.

As a student group, we were primarily interested in the problem of exchange and questioned Tito as to the possibilities of government aid to help young people visit the United States and live with American families to benefit from the same kind of experience we had had in Yugoslavia. "Will McCarthy permit it?" he asked first in reply, but later he added that if there was no obstacle from the United States, he thought such exchanges would be very useful and beneficial to Yugoslavia. In answer to a question about pressing problems that will be discussed in the fall Par-

Taxpayers' Ass'n, LWV Behind Guarantee of Full-Time Mayor

Support for the raising of the mayor's salary from $9000 yearly to $10,000 was voiced this week by the League of Women Voters of Newton and Newton Taxpayers' association, but both groups also urged making the mayor's post a full-time job.

The two organizations requested the aldermen to add to proposed ordinance, which will be referred to the voters for approval on November 3, a second section reading as follows: "From and after January 1, 1954, the mayor of Newton shall, in the exercise of his office, subordinate any other business or profession to his duties as mayor and shall not hold any other elected or appointed salaried office."

In supporting the "full-time mayor" clause, the League of Women Voters said a guarantee should be written into the law that the mayor would devote his

UCS Objective Higher

Newton's Quota for Feather Campaign Likely to Be Greater

To continue the work of its more than 300 health and social services the United Red Feather Campaign of Metropolitan Boston is this year asking the public for $7,290,000, of this amount $6,739,000 will go to help Red Feather agencies and the remaining $551,000 will be distributed through the United Defense Fund for USO camp shows and recreation centers and other defense related services.

Newton's share in this total goal has not yet been announced. Inasmuch as the total USC objective is higher than last year's goal and the amount raised, it is presumed that Newton's goal will be higher than last year.

The Advance Divisions in the Newton Campaign are starting solicitation this week-end or beginning next week and preliminary meetings have been held for the Divisions doing this advance work. Last Thursday Mrs. Dorothy H. Reed held a morning coffee meeting for the Chairmen of the Women's Mercantile Division and this was followed by Village Meetings at the homes of the Village Chairmen beginning Monday. At Mrs. Reed's meeting

David Berkman, Chairman, and H. J. Pettengill, Campaign Director, both spoke.

Starting on Sunday night and running throughout the week were meetings for workers in Newtonville, Waban, Auburndale, Oak Hill, Newton Highlands and Newton Centre. Chairman of this Division is Bartlett Harwood, Jr., of Chestnut Hill and Mr. Harwood, Mr. Berkman, and Mr. Pettengill spoke at these meetings. Meetings for Newton, West Newton, and Chestnut Hill are still to be held as follows: this evening for Newton workers at the home of Dr. Thaddeus P. Krush; Sunday evening, West Newton workers at the home of Rev. John O. Fisher; and Wednesday night, Chestnut Hill meeting at the home of William W. Cutler, Jr.

HNS at Our Lady's Plans Round Table On Other Faiths

A series of round table discussions on the various Protestant religions was announced this week by Rev. Peter F. Brudzinski, spiritual director of the Holy Name Society of the Church of Our Lady.

The discussions are being held in December in response to a request by the Council of Catholic Men — the governing board of the intra-parish societies — to promote good will and understanding in the community.

The Holy Name Society choir will again start its rehearsals every Wednesday evening at 7 in the church choir loft. Those wishing to support the choir should contact the secretary, Robert L. Cunningham, or the choir director, Miss Florence Herlihy.

Sunday, November 8, has been set aside for the annual Memorial Military Mass to be conducted at 8 a. m. The military groups to take part in this observance should be at hand to assemble their colors at 7:45 a. m.

John Shields will again be chairman of the annual Harvest Party to be held on November 22, the Tuesday before Thanksgiving, in Our Lady's High School Hall.

Newly-elected officers of the bowling league committee are Daniel J. Barton, chairman;

Court's Action Delays Ballot Until Dec'ber

Newton's special municipal election, scheduled for November 10 to fill the unexpired term of Christian A. Herter Jr., in the state House of Representatives, was abruptly blocked Tuesday afternoon in Middlesex Superior Court.

Acting on the plea of a Newtonville man who protested the short time allowed for filing nomination papers, Judge Eugene A. Hudson issued an injunction requiring the entire election process to start over again from the beginning.

City Solicitor Matt B. Jones Jr., and Norman J. Mitchell, chairman of the registrars of voters, agreed that the judge's action voided steps already taken. They stated the election will probably not take place until December.

The protest against time allotted for filing nomination papers was registered by Lawrence E. Cooke of 43 Walker street, Newtonville. Mr. Cooke said he intended to seek nomination for the legislature, but did not have enough time to get his signatures.

The Newton Board of Aldermen, at their special meeting on September 21, set the following day at 5 p.m. as the deadline for turning in the nomination papers. This allowed only 24 hours from the vote for the candidates to se-bert N. McGill, Kenneth R. Backman and George W. Taylor Jr.

Political Overtones -

That probably is what will happen. Yet, there are several reasons why sound political observers will not discount entirely the possibility that Herter might step out at the end of his present term and either assume a State department position or the role as ambassador to the United Nations.

Even fair-minded Democrats will concede that Mr. Herter has done a good job during his 9½ months as Governor. He has laid the groundwork next year for a reduction in the State income tax. He has met a series of difficult and troublesome problems head-on, and he has overcome or is overcoming most of them. His administration has attracted favorable comment from national publications such as Time magazine.

But his job is a gruelling, punishing one that has taken and is taking a heavy toll. Herter's average work day runs 14 or 15 hours. He is usually at his desk in the State House from 9 to 6, frequently having a sandwich brought in to him. After dinner he invariably devotes himself to paper work and to reports awaiting his attention until midnight. There are public functions which it is virtually imperative the Governor of the Commonwealth attend.

Add to this the fact that being Governor is a thankless task, that the solutions to many of the problems confronting the State are neither easy nor pleasant, the MTA, for instance, in that a Governor is almost certain to incur some criticism for doing the things which must be done, and you can understand how a man might well wonder why he went out and campaigned for the privilege of assuming such problems and chores.

Eighteen months ago, Mr. Herter's ambitions and thoughts were in the field of international affairs. They didn't extend toward the Massachusetts State House. He ran for the Governorship only because a group of the leaders in his own party waited upon him and prevailed upon him to do so, after arguing that he was the one man who might spearhead a Republican comeback in Massachusetts at a time when the party's fortunes in the State were at an extremely low ebb.

President Eisenhower undoubtedly would like to have Governor Herter on his team of international experts, a sphere in which Herter excelled during his 10 years in Congress.

If John Foster Dulles relinquishes his portfolio as Secretary of State, Herter would be a logical choice to succeed him. There also have been reports that Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., might not continue as U. N. Ambassador more than another year, and Herter may well be asked to step into his place.

These are positions for which Herter is unusually qualified and which he undoubtedly would enjoy holding. It's possible he might step into either of them at the end of 1954.

This, of course, is merely political conjecture and a case of discussing the things that might and could happen.

By WALTER CHAMBLIN, JR.

You have read a lot of headlines about foreign trade but most of you have not read beyond the headlines, thinking that this is a subject that can be handled for you by Congress and cabinet officers.

But if you are not interested in foreign trade you should be. And you will be hearing a lot about it, for it is one of the foremost issues confronting the Eisenhower administration.

You are citizens of a nation that can no longer live apart from the rest of the world. Once this could be done, but now the scope of American interests is as extensive as the little white crosses that mark the graves of American soldiers beneath the entire pathway of the sun.

Foreign trade policies also affect the output of the nation's farms and factories and the sales of all the retail stores at which you trade.

The United States wants to increase sales abroad. This nation produces huge surpluses that other countries can use. And other countries are eyeing the rich American market.

The issue has been highlighted by controversy over the "Buy American" act. This law requires Government procurement officers to give preference to American firms in letting Government contracts, unless the American bid is unreasonable.

Most government agencies hold that a foreign firm must price its product at 25 per cent or more under an American bid to be placed on equal footing under the "Buy American" act.

Supporters of the "Buy American" Act contend that industry in this country should be favored and that to do otherwise would throw people out of work. It does not make sense, they argue, to damage the American economy in order to promote foreign sales in this country.

State Department officials say, however, that dollars obtained by foreign firms would find their way back to the United States to purchase other products.

Further, the State Department says, the United States must accept more imports if it is to close the dollar gap and discount foreign "hand-outs".

Congress postponed a decision on the trade issue in the recent session by continuing the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act for one year and providing for a Commission on Foreign Economic Policy to report at the next session on how international trade can be promoted while protecting American interests. The Powerful pressure undoubtedly will be exerted on Governor Herter to induce him to stand for another term just as it was brought to persuade him to give up his seat in Congress and run for the Governorship in the first place.

With all due regard for the other men who might step in and carry the Republican banner in his stead, Herter unquestionably is the strongest candidate who could head the G.O.P. ticket in the State next year. He has gradually won over the confidence of many people who did not vote for him last November.

Events have moved swiftly during the months Herter has served as Governor, but most persons have not forgotten his decisive action when the Worcester area was ravaged by a freak tornado, his steps to avert strikes that threatened the public health and safety, the fact that under his leadership public confidence was restored in the State Legislature.

It would be Massachusetts' loss, if Mr. Herter should decide to be a one-term Governor and not seek another term.

A battle within the Republican party inevitably will develop between Lieutenant Governor Whittier and Congressman Curtis. If Herter stands for reelection next year and it doesn't come then, it will materialize in 1956, for Governor Herter sometime ago told those close to him that he would not serve more than two terms.

Whittier and Curtis both had their eyes on the Governorship in 1952. Curtis had announced himself a candidate for the office, and Whittier was marking time, awaiting developments. When Herter agreed to make the fight, Curtis immediately shifted his political objectives and ran for Herter's seat in Congress, and Whittier sought the Lieutenant Governorship, though his admirers made a fight for the gubernatorial nomination at the State convention.

An interesting aspect to this situation is that the Curtis-Whittier fight, when it comes, whether in 1954 or 1956, probably will be settled at a State convention. Certainly, the candidate endorsed by the convention would have a great advantage in the primary.

Present indications are that State Treasurer Foster Furcolo will seek the Democratic nomination for Attorney General and challenge George Fingold in next year's State election. Furcolo originally gave up his seat in Congress to become State Treasurer with the idea of using the office as a springboard to the Governorship, but his supporters declare that his next political move will be for the post of Attorney General.

Under the direction of ex-Governor Dever, Democratic members of the Legislature fought Republican attempts for the adoption of a bill restoring the old primary State convention of endorsing tickets for State-wide offices.

The G.O.P. strategists wanted to bring back the convention because they thought it would put them in a position to select a slate that would have better racial and geographical balance and greater voting appeal than one nominated in a popular primary.

Democratic opponents of the move cried out against the terrible things that happened at the State conventions in the mid-1930's and talked of corruption and the buying and selling of votes.

Stymied, when Mr. Dever vetoed a convention bill that was not to his liking, the Republicans held an unofficial State convention in June of last year, and exerted stern party discipline to force the various candidates to abide by the convention decision, and not try to upset them in the subsequent primary.

Whether the G.O.P. would have been equally successful in Massachusetts last November, if it had held no State convention the previous June, is a question that cannot be answered. The fact is that the Republicans did encounter a real measure of success after conducting an unofficial convention.

Last week the members of the Democratic State Committee met to decide whether they want to hold a similar convention in 1954, and a decision on the matter was put off until mid-November. It will be interesting to see what is decided. It would be rather ironical in view of the fight against reviving the convention system, if the Democratic politicians should do an about-face and elect to hold a State convention of their own.

The Eisenhower Administration also is intensifying its efforts to economize in an effort to attain a balanced budget.

The Administration's budget officials already are preparing the budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1 which will be presented to Congress in January. This will be the first budget prepared originally by the Eisenhower administration and the President has given orders that all unnecessary spending be eliminated. Naturally, he wants to make as good a showing as possible since he will have full responsibility.

Senator Bridges (R., N.H.), chairman of the powerful Appropriations Committee, predicts that the next budget will be balanced. His statement reflects an intent by many members of Congress to reach his goal if it is at all possible to do so by cutting expenditures.

Support from the people back home is essential. They must realize that a balanced budget, stable money, an end to inflation, and tax reduction are more important to the nation than their own pet projects requiring Government spending.

Registration Day to Be Held At W.N. Unitarian Church Sun.

This Sunday will be registration day for the church school in the new church school building of the West Newton Unitarian Church, 1326 Washington street, West Newton. Both old and new pupils and their parents will be welcomed from 10 o'clock to noon at the opening session next Sunday when the new children's chapel, nursery and kindergarten rooms and additional classrooms will be ready for use.

The new church school building has been erected this summer as a one-story court-yard enclosure, only the entrance to which is visible through the archway connecting the church edifice proper with the Alliance Room, parish house and church offices of the First Unitarian Society in Newton.

With these enlarged facilities, primarily for the benefit of the religious education program, a larger number of church school pupils can be adequately accommodated.

Harry B. Taplin of Wellesley, appointed last spring by the church board of trustees as lay assistant to the minister, Rev. John Ogden Fisher, has also been named director of religious education.

Mr. Taplin announces that, in addition to continuing the two-hour church school sessions on Sunday mornings, from 10 to 12 o'clock, an innovation successfully initiated last year, the regular program will be divided into four parts—separate religious youth services in the new children's chapel for the lower and upper schools, conducted by the minister; a projects period, study lesson period and a visual education period related to the study program.

In connection with the expanded church school program, Mr. Taplin announces the appointment of a projects committee, headed by John F. Taplin, who is also chairman of the church finance committee, and a committee on visual education, with Edmund J. Jaskulski as chairman.

Speaking for the religious education committee, the new chairman, Frederick G. Fisher, Jr., of Oak Hill, said: "The religious education committee of the West Newton Unitarian Church hopes that the new church buildings will be utilized to the utmost and extends a cordial invitation to all children of Newton, regardless of whether their parents are at present affiliated with the church, to be present at Sunday's opening session. The religious education committee believes that the church school enrollment this year will more than justify the investment made by members and friends of the parish in the new building. The committee looks forward to a most successful year in the operation of the church school under the guidance of the new assistant to the minister, Mr. Harry B. Taplin, who is also the new director of religious education. We believe that the new building, with its greatly increased facilities, modern, well-lighted classrooms, and its beautiful children's chapel should prove an asset to the community as a whole."

Final plans on teacher procurement, registration and curriculum were made at an extra meeting of the religious education committee held Monday evening, September 28.

Faculty members for the church school, thus far announced, include: Miss Ruth Thompson and Mrs. Edward Y. Walker, nursery school; Mrs. Frederick G. Fisher, Jr., kindergarten; Mrs. Vernon D. Myers, assisted by Mrs. Robert H. Wyshak, first and second grades; Mrs. Arthur Laughland, third grade; Mrs. Lowell V. Coulter, fourth grade; Mrs. Arnold P. G. Peterson, fifth grade; Mrs. Morris H. Adler, sixth grade; Mrs. Richard W. Spry, seventh grade; Mrs. Marion R. Seeley, eighth and ninth grades; Edward Y. Walker and Philip Cranshaw, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades.

The religious education committee of the West Newton Unitarian Church, in charge of the church school program, has been announced as follows:

Frederick G. Fisher, Jr., chairman; Dr. Lowell V. Coulter, trustee member; Mrs. Morris H. Adler, John F. Carroll and Mrs. John F. Carroll, Dr. David N. Hume and Mrs. David N. Hume, Mrs. Arthur Laughland, terms expiring in 1954.

Also Mrs. Ernest W. Kuebler, Albert R. Beisel, Jr. and Fred A. Strobl, terms expiring in 1955; Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Jr., Frederick G. Fisher, Jr., Mrs. Robert L. Townsend and Mrs. John A. Stackpole, terms expiring in 1956.

Also Harry B. Taplin and the Rev. John Ogden Fisher, ex-officio.

Within the large religious education committee, the following have been named as executive committee for this group: Frederick W. Fisher, Jr., chairman; Dr. Lowell V. Coulter, trustee member; Mrs. Arthur Laughland, Mrs. Ernest W. Kuebler, Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Jr., Harry B. Taplin and the Rev. J. O. Fisher, ex-officio.

Fire Prevention Must Keep Abreast of New Construction

In the minds of many, fire prevention and fire protection are confined largely to care in preventing or safeguarding common causes of fire, such as the use of matches, smoking, spontaneous combustion of oily rags, and defects existing in connection with lighting. To be effective, however, every factor which may affect safety to either life or property must be included. Information for the study of these factors may be found in the record of fires that are important from a standpoint of the value of property destroyed, or of lives lost, but dependence can not be placed entirely upon actual fire experience. A certain process used in a manufacturing operation, or the use of a material in the construction of a building, may go on for many years before a fire occurs which will definitely indicate the hazard involved or the lack of fire resistance in the material. As an example, many buildings built thirty to forty years ago were generally considered as being fireproof construction. To those fire insurance men who had given the subject much study it was very apparent that the steel work was inadequately protected and collapse of the floors might be expected at time of fire. Such was the actual result when, after many years, fire in one of these buildings gave a real test and proved these fire insurance men to be correct.

The fundamental principles of preventing serious and catastrophic losses from fire must be ever in step with the industry's introduction of new construction, new processes, new materials and new uses.

When all buildings were of wood a fire could quickly involve a whole block. Fire limit ordinances, with compulsory requirements for brick dividing walls, were the corrective features applied. When, for economic or business reasons, the areas between these brick dividing walls were allowed to reach excessive size, as was done when openings were cut in the walls between two or more buildings, other protective features had to be introduced.

Modern inventiveness, however, has produced the automatic sprinkler system and the automatic fire alarm system. Through the use of these, and the material improvement in the fire department, it has been possible to continue safely in use buildings of such size and containing such values as the modern department stores and apartment houses.

With the further increase in land values, the next fire prevention problem of real interest, because of the great life hazard was the increasing heights to which buildings were being erected. Again factors of the greatest importance were presented to those whose duties involve the protection of life from fire. The rapid vertical spread of fire through the flue-like stairways and elevator shafts was the outstanding feature. The preventive for this was enclosures, fire doors and wired glass, and until these have been installed in multi-storied buildings no fire prevention bureau can claim that it is fully effective in its operation.

Fire Prevention's problem is not entirely one of construction. It is increasingly including processes, materials and construction, plus operations carried on in the building. It is the simple items of waste paper, oily rags, stoves, ashes and provisions for heating and lighting.

Fire prevention, to be effective must ever be on the alert to detect these hazards. Science is just as effective in providing cures for dangers as in developing processes which produce hazards. As an example, life and property safety is greater today in the manufacture and use of explosives than it was when only black powder was made. This has been brought about through the knowledge, on the part of the producers, that education as to hazard was a duty owed to employees and the public, and that it was true economy to spend money to provide adequate protective facilities.

A fire that is prevented, could be a life saved.

liament, Tito explained the criminal procedure law, which has been discussed in public and will be proposed to Parliament by the federal executive committee before the fall elections. It is broad in scope because it is concerned with protecting rights of citizens as well as punishing crimes. As a result of democratization and decentralization, there is a new stress on individual freedom reflected in this legislation.

In regard to the decentralization of farms and industry, our leader asked to what extent they could continue without sacrificing the benefits of overall coordination. We received an answer similar to what we had heard from economists previously. It is not necessary to go on with decentralization now because it continued it might lead to anarchy. Now the system must be channeled and directed. The management of the economy is now mainly in districts, but a longer educational period is needed because people in the districts are not so experienced in modern industry.

Suggestions come from the central government, but with the exception of federal projects such as railroads and military services, the actual planning is done in smaller sections. There are occasional signs of disharmony when one republic carries out plans contrary to federal suggestion or the workers council of a factory distributes the surplus profits among themselves without regarding the needs of the entire community, but with proper education these conflicts will be eliminated.

President Tito was frank in explaining where he thought Russia made her mistakes. He admitted that Yugoslavia did not criticize Russia until their own relationship with the Soviet was damaged, but in retrospect, he felt that they made mistakes in the late 1920's and '30's. The worst developments came after the war when the Soviet Union demonstrated its power to the world in its relationship to smaller countries.

When asked about the role of Yugoslavia in encouraging the international socialist movement, the president explained that it is not Yugoslavia policy to interfere with other nations but to help them solve problems when advice is wanted and to profit from mutual criticism. Other socialist countries criticize Yugoslavia for its "one-party system" which he considers unjust because the Union of Socialist Allies is composed of several groups including the Communist party. When we met Josip Gjerzija, state counselor for foreign affairs, he had spoken of Yugoslavia's role in informing Asia of the true nature of Russian Communism, and Tito agreed that this was their job because they know best the true character of that Communism.

U. S. Dietary Not Nutritional Ideal States Dr. R. S. Harris

The present day diet of the average man in the United States is not necessarily "the nutritional way to heaven" according to Dr. Robert S. Harris, Professor of the Bio-Chemistry of Nutrition at M.I.T. Dr. Harris spoke to the medical staff of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital at its regular quarterly meeting held Monday, September 28th at Usen Auditorium at the hospital at 8:30 p.m.

Dr. Harris described a series of studies made in Mexico and other Central American countries to a near capacity audience of staff members, residents and house officers. About ten years ago a study of the native dietary of Mexico was undertaken to determine whether or not it would be possible to establish an economically possible and nutritionally adequate Mexican diet. Some nutritionists then believed that the way to look at the subject of nutrition was not in terms of the foods consumed but rather in terms of the chemical substances that they represented. It was found that it doesn't much matter where in the diet these chemical substances come from so long as they are found in adequate quantity and in an assimilable manner.

Thirty to forty per cent of the foodstuffs that Dr. Harris and his associates found being sold in the Mexican markets were unknown to them. Many hadn't even been analyzed from a nutritional point of view. On studying these foods it was discovered that corn in Mexico is better dietetically speaking than corn in the U. S. Oranges, too, were better below the Rio Grande. The conclusion was that we in the U. S. have been developing foods for "cosmetic effect" to get foods that were more attractive and more palatable but perhaps less nutritious. We have been going after bigger, sweeter foods and seeking bigger yields while at the same time we may have been cheating ourselves of nutritional values. Dr. Harris maintains that it is possible to produce more nutritious corn, for example, and still get better yields. This is a matter of selective genetics in corn husbandry.

Many plant foods in Mexico are superior to those in the U. S., according to Dr. Harris. A school lunch study undertaken in Mexico based on clinical surveys to assess the nutritional status of those children studied showed by comparison with a comparable group of children in Michigan that the Mexican children were in better shape nutritionally than the American youngsters. Dr. Harris felt that the unrefined nature of the Mexican diet was a factor which favored our neighbors to the south.

A group of poor Mexican Indians in a desert valley, who live under most primitive conditions were found to be in good condition from the dietary point of view. Their chief diet consisted of corn and beans, eaten together, washed down with "pulque," a fermented drink which was their principal source of safe water. Dr. Harris also believes that the "pulque" was an adequate source of "happy calories." These Indians further supplemented their diet by eating cactus blossoms which were found to be very high in important nutrients. The Mexican Indian stays healthy because, according to Dr. Harris, "he eats the right thing whereas here in the U. S. we often eat the wrong things."

A number of common weeds are found to have very high nutritive value—pig weeds, sorrel and melba for example and Dr. Harris says that many of the weeds eaten by cows and horses in New England today are the vegetables of tomorrow. More over he calls today's vegetables merely "weeds that have gone to college." A botanist sent to study plant foods in Central America reported many native foods that were nutritionally superior to those that we eat daily. Tortillas are an excellent source of both calcium and protein; chile has a high ascorbic acid content and a type of an eaten roasted in Ecuador is most nourishing.

There are many ways to nourish humans, Dr. Harris remarked, and the American way is one of the most expensive. It takes three times as much land to feed one person in the U. S. as it does to feed a single individual in the Orient. By feeding foodstuffs to animals who will later be fed to humans we only get a 15% efficiency of converting the food values to be had. It would be impossible to feed all of the people in the world the U. S. diet—there simply is not enough land to produce the food that would be required.

Our type of diet need not be that of the rest of the world. There is no indispensable food. The food supply varies from area to area according to the economy of the region. We should not tinker with local food habits by introducing foods which cannot be produced in the area. It is a tragedy, for example, to accustom people to milk in those areas which cannot produce enough milk to supply the local need. This has been done in certain areas and when the surplus was exhausted riots and other demonstrations resulted. The Arabs have been encouraged to change their diet from dates to rice. They can produce dates, which meet their dietary requirement. They obviously cannot produce rice and must import it. What we should do is to establish regional independence as far as food is concerned.

Dr. Harris was accorded a rising vote of thanks by his audience. The evening was concluded by a brief question period.

tivated Croatian. It was easy to understand how many people find him charming, even though they may disagree with his policies. His gray hair, suntanned face, and pleasant smile give a charming impression to his audience.

The villa is a magnificent structure on the far side of the island, not visible from the mainland. Approaching by motor launch we had a lovely view of the white stone house and gardens, surrounded by trees. From the outside, the building is stately and inside, comfortably ornate. Although the interview was pleasant and we enjoyed the grace and good humor of the president and the luxury of his summer estate, we were confronted with an extreme case of the human failing to forget one's past. Tito, in rising from a poor situation, has become a great hero through his admirable efforts in the Partisan war, in uniting the separate republics which now form Yugoslavia. Now that he is in the top position of a Communist state, it seems a little incongruous that he should live so luxuriously in a few villas like this one while many of his people live in such difficult conditions.

When asked about the role of Yugoslavia in encouraging the international socialist movement, the president explained that it is not Yugoslavia policy to interfere with other nations but to help them solve problems when advice is wanted and to profit from mutual criticism. Other socialist countries criticize Yugoslavia for its "one-party system" which he considers unjust because the Union of Socialist Allies is composed of several groups including the Communist party. When we met Josip Gjerzija, state counselor for foreign affairs, he had spoken of Yugoslavia's role in informing Asia of the true nature of Russian Communism, and Tito agreed that this was their job because they know best the true character of that Communism.

Need for Self Discipline Is Stressed

Necessity for self-discipline was stressed by Dr. Herbert Gezork, president of Andover-Newton Theological School, at a church service at Wheaton College Chapel, September 27. In his sermon Dr. Gezork said that the increased freedom enjoyed by the individual today requires the exercise of self-restraint.

"Discipline without freedom becomes tyranny," Gezork said, "and freedom without discipline is anarchy. Dr. Gezork's text was taken from St. Matthew, vii, 14: 'Strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life.'"

Music Appreciation Course to Be Started Here October 5

An unusual opportunity is being offered by the All Newton Music School in a new course in Music appreciation for the coming season beginning on Monday, October 5.

The course will be under the direction of Allan Barker, faculty member in the piano department of the Music School and a well known concert pianist of greater Boston.

An afternoon session on Mondays from four to five o'clock is being planned for the benefit of Junior, Senior High School students and adults to supplement and broaden their musical understanding and performance.

An evening session for adults with or without previous musical training will be planned and this will be flexible enough to meet the needs of the group.

Musical literature of the classical, romantic and modern periods will be discussed as to form, content and origin. Listening periods will include illustration on the piano and recordings from the extensive record library of the Music School.

Mr. Barker, a graduate of Yale University and of the New England Conservatory, is a well rounded musician. He has been a pupil of Heinrich Gebhard of Boston and of David Barnett, New England Conservatory and Wellesley College. He made his debut at Jordan Hall in 1952 and is a frequent soloist at the Gardner Museum.

The All Newton Music School deems it a real privilege to be able to present Mr. Barker to music lovers of Newton in this new Community Service.

Deaths Services Held for Dr. M. Russell Boynton

More than 700 attended a memorial service Sunday in the First Congregational Church, Newton Centre, for Rev. Dr. M. Questionnaire Is Sent to All Candidates

Questionnaires were sent to all candidates for municipal office this week by Newton Civic Association, the new city wide non-partisan civic group which plans to endorse a slate of candidates prior to the city election on November 3. The Association also plans to interview each candidate in person. Endorsements will be made after consideration of the qualifications of each candidate by the Board of Directors of the Civic Association.

Questionnaires were prepared by a special committee of the Civic Association including Bert H. Loewenberg, chairman, Sidney E. VonLoeckke, Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., Edward J. Pease, Mrs. Melvin Taimor, Mrs. Robert E. Segal and Gen. Daniel Needham, ex-officio, president of the Civic Association.

All candidates were asked to give their name, address, age, ward, precinct, family status, present occupation, record of employment or business experience, how long a resident of Newton, public office held at present and in the past, education and other training, major interests and activities, military service record and membership in organizations.

In addition, candidates for the offices of Mayor and Board of Aldermen were asked: "What specific suggestions do you have for improving the city government?"

Candidates for School Committee were asked: "What contacts have you had with the Newton Public Schools? Do you have children of school age? If so, do they attend the Newton Public Schools?"

"List some of the major problems facing the Newton Public Schools today. State which one of these problems you regard as the most important and indicate what your approach would be toward its solution."

Is Candidate For Alderman At Large, Wd 2

Isadore Ludwin of 67 Grove Hill Avenue, Newtonville, has announced his candidacy for the office of Alderman-at-large from Ward 2.

A well known Insurance and Real Estate Broker, Mr. Ludwin recently stated his reasons for running as follows: "As a man who works in Newton, owns a home in Newton, and whose children are growing up in Newton. I am in daily contact with local people and their affairs and am directly and keenly concerned with good city government."

Mr. Ludwin was born in Malden where he graduated from Malden High School before going to the University of Massachusetts. He also holds degrees from the University of Wisconsin and Harvard University.

His service career during World War II began as apprentice seaman and was completed four years later as Lt. Senior Grade.

Ability and the absence of political commitments make Mr. Ludwin an independent candidate whose only concern is Newton's welfare.

To Reopen Art Metal Classes October 13-14

Classes are now forming under the auspices of the Newton Recreation Department as part of their Fall and Winter program for adult residents of the city of Newton.

These ever popular courses have been conducted in Newton for several years, and many interesting and useful articles have been made by those enrolled. Waste baskets and letter holders covered with gleaming copper foil and bearing the owner's initials etched deeply thereon; trays and bowls of aluminum or copper in dozens of shapes and sizes; candle sticks and sconces; book ends and planters; lamps of many styles and detail. These are but a few of the numerous things made in these classes conducted and operated as a recreational rather than a purely educational program.

The groups, each limited to an enrollment of twelve, will meet one night a week, beginning October 13 or 14, either on Tuesday or Wednesday from 7:15 p.m. until 9:15 p.m. at the Burr Play-ground Building on Waverly Avenue, which is in the vicinity of Newton Corner.

Those interested in joining one of the classes should contact the Recreation Department, City Hall in Newton at once for further information, as applications will be accepted only until the limited maximum quota has been reached.

Takes Part in Big Parachute Demonstration

Corporal Ernest Fairweather, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Fairweather of 124 Staniford street, Auburndale, took part in one of the largest parachute demonstrations ever seen in the nation's Southwest. Staged at Fort Bliss, Texas, thousands of spectators gathered to watch the airborne show as Corporal Fairweather's team demonstrated the job of the paratrooper.

Corporal Fairweather is now on active duty with the 88th Airborne Antiaircraft Battalion, one of the units of the famed 11th Airborne Division now stationed at Fort Campbell, Kentucky. He is at present assigned as a non-commissioned training officer. Selected as a member of the Fort Bliss Demonstration team because of his experience and skill in the art of airborne operations, Corporal Fairweather played an important role in the show that thrilled thousands. Paratroopers hitting the silk, clusters of huge canopies supporting heavy equipment, organization of a paratrooper defense on the ground; these were the things Corporal Fairweather and his team demonstrated to the crowd.

Corporal Fairweather has served with the 88th for 33 months. According to his Commanding Officer, Capt. Forrest A. Walker, "Corporal Fairweather has served with distinction in this unit ever since I have known him." A fitting tribute to a paratrooper!

cure their necessary signatures. Judge Hudson termed the setting of the 24-hour deadline a "very, very serious question which affects the legality of the election." "If this happened in another state," he pointed out, "the situation might be characterized by more interperate language."

However, on three occasions during the morning and afternoon hearings Judge Hudson took elaborate pains to emphasize the fact that nothing was presented which would reflect upon the integrity of the city or its officials.

Opening the 10 a.m. session, Judge Hudson asked City Solicitor Jones if he believed the election laws had been complied with by the aldermen. Mr. Jones answered with a flat "No," then claimed the laws did not directly apply.

The judge agreed that the laws might not have a direct legal application, but said the dispute boiled down to "whether or not persons desiring to run for office had sufficient time to file nomination papers."

"Assume a night watchman wanted to run for office," the jurist stated. "He goes to work Monday night as the aldermen are meeting, returns home to sleep Tuesday morning, wakes up at 5:30 and finds that time for filing has passed."

He advised the parties concerned to get together during a three-hour recess and try to reach some agreement before he ruled on Mr. Cooke's bill in equity. No legal method of placing Mr. Cooke on the ballot was available, though, and Judge Hudson was forced to cancel the entire election.

Mr. Cooke's bill of equity named as respondents Secretary of the Commonwealth Edward J. Cronin, the Newton registrars of voters, and City Clerk Frank M. Grant. Appearing for the city was Mr. Jones and for Mr. Cronin, assistant attorney-general Joseph Elcock.

The dates of the new primary and final elections will be set by Speaker of the House Charles Gibbons, following which the aldermen will again set times for filing papers and for the balloting. Those seeking places on the ballots must again file nomination papers, as the present papers will be outdated.

"I regret," the telegram reads, "that I cannot attend the installation of an old comrade-in-arms as commander of the Crosscup-Pishon Post No. 281 of the American Legion. FOOD FOR THOUGHT

By MARY O'MALLEY, Nutrition Editor
New England Dairy and Food Council

Questions About Children

Every mother of a young child has questions she asks herself, her husband, her doctor, the nutritionist, and even the neighbors. Many of her questions are based on her child's eating habits. One often asked question is should the child have some of everything the family has to eat?

If the food of the family is cooked simply and contains a good variety of foods suitable for the child, he can have some of everything from the family table. It will be better for the entire family to have plain, well-cooked food which the child can enjoy with them. Highly seasoned, fancy and rich foods are not good for anyone. Moreover, it will save time in preparing the meals if everyone eats the same foods and the child will eat better if he sees that his meals are the same as the family's.

Tea, coffee, pickles, relishes and highly seasoned foods are not suitable for a child. If a child is never given tastes of food that he should not have, he will not ask for them. When the family has something to eat which the child should not have, it should be explained to him that it is a food for grown-ups and when he is grown-up he too may have it.

Primary Battle Exclusively GOP Affair

Although four candidates have filed nomination papers for the special election November 10 to fill the legislative seat vacated by Christian A. Herter Jr., only three names will appear on the primary ballot October 20.

Since one of the candidates, John L. Sheehan of 38 Bemis street, Newton, is running as an independent, no primary is necessary for his name to appear on the final ballot. Also guaranteed a place on the November ballot is Francis (Chick) Morris of 10 Harding street, West Newton, who is unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

The lone contest is between two Republicans seeking their party's nomination. They are former alderman Donald L. Gibbs of 37 Claremont street, Newton, and Alderman Paul S. Rich of 278 Franklin street, Newton.

The names of the Democratic and Republican candidates are the only ones to appear on the primary ballot.

The vacancy caused by the resignation of Herter, who is now an administrative assistant to Vice-president Nixon, includes the Fourth Middlesex District of the State House of Representatives. This covers Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 of the city.

5000 Expected At Missionary Sessions Here

More than 5000 persons are expected to attend an 8-day World-Vision Missionary Conference starting Sunday at Immanuel Baptist Church, 187 Church street, Newton.

The meeting, the Fifth Annual World-Vision Missionary Conference, has attracted 20 outstanding missionary speakers from every important area of the world. These speakers will give first-hand reports of the existing conditions that confront them, the threat of Communism and will report on the many people responding to the Gospel.

Dr. Miner B. Stearns will tell of the effective means of bearing the Gospel by radio into the Iron Curtain Territory; Rev. Earl Poysti will tell of broadcasting in the Russian language by means of short wave from Hawaii; Dr. Alfred Kunz of the Pocket Testament League, Inc., will give a first hand report of getting the Gospel into Korea and Formosa.

Every speaker is ably qualified to present the global picture of a world that is at unrest. There will be three sessions on Sunday and two sessions daily during the week — concluding with three sessions Sunday, October 11. Six years ago Immanuel Church gave $2,200 to missions and during the past year the figure increased until today $19,600 has been pledged towards the missionary effort. It is expected that the 1953-54 figure will be even higher.

Free Trip For Shoppers' World Contest Winner

Some lucky person will win a free, all-expense trip of a lifetime for two at Shoppers' World. There's nothing to buy in the "no-strings" contest, which is being held October 1-12 in connection with the center's Second Anniversary Sale.

Winner of the contest will even be able to pick the destination of his or her trip, which will include round trip air transportation for two, arranged by TWA airlines and expense money for a week while there. Included in the many trips the winner will be able to choose from are ones to Rome, Honolulu, Switzerland, Paris, Jamaica, London and anywhere in the United States.

Visitors may enter one ticket from each Shoppers' World Promotion store each day of the contest. Five finalists will be drawn during the ten-day event, and the four who do not win the trip will receive valuable merchandise prizes.

A twenty-two foot birthday cake will be erected in celebration of the event, and all forty-four stores will feature special values.

Busy Schedule Despite No Sessions

Even though the Legislature is not in session, Representative Irene K. Thresher manages to keep a very busy schedule, with many speaking dates, as well as meetings of the two Recess Commissions, Public Welfare and a study of the State Teachers Colleges, of which she is a member.

Recently Mrs. Thresher spoke on State Government to the Provisional Members of the Junior League at Zero Marlboro street in Boston. Various branches of the League of Women Voters in the greater Boston area, have asked her to address their opening fall meetings, either on the subject of "Women in Politics" or on some phase of state legislation. Last Wednesday evening she spoke to the Swampscott League of Women Voters. On Monday afternoon of this week, she will speak to the Newton League in the Newton Highlands Workshop, on Tuesday evening to the Watertown League, and on Wednesday morning to the Concord League.

Thursday afternoon will find her talking to the local chapter of the W.C.T.U. in the parish house of the Newton Centr Baptist Church. The following day on Friday afternoon, she will be at the Hotel Statler in Boston, addressing the Annual Convention of the Massachusetts State Nurses Association.

Holliston Dog Club in New Quarters

The Holliston Dog Training Club, Inc., now in its fourteenth year, has transferred its training headquarters to the Village Club, just off Highland Avenue (on Morton street), Needham Heights. A Calso station is directly in front of the Club, opposite Carter's Mill. Dog training classes will be held every Tuesday evening, at 7:30 for beginners, at 8:15 for Novice Class, and at 9 for advanced show work. Non-member handlers and their dogs are welcome. The owners handle their own dogs, and are taught the ways found by long experience and study to get the best responses from the animals. Philip Jacobs of Southborough is the experienced trainer, and is able to help with problem behavior of the dogs, as well as to prepare them for entry in Obedience classes in the shows.

In our fast-growing communities it becomes more and more essential that the family pet be trained in behavior, both for its own sake, and for the community's.

Like any sport, dog Obedience training for the shows, and for American Kennel Club degrees, is fun, and offers keen competition. The Holliston Dog Training Club, Inc. held a most successful A. K. C. Sanctioned Show in May, at Riverside Park.

Miss Ann Elizabeth Monzert Weds Mr. Robert L. Greenleaf

At Martha-Mary Chapel, South
Sudbury last Saturday evening, Miss Ann Elizabeth Monzert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. Monzert of West Newton, became the bride of Mr. Robert Lyndell Greenleaf, son of Dr.
and Mrs. Sherman S. Greenleaf of Bethel, Me. Rev. John Ogden Fisher of the West Newton Unitarian Church officiated at the 6 o'clock ceremony and a reception followed in the Wayside Inn.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of nylon tulle with applique trim.
Her heirloom veil of princess lace was caught to a headress of orange blossoms, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Miss Ethel Monzert was maid of honor for her sister and Mr.
John Greenleaf was his brother's best man.

The bride was graduated cum laude from Middlebury College, after spending her junior year at the University of Paris. The bridegroom, who served with the Army for two years during World War II, was graduated from Gould Academy and the University of Maine.

After a wedding trip, they will live in Farmington, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Tomlinson To Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Tomlinson will observe the 50th anniversary of their wedding Wednesday, September 30, by holding an open-house at 819 Watertown street, West Newton, their home for nearly 40 years.

Most of their eight children,
all married, and 24 grandchildren are expected to join with friends, neighbors and associates in congratulating the couple between 3 and 5 and 7 and 9 next Wednesday.

Mr. Tomlinson conducted a hardware store in West Newton Square for more than 50 years until he sold the business in 1949 to his son, George. The elder Tomlinson still assists at the store. He was born in Newfane, Vt.

Mrs. Tomlinson was formerly Miss Mabel Warren Curtis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Alonzo Curtis of Newtonville.

The couple were married in the old Newtonville Universalist Church by Rev. Hammett, and in recent years have attended the West Newton Unitarian Church.

Mr. Tomlinson has been a member of Dalhousie Lodge,
A. F. & A. M., for 52 years.

Although taking part in community and church affairs, Mr.
and Mrs. Tomlinson have been primarily interested in their family, and now find satisfaction in visiting their three sons and five daughters, scattered from Maine to Maryland.

State Federation to Visit Memorial Forest in Sudbury, September 23rd

NEWTON-S 15 W L
Members and friends of all clubs will meet at the Memorial Forest Reservation, in Sudbury on September 23rd and either bring a picnic lunch or make reservations at the Wayside Inn.
The visit will afford an opportunity to see the Reservation in its various autumn colorings. The park area has been beautified by the addition of plantings of flowering trees and shrubs. A bird bath, seedling stations and two stone seats have been added to the "sacred place" near the flag and boulder. Through the work sponsored by the Maria Moore Cabet Foundation for Botanical Research, 100 seedling trees have been planted for study and research. The Arnold Arboretum through their Dr. Karl Sax, has contributed unusual and fine specimens of flowering trees and shrubs. Flowering dogwoods and hawthorns have been dedicated to Misses Nellie and Florence Osborne, faithful workers on War Services committees and to Miss Bertha Bartlett of Lynn, who served the Federation on its Conservation Committee.

Public Invited to Inspect Local Fire Stations Next Week

Proclaimed by President Eisenhower, Fire Prevention Week will be observed this year from October 4 to the 10, Fire Chief John E. Corcoran of Newton announced today. He said, "This year's campaign will emphasize human carelessness as the biggest fire hazard of all. The National Fire Protection Association sponsor of this annual crusade against fire, reports a life loss of 12,535 and a property loss of $896,000,000 in 1952. And according to the NFPA, 90 percent of the fires that are taking such high toll of life and property could have been prevented.

"While losses were at an all-time high in 1952, fire statistics for the first six months of 1953 indicate that the U. S. will suffer an even greater loss this year," the Chief continued. "Few people realize it, but everyone of us individuals has to pay for this tragic and unnecessary loss. Everything we buy—food, clothing, the rent we pay—costs more because the price includes a heavy fire tax."

Chief Corcoran urges everyone in this city to take an active part in this year's Fire Prevention drive and said: "Every citizen has an obligation to himself and the community to prevent fires. Where fires are not discovered or reported promptly, the fire department may be called too late to prevent death, injury, and heavy property losses. Effective and systematic fire prevention activities on the part of each resident are the only way we can save lives and reduce destruction. That means each of us must accept a responsibility to prevent fires.

"We of the fire department," Chief Corcoran concluded, "are ready at all times to fight fire for the community—but we'd rather work with the community and prevent fire. Let us help you make every week Fire Prevention Week."

All citizens are cordially invited to visit all of the several Fire Stations throughout the community and to inspect the apparatus and equipment. If you have any questions or fire problems that you want solved the officers on duty will try and help you or let you know where you may obtain the answer you desire.

A new engine has recently been added to the fire fighting force and is located at Station No. 7, Boylston street, Newton Highlands. It is a 1000 gallon triple combination Maxim pump. It is the last word in fire apparatus design and operation and well worth going to see.

Ladder No. 3 at Station One, Washington street, Newton is also a fairly recent piece of apparatus and very interesting to see in operation. This is an American La France aerial truck the same as Ladder No. 1 at Newtonville.

As an interesting comparison to the modern apparatus you should visit the Newton Motor Sales Co., Washington street, Newtonville and see one of the finest pieces of horse-drawn fire apparatus in New England. It is a hose and chemical engine formerly used in Manchester, Conn.; or go to the Moye Chevrolet Co., also on Washington street in Newton and see the Trunton Hose wagon with its chemical tank which was a marvel of the age and then visit the West Newton Motor Mart on Washington street, West Newton, here is the last horse-drawn hose wagon that saw actual service in the great Salem Fire around 1912.

The Toy Chest, 295 Walnut street, Newtonville, will also feature models and interesting fire equipment.

Fire Alarm and Headquarters will be opened to visitors, here you can actually see how alarms are handled and sent out to the various stations and cities that have mutual aid with Newton. Children should be accompanied by an adult when visiting this office.

This is your invitation to come and see how your Fire Department operates to protect and serve you and your property in Newton. All Fire Stations will be opened to the public from 10:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. daily.

Plan to Hold Well Baby Conference

Another Newton Well Baby Conference is to be opened by the Newton Visiting Nurse Association, a Red Feather Agency in Newton Upper Falls, Tuesday, October 6, at 2 p.m. The Emerson School, 5 High street, is the place of the conference and Dr. Leslie H. Macmillan is the Doctor in charge.

Formerly this village's conference was held at the Twombly House owned and used as a First Aid Center by the New England Spun Silk Company and generously given for use for the conference.

The Newton Visiting Nurse Association is happy to open this Conference again in Upper Falls for mothers of children under two years of age for physical check ups, advice and nutritional advice. The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club is cooperating and furnishing volunteer workers.

Named to Head United Church Canvass

Robert Mitchell, president of the Newton Council of Churches, has announced the appointment of Chester Borden, 94 Day street, Auburndale, as chairman of the United Church Canvass of the Council of Churches. Through the work of Mr. Borden and the members of his canvass committee the Every Member Canvasses of the Protestant Churches comprising the Newton Council of Churches will be coordinated into a united and simultaneous effort during the month of November.

Mr. Borden succeeds M. G. Hamant as council canvass chairman. He has formerly served as canvass chairman at Second Church in West Newton. Mr. Borden is president of the A. E. Borden Refrigeration Co.

Herte MTA Trustees Have Made Real Progress ...
Zone Fare System Expected Early Next Year ...

Governor Herter's MTA trustees have been working quietly in the 10 weeks since the three Democratic members of the State public utilities commission prevented them from raising fares on the transit system, but it now develops that they have been doing a very effective job in trimming the road's operating expenditures.

They assumed their posts late in March and at the end of this year, after a period of a little more than 10 months, they will have accomplished economies amounting to $2,000,000 in the cost of running the system.

That looks as quite an accomplishment when it is recalled that the trustees whom they succeeded had indicated that no more savings could be realized, had adopted a do-nothing attitude and fallen into an air of hopelessness while sitting on top of a deficit that was steadily rising to the dismay of thousands of taxpayers.

It now seems evident also that the MTA trustees might even have placed the road on a self-supporting basis, if the three public utilities commissioners had not resorted to their astonishing reasoning that unless the trustees could show how they were going to wipe out all the deficit they shouldn't be allowed to wipe out any loss.

To Be Guest of Honor

Veterans' Council to Present Mayor Lockwood With Citation

On Tuesday evening, October 27, 1953, at the War Memorial Building cafeteria, Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood will be the guest of honor at a Testimonial dinner, at which the Newton Veterans' Council will present him with a citation in appreciation of his co-operation with the Newton Veterans Organizations during his years as Mayor of Newton.

William J. Maloney, chairman of the Council, announces that other guests will include the ladies of Newton Chapter American Red Cross, who have given much time serving refreshments at the monthly send-offs for Newton boys being inducted into the Armed Forces.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes James D. Colotti, PC of Post No. 50 Italian-American War Veterans; Joseph Greco of Nonantum Post No. 440 AL; Francis Perry, Commander of Lt. Stanton Amesbury Post No. 876 VFW; S. Roy Reinar, Commander of Newton Post No. 211 JUV and Michael Bove of Post No. 50 Italian-American War Veterans.

William E. Halliday, Jr., PC of Newton Post No. 48 AL will act as Toastmaster and hostesses will be members of Newton Chapter Gold Star Mothers, under the direction of President Rose Castagnine.

Maloney states that at the Council's last meeting, many words of praise were spoken in Mayor Lockwood's behalf, due to the manner in which he has always given much attention to the City of Newton.

At Countryside School

Analysis and Improvement of Reading Course Being Given

The new Countryside School in Newton Highlands is currently sponsoring a program of special interest to parents and neighbors in the Countryside community.

This is the course "Analysis and Improvement of Reading" which is being given by Doctor B. Alice Crossley, Donald D. Durrell, and Helen B. Murphy of Boston University.

The purpose of this course, which is open to the public free of charge, is to attempt to solve the problems of children who read below or beyond their grade level. A survey will be conducted of the instruction needs for pupils in reading skills and habits, and an attempt will be made to provide a more effective reading program based upon an analysis of the results of this survey.

Members of the staff of the Boston University Educational Clinic will assist in the examination of severe cases of reading difficulty.

The course, which began on September 30, will meet on the following dates: October 14, October 28, November 4, November 18, December 2, December 16, January 13, and January 20. Afternoon sessions will be held between 4 and 6 p.m. Evening sessions between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

For Halloween

Committees Working Hard on Programs for 250 Parties Here

Sparked by the recent enthusiastic start-off meeting of the Halloween Committee, headed by General Chairman Howard Whitmore, Jr., Newton's 1953 celebration for over 14,000 school children of all ages, is already in a well-advanced stage of planning, with all party committees diligently preparing programs for the scheduled 250 parties.

Under the inspiring leadership of Howard Whitmore, Jr., during the past several years, Newton's annual events have achieved a degree of excellence which has won the attention and acclaim of cities the country over. From present indications, it seems certain that this year's event, the 13th, will hit a new high, not only in the number of boys and girls participating, but in the effectiveness of the programs which are tailored made for each age level.

The basic organizational set-up, embracing the entire city, is practically complete, according to Mrs. Bagna Hovgaard, Supervisor of Recreation in the Newton Recreation Department, and Chairman of the Halloween Program Committee, a position in which she has done such a marvelous job for the past thirteen years. The list of Building Chairmen, under whose direction all parties in upwards of forty key locations throughout the city will function, is reported by Mrs. Hovgaard, as follows:

Newtonville: Day Junior High parties, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Gilvar; Cabot School, Mrs. Louis Galner; Carr School, Mr. James L. Carey; Clafin School, Mr. Harry V. Anderson, co-chairman; Mrs. Jean Laurits; Horace Mann School, Mr. Henry Hyde.

Select Students to Participate in Ohio and Penn. School Exchanges

Last month sixty Newton High School pupils received letters informing them that they were included in the 1953-1954 program of the School and School Exchange. Thirty boys and thirty girls were elected from several hundred applicants interested in the exchange plan.

Informal meetings of the pupils elected have given them a chance to get better acquainted with each other and to discuss the year's plans. Raymond A. Green, Principal, welcomed them to the activities of the sixth year of Newton's exchange program. He said, "I congratulate you on your wonderful opportunity. You will have invaluable experiences, and you will, I know, well represent this school and city."

One group of fifteen boys and fifteen girls will have an exchange with Derry Township High School, Hershey, Pennsylvania. Faculty leaders for this group are Harry L. Walen, Administrative Assistant and teacher of English, and Miss Clara A. Ashley, Latin teacher and faculty adviser of the Orange Book.

The second group of like numbers exchanges letters, information, and visits with Cleveland Heights High School, Cleveland Heights, Ohio. The faculty leaders are Kenneth White, business instructor in the High School and Newton Junior College, and Miss Mabel Turner, head of the home economics department.

Only 4 More Days Left To Register New Voters

Unless a late spurt develops, new voter registration here has been lagging since the registration period started and with October 14 as the deadline for registering to ballot in the municipal election November 3, a concerted drive will have to be undertaken to bring a sizeable number of new voters to the list.

A total of 332 names have been added to the rolls here since a revision of the list took place in June, a number which is much lower than is generally the case prior to an election.

As the registration final date is rapidly approaching, the Newton Board of Registrars are holding night sessions through October 14. New registrations here were reported "light" as an average of only 12 were being recorded. The all time record of 48,945 was listed prior to last year's Presidential election.

It has been announced that registrations will continue at City Hall daily, from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., and that the remaining evening sessions will be held tonight (Thursday), Friday and next Tuesday and Wednesday, the final date allowed by law for registration. No registrations will take place Monday as it is a legal holiday and the City Hall will not be open. At night, registration will be held from 7:30 p.m. to 9 o'clock and on the final day, October 14, until 10 p.m.

Msgr. Matthew Stapleton to Lecture Today

The Very Rev. Msgr. Matthew P. Stapleton, S.S.L., S.T.D., will lecture on Sacred Scripture at Newton College of the Sacred Heart today (Thursday) at 9 a.m.

Msgr. Stapleton's lectures are delivered every year in October and March on the Thursday nearest to the Feast of St. Jerome and the Feast of St. Gregory, patrons of the Sacred Scripture.

Newton Visiting Nurse Ass'n To Lose Its Executive Director

November 30 was revealed today as the retirement date set by Miss Hilga S. Nelson, Executive Director of the Newton Visiting Nurse Ass'n. At the meeting of the Board of Directors held at their headquarters, 1990 Washington street, Newton Lower Falls, tribute was paid to Miss Nelson for her long years of devoted service to this Red Feather Agency. Her faith, foresight, and vision for improving community living have made the organization grow to the present active ten nurse agency, respected not only in Newton but in the state.

Miss Nelson has served in the field of Public Health in many outstanding positions such as Treasurer and Vice President of the Massachusetts Organization for Public Health Nursing. At present she is on the Advisory Committee of the state Cancer Society, the Chairman of the Steering Committee in the organization of the Eastern Massachusetts League for Nursing, a member of the Diabetic Committee of the United Community Services.

In Newton she is a member of the Mental Health Committee of Newton Council, the Cerebral Palsy Council and a member on the Board of the Newton Nutrition Center.

The Newton Visiting Nurse Association is conscious of and grateful for Miss Nelson's devoted guidance and service in the field of Public Health Nursing and her concept of Health Instruction so vital to the welfare of Newton citizens.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

Rep. Rawson Gives Address To Town Clerks' Ass'n

Representative George E. Rawson was a guest of the Massachusetts Town Clerks' Association at their annual convention held at the Curtis Hotel, Lenox, October 1 and 2.

He addressed the convention on recent election laws, legislation affecting the work of the town clerks.

Newton's Quota For Red Feather Drive $325,000

Is $25,000 Higher Than Amount Set For City Last Year

Newton's goal in the 1954 United Red Feather Campaign is $325,000. This compares with $300,080 raised a year ago. David Berkman, Newton Campaign Chairman, in addressing groups of workers at 15 meetings in the various divisions held during the past week stated, "The need is great this year. Red Feather services may be compelled to reduce and even eliminate some essential services now being furnished unless the people of our city and in Metropolitan Boston meet the challenge with more substantial giving."

"United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston," Mr. Berkman further stated, "with which the Newton Community Chest is affiliated in the Red Feather Campaign, needs approximately $1,000,000 more than was raised last year and Newton needs $25,000 more to meet this year's goal, the minimum needed to supply present essential services."

In the interest of the campaign a huge workers' meeting for residential solicitors is planned for Tuesday, October 13. The West Newton Theatre has been made available for the evening by interested sponsors and one of the two feature pictures will be eliminated and a period devoted to the interests of the Red Feather Campaign.

Spiritual Life Mission Starts Sunday

Beginning this Sunday, a period of special services known as a Spiritual Life Mission will be held at the Newton Methodist Church. The purpose of this Mission is to deepen and intensify the religious living of all the church members and to welcome any new people who care to participate in the work of the church.

The Reverend Lawrence D. Porter, Superintendent of the Portland, Maine district of the Methodist Church, will be the guest minister for the series of services.

City Solicitor Says No Way To Enforce It

City Solicitor Matt B. Jones termed "just an expression of opinion" the nine to seven vote passed Monday night by the Board of Aldermen of an amendment to the mayor's salary-raise referendum sponsored by the League of Women Voters and the Taxpayers Association. The amendment as passed would provide that the mayor subordinate other interests to his duties as mayor. It was passed despite an adverse report of the Claims and Rules Committee.

Solicitor Jones pointed out that there was no way of enforcing its provisions. The amendment provides that if any section be held unconstitutional, the other shall remain in force. Voting in favor of the amendment were: Aldermen Ernest G. Angevine, V. Stoddard Bigelow, Joseph B. Davis, William A. Diman, W. Eugene Jones, Richard H. Lovell, Kenneth E. Prior.

December 8 Is Date Set For Special Election

City Clerk Frank M. Grant has announced that the new date for the special election to fill the vacancy resulting from the resignation of Christian A. Herter, Jr., as representative in the Fourth Middlesex District of Newton, has been set by House Speaker Charles Gibbons for December 8, with the Primary to be held on November 17.

The new dates were received by telephone by Mr. Grant from Secretary of State Edward Cronin. All candidates must file new nomination papers.

The first precinct from Speaker Gibbons, setting the special primary for October 20, and the election for November 10, was nullified by Judge Eugene A. Hudson in Suffolk Superior Court last week after a bill in equity was brought alleging that candidates were given insufficient time to procure signatures on nomination papers.

Mr. Grant has announced that the last date for registration of new voters for the special primary will be October 28, and for the special election November 18.

Brown, Peter Elkind, Donald Gavini, Henry Genaske, Jean Bannister, Jacqueline Bean, Elizabeth Beeuwkes, Nancy Braceland, Roberta Cooper, Janet Corcoran, Gail Crosby, Yvonne Desrochers, Rosalie Horne, Donald M. Hill, III, Robert S. Jones, William Kantar, Richard E. Pratt, William Rodenhizer, Robert Shaffer, Roberta Milender, Priss Pollard, Deanna Porter, Abbe Beth Robinson, Marsha Samoylenko, and Betty Ann Stinehour.

Plans have been made by the pupils for an informal reception to honor their parents, for an exchange of messages with the participating schools, and for the hard work and good fun of earning money to meet travel and entertainment expenses.

Meeting with the two groups, Mr. Rinker, Director of School Exchanges, emphasized the school rules of eligibility and cautioned against any shirking of other responsibilities to the school and to their homes. He urged them to visit the Newton Free Library and to make use of the excellent collection of books related to the two exchanges. Telling the pupils to get acquainted with the books in the School and School Exchange reading list, compiled by the Newton High School librarians, he pointed out the correlation of exchange activities and regular classroom work, particularly in the sciences, social studies, home economics, and English.

Asked to report on his talk about exchanges at the Miami Convention of the National Education Association, Donald Davidson, President of the Newton Teachers Federation, told of the widespread interest in the exchange idea and of questions asked about Newton's successes in extending the classroom to the community and to distant places. He quoted one educator from Wisconsin, who said: "In my twenty-nine years as a teacher and as a principal, I have never known any educational experience to equal the school exchange."

Elmer S. Crowley, Principal of Idaho Falls High School and a faculty leader of the Western Exchange, 1952-1953, wrote a glowing report, called "Fair Exchange," published in the N. E. A. Journal, it says, in part:

"Before the exchange, each group took its own community for granted. It was quite an experience for the students to view their own areas thru the eyes of newcomers. Both areas had much to offer. Newtonville students were astounded by the vastness and beauty of western United States. Idaho Falls students marveled at the man-made valleys and mountains of brick and stone—and the concentration of population in the cities."

"One of the Idaho Falls students, while in Newton High, was asked to explain her impressions of differences between the two groups. Said she, 'Really, I don't see that there are too many differences except that you folks in the East speak with an accent.'"

"We speak with an accent?" came the quick retort from a Newton student. "Oh, no! You have the accent—not us!"

"Accent or not, all agreed that basically we all have the same hopes and aspirations, the same fears, the same ideals."

"From East to West, from West to East, these young people were a credit to communities they represented. By participating in this educational adventure, they developed understanding of another section of our country and gained a new appreciation of their own communities. They made warm friendships and laid foundations for more effective citizenship."

The Pennsylvania and Ohio groups are the ninth and tenth exchanges for Newton High School. Others have been with Wyandotte, Michigan, 1948-1949; Frederick, Maryland, and Newport, Rhode Island, 1949-1950; Clarks Summit, Pennsylvania, and North Haven, Maine, 1950-1951; Glebe Collegiate Institute, Ottawa, Canada, 1951-1952; Idaho Falls, Idaho, and Bradentown, Florida, 1952-1953.

The impression in political circles is that the former trustees, who failed to accomplish much of anything, would have been made to look very bad, if the present trustees had succeeded in making the road pay its own way, and that the fare rise was blocked to prevent such a development.

For that reason it's not considered likely that the MTA trustees will seek to install a zone system of fares on the road until after Governor Herter has placed a new member on the utilities commission next January and has changed what is politely described as the political climate of that agency.

The MTA trustees presumably realize that any move they might make now to revise the fare pattern would probably be thwarted by the utilities commission and that they have no alternative but to bide their time, make what economies they can and wait until the makeup of the utilities commission is changed.

There is no question but that the zone system of fares, when it is proposed, will be unpopular with a vast number of people, and that many people will have to pay as much as 25 cents for a long trip on the MTA system.

But the MTA deficit which is now placed on the property-owners in the cities and towns served by the road is also unpopular, and the Herter trustees have a responsibility to wipe it out, if it is possible to do so. The savings they already have accomplished are quite impressive.

Many GOP Candidates for State Offices New Chief Justice Very Cautious Man . . .

A number of Republicans are eyeing the positions of State Treasurer, State Auditor and Secretary of State, and the indications are that spirited fights for the G.O.P. nominations for those three offices will get underway early next year.

Contests for all three endorsements undoubtedly will be decided at next June's Republican State convention, but the nomination-seekers will begin lining up the prospective delegates right after the New Year, and lively battles for those three places on the G.O.P. State ticket probably are in the making.

Governor Herter's success in winning election last November has resulted in an upsurge of interest on the part of prospective Republican candidates, and there will be no shortage of men and women interested in running against State Treasurer Foster Fur-colo, State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley and Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin.

While the Republican chieftains will adopt an official hands-off attitude and an air of neutrality and will insist that free-for-all races will be allowed for the three nominations, the actual fact is that they will use those three places to try to give their ticket as much geographical and racial balance as is possible.

In contrast to the Republicans who know exactly what spots will be open on their State ticket, the potential Democratic candidates must wait until they know what ex-Governor Dever is going to do before mapping their own political plans.

The one exception is the venerable and battle-scarred James M. Curley who insists that he's going to run for the U. S. Senate, irrespective of what anybody else does.

But Congressman Philip J. Philbin, State Treasurer Foster Furcolo and Middlesex County Sheriff Howard Fitzgerald all are waiting to see which way Dever moves before committing themselves concerning the 1954 political campaign.

Philbin will campaign for the U. S. Senate if Dever doesn't, but probably would seek reelection if Dever decides to oppose Senator Leverett Saltonstall, as many observers believe he will.

Furcolo will run for Governor, if Dever is not a candidate for that office, and probably would revise his political aim and bid for the Attorney Generalship, if Dever's backers succeed in persuading him to run for Governor again.

Friends of Sheriff Fitzpatrick insist that he also is a prospective candidate for Governor.

But until Dever discloses his political intentions the Democratic picture will remain confused.

In the early autumn of 1948 this writer rode throughout New England and the eastern United States on the campaign train of Earl Warren, then the Republican nominee for Vice President.

Warren had been hailed as a colorful
gubernatorial election in his home State had won both the Democratic and Republican nominations for the Governorship.

As political history was subsequently to disclose, Warren gained the Vice Presidential nomination because he was able to swing
the California delegation in a bloc to Thomas E. Dewey after standing himself as a favorite son candidate for the Presidency for three ballots.

The political reporters who rode through the Berkshire Hills and up through the Merrimack Valley with Warren, just about five years ago, sat back and waited for the dynamic brand of campaigning expected from the big man from the Golden State. It never came.

Governor Dewey's advisers considered that he was assured of election, that the Presidency was as good as in his pocket, and he had adopted a don't-kick-over-the-applecart strategy.

Warren went even further in that direction. Whenever his campaign train stopped, a band would break into the strains of "California Here I Come." His handsome family would accompany him to the speaking platform and Warren would deliver a cautious speech, the point of which usually was that he was against communism.

If he cited any condition which he even mildly criticized, he would hasten to add that he wasn't blaming Harry Truman, or his administration, or the Democratic party. Who he was blaming never did come clear to this observer.

The newsmen on Warren's train all wrote about his see-no-evil, hear-no-evil, speak-no-evil campaign in which the only time he ever went out on a limb and committed himself was when he boldly praised the New England weather and suggested that it compared favorably with that in California.

The impression on the campaign train was that every time Warren got an idea that he might insert into a speech he called up Dewey in Albany and the latter vetoed it, leaving poor Warren with nothing whatever to talk about except the weather and communism.

That was the considered judgment of the reporters who lamented nightly that they didn't have much of anything to report, with the eastern writers wondering out loud whether political campaigns were won across the continent in California by politicians who refrained from saying anything.

This observer gradually came to the conclusion that Warren by nature was even more conservative than Dewey's most conservative counsellors, and we used to speculate on what would happen if Warren ever were placed in a position where he would be forced to commit himself publicly on a position where he had to declare himself on a controversial issue. That never happened on the campaign train.

Now Warren is chief justice of the United States Supreme Court, the occupant of the highest judicial post in the world, and the despatches report a coolness to his selection in the conservative midwestern wing of the Republican party. The Old Guard insists that on both international and domestic affairs Warren has been in the forefront of what it calls the "me-too" faction.

Chief Justice Warren may prove to be a real liberal on the Supreme Court bench, but the reporters who rode his campaign train back in '48 would have been hard pressed to name any more cautious man in American public life.

What Shall We Eat . . . Shrimp-Celery Chowder

Shrimp and Celery Chowder is a pleasing flavor blend. Try it for a chilly night supper before the football game.

Fresh shrimp are easy to cook.
They are the first step in many wonderful dishes. Right now shrimp prices have fallen from their lofty spot and beckon to us shoppers.

To cook a pound of fresh shrimp, wash the raw shrimp well, and cover it with a quart of boiling salted water. Simmer 7 to 10 minutes or until pink and tender. Let stand 5 minutes in the cooking water. Drain and rinse in cold water. Remove the legs; peel off the shell, and with a sharp pointed knife remove the black vein from the centre back of each strip.

"Shrimp are like shoes; you get them in many sizes," a helpful salesman at the corner fish market once told me. Larger shrimp run about 25 to a pound.
Whatever size you choose, a pound of fresh shrimp gives approximately 1½ cups of meat.

A new dish lifts family spirits

as a new lipstick lifts your moral.
Surprise them with a new flavor blend like Shrimp and Celery Chowder.

Shrimp and Celery Chowder
2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca. ¼ teaspoon salt. 3 cups milk. 2 bouillon cubes (chicken).
1 cup celery, diced. 1 cup water.
½ cup diced, cooked potato. 1 cup shrimp, diced, cooked. 3 teaspoons butter. Dash cayenne.
CROUTONS: parsley sprigs, or other garnish.
Add tapioca and salt to milk.
Cook in double boiler 15 minutes or until tapioca is clear, stirring frequently. Boil bouillon cubes and celery in water together for 3 minutes. Add to tapioca mixture. Add potato, cooked shrimp, butter and cayenne. Reheat. Before serving, sprinkle croustons, parsley sprigs or other garnish on top. Makes 4 servings.

For a Good Day . . .
Breakfast — Serve Autumn
Fruit Juice Cocktail. Mix half and half of chilled apple juice and grape juice.
Lunch — Have hot beef stew, convenient from a can, plus a salad of tomato wedges with cottage cheese. Follow with molassez cookies for dessert.

Dinner — Flavors to go with a chowder: Hot corn bread, grapefruit-orange-onion ring salad with french dressing. Try a plum and apricot pie for a fine flavor follow-up.

FROM RICH COMMITTEE Editor, Newton Graphic:

It has been brought to our attention through copies of literature circulated by the Gibbs for Representative Committee that their candidate has the support and backing of former Representative Christian A. Herter, Jr.
This impression is definitely not true and we have received from Mr. Herter, Jr. a letter stating his position.

His statement in part is as follows: "I have always made it completely clear that I did not want by name used. If you want to quote any part of my letter indicating my complete neutrality, please do so."

MAYOR THEODORE R. LOCKWOOD signs proclamation designating the week of October 4 through the 10th as National Pharmacy Week in Newton. Shown looking on are State Commissioner of Pharmacy Wilfred Chagnon who is also treasurer of the Newton Druggist Association; President Irving H. Polen, of the National Druggist Association, and Carl H. Alvord, secretary of the Newton Druggist Associa-

PROCLAMATION

Whereas, the pharmacists of our community play an indispensable part in safeguarding the health of our citizens, giving unselfishly of their time and talents in specialized service to the public; and

Whereas, the week commencing Oct. 4, 1953, has been set aside throughout the country as National Pharmacy Week to focus public attention on the importance of pharmacy in our lives; and

Whereas, our local pharmacists are participating in this annual observance, employing the meaningful slogan "Your Pharmacist Works for Better Community Health;"

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Lockwood, Mayor of the City of Newton, do hereby proclaim the week of Oct. 4 to 10 as Pharmacy Week in our community and urge all our residents to visit their neighborhood drug store during the week to observe the vital role of the pharmacist upon whose skill and training the health and well being of our community so largely depends.

Food for Thought

VITAMIN C FOR HEALTHY TISSUES

The first vitamin separated out from food was vitamin C, now also called ascorbic acid. Tissues throughout the body can't keep in good condition without vitamin C.

When diet is very low in this vitamin, gums are tender and bleed easily, joints swell and hurt, and muscles weaken. In advanced stages, the disease called scurvy results. Scurvy is rare now in this country. But many people get too little vitamin C for their best state of health.

You need some food rich in vitamin C daily, because the body can't store much of this vitamin.

All of the familiar citrus fruits are bountiful sources of vitamin C. Half a glass (4 ounces) of orange or grapefruit juice, fresh or canned, or frozen, goes far toward meeting a day's needs. The same is true of half a grapefruit, a whole orange, or a couple of tangerines.

Other good sources of vitamin C include tomatoes and tomato juice, canned or fresh; fresh strawberries and cantaloupe;
also raw green food, such as cabbage, green pepper, and green lettuce. The potato's many values include some vitamin C.

TELE- VIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

Have you noticed that in so many ways television has followed closely the trail blazed by radio in the 20's? First the stations grew in number, then the sets.
Radio had the simple crystal tube sets, which soon grew up to super-heterodyne instruments. Television started with 8 or 10-inch screens and has now reached the stage where the 21-inch screen is standard and even larger screens are common.

What started us off on these lines was a short news item which revealed that there are now almost 25,000,000 television receivers in operation in the U. S. A. That's a set for every six people in the land. How many will there be a year from now? Two years from today? Five years? It's a good bet there'll be 50,000,000 set in use by the end of 1955.

Television is growing so much that even the programs are having "children." The CBS-TV series, "Omnibus," has a juvenile edition in "Excursion," which is on NBC-TV. And the junior program pulled off a TV first recently in having ex-President Harry Truman in his first commercial video appearance, giving a talk to the youngsters . . . a good first for any show. We think a good "first" for any show is a beautiful new OLYMPIA TV set, from our large stock, at this group was known as the "Kitchen Cabinet". In the Harding era it was known as the "Ohio Gang." In the Franklin Roosevelt administration it was called the "Palace Guard."

Perhaps such groups are essential. Certainly, there's nothing wrong about their existence.
Every President has to delegate authority and it is natural that such delegation of authority goes to those most closely associated with the White House.

But two questions are being asked in Washington now about the current Palace Guard. One is how far should the Palace Guard go in determining matters of policy and, second, how far should the Palace Guard go in motivating policy which some party members think is a useless political gesture? Not much is being said publicly about this as yet, but the situation will come to the surface fore long.

The issue about which the Palace Guard is being questioned is that of amending the Taft-Hartley Act. It has been an open secret since 1949 that the late Senator Taft and a number of Republican capitol colleagues have been hopeful of revising T-H in a way that would woo over to the Republican cause some of the big labor bosses, especially those in the American Federation of Labor. This 1949 move was revived shortly after Mr. Eisenhower's election and has been pushed with vigor.

There have been many who support the Republican Party who, from the very outset, felt that the move was hopeless, but have kept quiet with their fingers crossed. The Southern Democrats, who helped the Republicans write T-H in 1947 and who helped defend the act in 1949 (after the Republican plan to modify the law failed), never have thought the Republican strategy practical, good, or anything but chasing a political rainbow.

Well, this opposition group now is becoming more and more critical of the Palace Guard as it becomes more and more evident that major amendments to T-H are to be recommended. The opposition group holds that, in view of the resignation of Mr.
Dunken as Secretary of Labor,
the statements by George Meany, AFL president, at the recent St. Louis AFL Convention, and the chilly reception extended by that convention to Mr. Eisenhower's personal representative (who was none other than the Vice President Mr.
Nixon), any effort to win political support from the big AFL bosses is hopeless.

A number of prominent Southern Democrats size up the situation this way: The Palace Guard is now willing to make concessions that the Republicans once sought to make to protect T-H from threatened repeal . . . but this was immediately after the election of Mr. Truman in 1948. It seems incredible now, with the Republicans in control of all branches of the government, that they should want to weaken the law, especially since it is obvious they cannot obtain the support of any of the big AFL bosses by so doing.

The Southern Democrats long have advocated that the most effective way for the Republicans to pick up political support of the big northern and western cities would be to amend T-H to give the average worker more freedom from domination by the big union bosses . . . and a careful reading of Vice President Nixon's address to the AFL Convention might be taken as an indication that he is beginning to think this way.

The Governor's Day

By HELEN HALL MAHONEY

This is the second in a series of human interest anecdotes from the Governor's Office. Hope you'll enjoy sharing them with us.

Governor Herter has been commissioned an Admiral in the "Great Navy of the State of Nebraska." The commission requires ". . . all officers, seamen, tadpoles and goldfish under his command to be obedient to his orders as Admiral." You should have seen the elaborate document all dressed up with big gold seals and blue ribbons. We don't know if a uniform will follow, but if so, it's sure to be a gorgeous one (maybe with gold tadpoles embroidered all over it).

We had a very pretty visitor from Germany this week, Nina I.
Madden. She had a problem as do many of our visitors. It seems that as a Latvian born interpreter, she met and married Lieutenant Colonel Francis P. Madden (of Boston) in Heidelberg two years ago. They have a year-old son, Tommy, and are expecting another child shortly. She came to Boston some time ago to establish her 30-day residence to become a citizen, had fulfilled all requirements, was to take her oath last week, and had made her reservations to return to Germany, where her husband is serving as food distributor for the Government. At that point the red tape tangled—her papers were mislaid and she could not take her Oath of Allegiance with the rest of the group. There she was, booked to leave the next day—just in time for her hospitalization in Heidelberg—and no citizenship. That's when she enlisted the Governor's aid. He appealed to Judge Charles Wyzanski, who obtained the missing papers and sympathetically presided at a special session of naturalization to administer the Oath of Allegiance to Mrs. Madden. Now our happy new citizen is probably on the high seas enroute to rejoin her husband and son. Colonel Madden was formerly assistant manager of the Kenmore Hotel.

Speaking of eating, late the other night (about 1:30 a.m.), the Governor, Charlie Mills, his driver, and Sergeant Carl Larson, the Governor's aide, were returning from a distant speaking appointment when they came upon a brightly-lit diner with several trucks parked in front of it. "I'm hungry. Let's go in here," said the Governor. "When you see trucks, you may be sure the food is good." They entered the crowded diner and looked about for a seat.

"Hey, Bud, here's a seat," called one of the men sociably.
Then, as the Governor sat down,
he continued, "Say, you look something like the Governor.
Did anyone ever tell you that?"
Herter allowed that they had.

A couple of potential statesmen wandered into the office
just after the Executive Council meeting the other day. They were twelve-year-old boys from Roxbury and came in "just to look around." I asked one what his name was, and he said, "Peter Curley." His companion (whose name seemed to be just "MacDonald") nudged him and said, "Go ahead, tell her who you are"; and the boy said, with pride, "I'm a fifth cousin of James M. Curley—you know him, don't you?"

Speaking of Council meetings, this writer was intrigued to note that after a spirited exchange of sharp words between Lieutenant Governor Whittier and Governor's Counsellor "Sonny" Mc-Donald, both men threw "political" differences to the winds at the end of Council proceedings, and amiably joined together to pose for a "swearing in" photograph for the reappointment of Paul H. Snow of Dorchester as Public Administrator for Suffolk County. And there didn't seem to be a trace of antimosity between them.

Chauffeur Charlie Mills was driving the $1 car in the Cranberry Festival parade. He had no passengers, since the Governor was in a car ahead with parade officials, and a group of teen-aged girls called to Charlie.
"How about letting us ride in your car," Charlie, always courteous, replied, "I'm sorry, I'd be happy to oblige, but you'd have to ask the Governor about that." (Never thinking that they would.) But they did—ran up ahead to the car in which the Governor was riding—and popped the question.

"Perfectly all right," was the Governor's answer. And nine happy youngsters came back, piled into the gubernatorial car and saw the parade "from the inside out."

The party will start off with a grand march, followed by games, movies, a House of Horrors and

Only workers in the campaign will be admitted to this meeting which will be by ticket. Workers may obtain their tickets from their team captains.

During the past week meetings were held for residential captains in all the villages. At these meetings Henry J. Wilson, Newton residential chairman, Franklin N. David Berkman will preside at this meeting and a man of great prominence will be the feature speaker. Announcement of the guest speaker will be made next week. The affair should be an outstanding one and launch the Newton Campaign on a high level.

There will, however, be no evening sessions on December 2 and January 13.

Credit may be obtained toward a degree of Ed.M. or B.S. at Boston University by those who pay for the course and attend it regularly. Guests are welcome at any sessions. The evening meetings are being planned specifically for parents and others in the community.

In inviting members of the community to attend these sessions, Carlton M. Singleton, Principal of the Countryside School, says: "A school can contribute only part of the education of the child. Since much of the child's education goes on outside of the school, it is important for parents to understand the special reading needs of the child and the best way of meeting these needs. Community interest and community cooperation in the ultimate program of effective reading instruction which is to result from this combined effort is absolutely essential to the success of this project."

Newton Art Ass'n

Before a large group of members and guests at the meeting of the Newton Art Association last Thursday evening, October 1, at the Newtonville library,

Dorothy Adlow, well-known art critic and columnist gave an informal talk and discussion on "American Art Today."

Miss Adlow's knowledge of her subject is profound. She delves into the overall background of influence on the artist and said in part, "American art today contains the extremes; artists are laws unto themselves influenced by the visual world of today made up of new emotional experiences and discoveries in science and painting in a none factual way. New England has more traditional painters and those in other locations tend to paint in the international manner."

Three members of the Association have current exhibitions through October: Sophia Morrill, water color artist at the Savings Bank in Wellesley square; Roy Randall, small watercolors at 404 Centre street near the Main library at Newton Corner; and Robert Wild, a show of photographs of New England and the West at the Newtonville library.

Glen McNutt, will be the guest artist at the next meeting on Thursday evening, October 15, at the Newtonville library.

St. Paul's Choir Opens Wellesley Concert Series

At its opening concert on Wednesday evening, the 1953-54 Wellesley Concert Series will welcome the St. Paul's Cathedral Choir of London, England (the Coronation Choir).

This event will be a musically rewarding one as the program is especially chosen to include both secular and religious choral music of great variety and expressive beauty. The Choir will sing anthems, carols, madrigals and motets from the 16th century down to the present day by such composers as Purcell, Morley and Schütz and Vaughan Williams, Stanford and Parry.

For the college and its friends in surrounding communities, it is also an occasion which will advance further the international rapport and goodwill between the United States and Great Britain. In this coronation year when so many interested Americans traveled to London, it is only fitting that we, in turn, play host to one of the coronation features.

On November 11 the series will present one of our "own" groups of talented musicians, the Zimble Sinfonietta. This chamber orchestra of the Boston Symphony has gained national and international fame for wonderful ensemble playing and interesting and novel programs. All 16 members are virtuoso players in their own right and, without a conductor, they play with complete precision and unanimity. Two additional features of this unusual presentation will be a well-known piano soloist playing with the group and a program specially selected for the Alumnae Hall audience. More details on this program will appear soon.

On March 9, Isaac Stern, the world-famous violinist, will make his first appearance in Wellesley. Acknowledged to be the present-day successor to Heifetz and Menuhin, Stern was selected for two widely different but equally significant assignments during the past year: For the leading concertist in "Tanglewood-on-Parade" last summer and to represent the art of the great violinist Tsayie in the moving-picture production, "Tonight We Sing." He has become the favorite violinist of musicians and general audiences alike.

At the fourth and final concert, the lovely Spanish soprano, Victoria De Los Angeles, will appear. Since her great artistry is in frequent demand at the Metropolitan Opera Company, we feel fortunate in having been able to arrange for her Wellesley concert. At Alumnae Hall, she will sing arias from her most famous operatic roles as well as Spanish folksongs which she accompanies on the guitar. All who have heard her unite in praising her art, her voice and her vivacious personality.

Mr., Mrs. Wm. E. Tomlinson Observe Fiftieth Anniversary

More than 200 friends, besides their family of eight sons and daughters with twenty of the twenty-four grandchildren, attended the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Tomlinson, September 30 in their colonial home, 819 Watertown street, West Newton, where they have lived for 49 years of their half century of married life.

There were dozens of floral tributes, including yellow tea roses, all accenting the golden wedding theme. Gilt numerals, 1903 and 1953, decorated the paneled wall above the fireplace.

Among the many gifts were a television set and automatic washing machine, the combined gift of the Tomlinson children. A group of neighbors presented a basket of fifty dollar bills, arranged like leaves around an orchid. On behalf of the trustees, minister and fellow-members of the First Unitarian Society in Newton, the Rev. John Ogden Fisher presented the couple with a leather-bound volume, "Selections from the Holy Bible."

Born in Boston, Mrs. Tomlinson was formerly Mabel Warren Curtis, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Curtis of Newtonville, descendant of William Curtis who settled in Jamaica

Plain about 1639. Mr. Tomlinson was born in Wardsboro, Vt., of English and Vermont parentage. He was the proprietor of Tomlinson's Hardware store for 50 years before he sold the business to his oldest son, George W. Tomlinson of Weston, but he still assists at the store, despite his retirement. He will be 80 on Dec. 6. Mrs. Tomlinson was 74 on May 21.

They were married Sept. 30, 1903, at the bride's home on Newtonville avenue, Newtonville, by the Rev. Albert Hammett, then minister of the First Unitarian Church, Newtonville, which disbanded about 20 years ago.

Of the original bridal party, only George Curtis, Newtonville, brother of Mrs. Tomlinson, was present yesterday with his wife.

Mr. Tomlinson has been a member of Dalhousie Lodge, A. F. & A. M., for 52 years. Both he and his wife are active in the West Newton Unitarian Church. Mrs. Tomlinson is a member of the parish housekeeping committee, chairman of the purchasing committee of the West Newton Branch Alliance and a faithful worker in the sewing group.

For 43 years the Tomlinsons have had a summer cottage at Long Beach, Rockport.

All eight children were born in the same upstairs bedroom of the house they bought at the time of their marriage. Built about 1800, and known as the Jennison Homestead, this old colonial house, now much improved and remodeled, still has an acre of land around it on Watertown street, now a busy thoroughfare.

All eight children are married with families of their own. Only 4 of the 24 grandchildren missed the golden wedding celebration: William Silas Bennett, with the U. S. Air Force at Shepard's Field, Texas; Paul Burnham Kenyon, student at the University of Pennsylvania Dental School in Philadelphia; and young Ann Louise and Nancy Curtis Tomlinson, who remained at home in Maryland, although their parents came on for this family reunion.

The three sons are George W. Tomlinson of Weston; William E. Tomlinson, Jr. of Sagamore, associate professor, University of Massachusetts, with the extension service cranberry station; and Warren C. Tomlinson of Fork, Md., associated with the Glenn L. Martin Company, airplane manufacturers.

There are five daughters: Emma L., wife of Paul E. Bennett of South Freeport, Me.; Louise V., wife of Paul B. Kenyon, Gloucester; Mary A., wife of Prof. Alfred E. Brown, Amherst; Grace R., wife of David B. Murray, Gloucester; and Anne M., wife of Roy B. Hulbert, Holliston.

Mrs. Tomlinson received an award at Newton High School, class of 1897's fiftieth reunion for having the largest family among her classmates.

Both are in good health and appear younger and more active than their years.

First Avery Lecture to Start Oct. 14

Wednesday morning, October 14 at 10:30 o'clock in the Community Playhouse in Wellesley Hills, the first of the Avery Lectures on world affairs for the 1953-54 season will be held.

Miss Eunice Harriet Avery, one of New England's best known and delightful lecturers, will have as her topic, "The Americas Where History is Moving."

This topic will be of special interest, not only because we all know that there is a great need for better understanding of our neighbors to the South, but also because Miss Avery has just returned from an extended 15 week trip through Central and South America and can give her audience a first-hand picture of what she saw.

For many years women from Newton, as well as from Wellesley have been looking forward eagerly to this stimulating series of ten Wednesday morning lectures. Miss Avery is known not only as a keen student and observer of international affairs, but as an inveterate traveler who can speak of people and places with that intimate touch that can only be given by a person who has been on the scene.

Course tickets or single lecture tickets may be bought at the door. All lectures are open to the public and everyone interested in gaining a better understanding of the people, places and trends behind the headline news is invited to come to Wellesley for the Avery Lectures.

Mrs. Myles Standish, Jr. was hostess to Miss Avery and her committee at a delightful luncheon recently at her home "High Pines" in Marlborough. Those attending from Newton were Mrs. George S. Fuller, Mrs. Morgan L. Woodruff and Mrs. George N. Danforth.

Far Too Many Fires Here for a Community the Size of Newton

The Chicago Fire of 1871 destroyed the major section of that city. Its cause was a small lantern which was kicked over, which in turn set fire to the combustible materials around it. The delay in sending in the alarm allowed it to increase to such a size that it shortly reduced the city to ashes.

These same facts are still true today and responsible for many of our large fires getting out of control.

Fire Prevention Week is October 4th to the 10th and always comes in the week that has the 9th in it. This is to commemorate the "day of destruction" which was done in Chicago.

It is very fitting that every one of us living, regardless of age, should now do their part to take time this Fire Prevention Week and really inspect our homes to see how "fire safe" they are.

Here is the record for Newton for 1952:

1791 calls for fires and emergencies. This is far too many for a community such as we have, and should be reduced.

One hundred eight buildings partially destroyed plus several people severely injured. Our total fire loss was $318,842.22. This is next to our highest fire loss in the history of the city. In this day and age our losses should be reduced each year.

It can be done if everyone will join the crusade to help stop these needless fires from starting.

Most of our fires are still started from carelessness such as smoking and matches carelessly disposed; short circuits and overloading electric power lines; spontaneous ignition; defective oil burners; defective electric motors; rubbish; defective chimneys and brush fires. Most of these can be prevented by proper housekeeping and using safety precautions.

Now is the time to inspect your home by enlisting the help of the whole family and locate every fire hazard from attic to the basement and remove it before it has the chance to remove you and your home. Fire and Death are brothers that travel together seeking to destroy life and property and spare none, you and your home could be next on their list. Your inspection and the correcting of the hazards found can prevent fires and death.

Make Fire Prevention Week every week in your home by cultivating safety habits in everything that you do, instead of being reminded of it on Memorial Day.

Highlands Youngsters Crayon Mural Depicts Playground Life

Instructor Maureen Donnelly of the Highlands Playground has had many classes in crayon sketching for her youngsters this past summer. For the most part crayons and drawing paper has been provided for the youngster and with a minimum of guidance on her part the creative results of the drawings have been most varied and interesting.

As an advanced crayon sketching project Miss Donnelly suggested to the children a large mural drawing on a cooperative basis with the whole group working on the mural as a unit.

The large crayon sketched mural as a result of the group effort depicts the sum total parts of the youngsters recreational life and equipment of their background.

An examination of the mural illustrates trees, shrubs, lawn areas, girls' softball and boys' baseball diamonds, tennis courts, slide, swings, craft tables, paddle tennis courts and a sand box, all with participants in various positions of play. Units of equipment such as the water fountain, supply box, craft tables, trash barrel, sanitary facilities, baseball back stop, tennis court fences, all are represented as the important parts that make their playground life interesting and fun for all.

Antiques to Be Auctioned

Antique furnishings from several dismantled homes are being donated for the Building Fund auction, to be held all day Saturday, Sept. 26, at the West Newton Unitarian Church, outdoors on the side lawn, weather permitting. Planned by the church activities committee as the first all-parish event of the fall season, the auction is expected to attract people in the community as well as members and friends of the First Unitarian Society in Newton. Whether outdoors or in the parish hall, the auction will begin at 10 o'clock and continue until 4 in the afternoon.

Silver, pewter, china and decorative bric-a-brac are being solicited from parish members, and toys and books will also go under the auctioneer's hammer to raise funds to complete the children's chapel, church schoolrooms and parish kitchen included in the courtyard enclosure now under construction. Joseph C. Skinner, chairman of the trustees, will be in charge of sound amplification with his microphone set-up. Mrs. Morris H. Adler and Mrs. Harry E. Raymond, co-chairmen of the activities committee, announce that Arthur T. Gregorian, well-known Oriental rug dealer of Newton Lower Falls, has graciously consented to serve as auctioneer.

DRIVING YOURSELF TO DEATH?

There's nothing funny about the stiff increase in 1954 automobile insurance costs facing Massachusetts drivers 25 years old and younger.

Neither is there anything funny in the accident record of the young drivers. That record, according to Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, shows that drivers under 25 cause twice as many accidents as their elders. That record is the basic reason for the 1954 increase for young drivers.

Young drivers have the ability and the split-second reactions so vital to safe driving. But all too often that ability is dulled by immaturity and lack of judgment, coupled with misplaced enthusiasm for the speed and power of today's automobiles.

It's up to the young drivers themselves, with a real assistance from their parents, to learn to channel their enthusiasm along safe driving lines before the accident record shows any decrease.

Driver training courses, given in many high schools, can be a big help in bettering the young driver's record. Parents, too, can help by taking an active interest in their children's driving training, both in school and out. Such interest could also lead to improved driving by parents, and that wouldn't hurt either.

With Hurricane Carol performing along the east coast on Monday, the Newton Archers decided to hold their championship tournament on the regular archery range. For a while the weather was not promising. However, since there were visitors from West Springfield, Worcester, Gardner, Lowell and Waltham it was decided to begin the tournament and shoot until the rain actually came. As it was the weather improved steadily so the events were shot off as planned.

The champions for Newton this year were Victor Lemay, Raymond Buell, Vera Andrews and Lucia Liu. The junior championship will be held on a Saturday during September. The exact date will be announced later.

The winner of the Open Championship for men was James Waterman of Springfield, with a total score of 228-1420. Ruth Oliver of Worcester carried off the Women's Open Championship with a 144-930.

In answer to an announcement made in the School Age several children have received some instruction in archery. Ceramics on Display at Local Library

Currently on exhibit at the Newton Free Library are ceramics by Johonet C. Wicks of Newton. Mrs. Wicks has studied at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts School, the University of Hawaii, and is at present a member of the Pottery Workshop of Boston.

On display are both stoneware and low-fire pieces. The former include a two-tone pitcher set with an incised motif and a large bowl with matching covered jar. Notable among the latter are several pieces with a fish design applied with the "sgraffito" technique (i.e. the design is scratched through a thin coating of green engobe which is then covered, in this instance, with a colorless matt glaze).

Small classes with individual instruction will begin the first week in October. Class hours in the morning, afternoon or evening will be arranged. For particulars, please call DEcatur 2-8935.

The September meeting of the Board of Library Trustees will be held on Tuesday, September 15. Mrs. James H. Zimmer has replaced Mrs. William H. McAdams as a member of the Board. Also on September 15, six members of the staff of the Quincy Public Library will visit the Newton Free Library for study and comparison purposes. The Newton Library is fourth in annual book circulation among the public libraries of Massachusetts and the Quincy Library fifth.

Mrs. Jane Reenick and Susan Rice both of Newton Centre are enrolled in the fall session of the Miss Allen School of Modeling and Finishing, Becho.

Wishing to take up the sport, it may be possible to make some arrangement for that next summer. Plans are being made for indoor shooting at twenty yards. When plans are completed for that, announcements will be sent to those who are interested.

Despite Cessation of Conflict in Korea, Blood Need Urgent

In view of the cessation of hostilities in Korea, the Newton Chapter of the American National Red Cross wishes to inform the citizens of Newton regarding the continuing needs of the National Blood Program.

The Chapter has been assured of the need of defense blood in quantities sufficient to keep all 45 Regional Centers busy during the entire 1953-1954 fiscal year. In order to meet its quota of 60,000 pints for defense and 50,000 pints to assist in meeting the ever increasing requirements in civilian hospitals, the Massachusetts Program will continue to operate four Bloodmobile units and its Center at 314 Dartmouth street, Boston. Locally, this means that no reduction in the number of Bloodmobile visits to Newton is anticipated. Between September and July twenty visits have been planned.

In making this announcement, Mr. Maxwell P. Gaddis, Chairman of the Blood Program for the Newton Red Cross, said "The past, present and future all prove that the National Blood Program is here to stay. In addition to the continuing vital use of this precious fluid for our hospitalized servicemen and for reserve defense purposes, there is an ever increasing need on the local level. We are receiving more and more emergency calls for blood for local civilian use. More and more Newton people must be made aware of the Blood Program, their need of it, and their personal responsibility to it.

It is also recognized that, with advances in medicine and surgery and in the science of the uses of blood, there is an ever increasing need for whole blood to save human lives. According to medical authorities, we are only in the first stages of new and important uses for blood derivatives.

The end of the shooting in Korea has reduced the quantity of blood required for the Armed Forces, but it does not in any way lessen the need for other useful purposes."

The next Bloodmobile Visit will be on September 30 at the Auburndale Club in Auburndale. Please call Red Cross, LA 7-6000, for your appointment.

The Cambridge Center for Adult Education will celebrate its 15th anniversary by inviting the public to two open houses, from 7 to 10 p.m. Tuesday, September 22, and Thursday, September 24, at the Center, 42 Brattle street, Cambridge. Among the exhibitions by students of the Newton area will be tailoring by Miss Katherine Gunn, 4 Belmont street, Newton; jewelry by Mr. Irving G. Sigelman, 1256 Commonwealth avenue, Newton; watercolor by Mrs. Stewart Hamilton, 222 Prince street, and Mrs. S. B. Kelley, 34 Exeter street, both of West Newton; and painting by Mrs. Herbert Benjamin, 12 Truman road, Newton Centre.

Radio Series on How Prayer Heals

A new series of weekly 15-minute radio programs illustrating the power of prayer in everyday life will be released September 19 by the Christian Science church, it is announced today.

Carmack, Assistant Committee on Publication for First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton.

They will be heard on about 600 radio stations throughout the United States, Canada and Australia, and at points in Latin America, Africa, Europe, and New Zealand.

Eight Basic Good Posture Rules Listed

Dr. Clement F. Lynch, Chairman, Malden Board of Health, announces that Malden will join with thousands of other communities across the nation in the observance of National Posture Week, October 12-17, as designated by the Samuel H. Camp Institute for Better Posture, founded by the late S. H. Camp of Jackson, Michigan.

In emphasizing the importance of National Posture Week, Dr. Lynch points out that "good posture is the starting point of good health and good appearance, and the attainment of good posture is fairly simple. He lists the following rules:

1. Hold your head with your chin in. 2. Pull your shoulders back; shoulder blades should be flat. 3. Raise your chest up and forward. 4. Draw your abdomen up and in. 5. Flatten your lower back. 6. Tip your hips down in back. 7. Hold your knees straight but not stiff. 8. Put your feet parallel, with the weight evenly balanced. Do not exaggerate. Good posture can be obtained without stiffness or strain. If you observe these basic rules while standing, walking and sitting you will be rewarded by a greater feeling of well-being and health.

"Many Americans seem to feel that slouchy posture is the most comfortable posture. Most of us are guilty of pretzel-like posture while sitting and reading the evening paper, the sloppiness in which we hold our bodies while engaging in conversation with friends or business acquaintances, or the hairpin like attitude while playing bridge. In a vain attempt to be more comfortable in our daily activities we completely forget that the true secret of good posture is to keep our bodies well-balanced throughout a busy day."

"Observing the eight basic good posture rules outlined above is the first step towards true comfort and true relaxation. "Not only does poor posture reflect on the outside of our bodies, but the hairpin curves of poor posture are as dangerous to our health as they are to a speeding train."

Dr. Lynch concluded with the statement: "The secret to a healthy body and good appearance is to follow a few simple rules: 1. Get plenty of rest. 2. Eat well-balanced nourishing meals. 3. Follow a regular daily routine. 4. Maintain good posture while sitting, walking or standing."

Trees are used on the home property for shade, to frame views, to provide points of interest, as screens, and to provide backgrounds and windbreaks, according to the American Association of Nurserymen.

Dunkin' Donuts Opens Striking Natick Stand

Going far beyond the usual concept of a roadside stand insofar as appearance and convenience are concerned, the new Dunkin' Donuts is sure to merit much acclaim from the general public. Located in Natick on the Worcester Turnpike, directly opposite the Natick Drive-In Theatre, Dunkin' Donuts is the ideal spot for breakfast, mid-morning and late evening snacks as well as a splendid place to obtain delicious take-home tid-bits.

Conforming to the established fact that most people love doughnuts, Dunkin' Donuts features 32 varieties including such specialties as Fresh Fruit Blueberry Filled, Apple 'n' Spice Filled, Buttermilk, Chocolate Frosted, Pineapple Filled in addition to such family favorites as Jelly Bismarks, Sugared Crullers and Honey Dipped doughnuts. All Dunkin' Donuts are made on the premises, are hand-cut and are generally regarded as the lightest, fluffiest and most digestible doughnuts obtainable. In adhering to their policy of "nothing but the best" Dunkin' Donuts owners also serve an excellent brew of coffee. This is prepared at frequent intervals, together with 100 per cent pure cream.

The building, which is completely modern and functional in appearance, was designed and built by Bernard E. Healy, Incorporated of Weymouth. The styling of this beautiful Dunkin' Donuts is similar to the outstanding buildings found in Miami, with an abundant use of glass and color to produce an atmosphere of relaxation and comfort. Every step possible has been taken by the builders to assure cleanliness; liberal use of tile makes it possible to maintain the spic and span appearance of the entire building. Those who have previewed the Dunkin' Donut state that they have seldom seen such functional and eye-pleasing construction.

Wives Join In Paint Project

Wives have joined their husbands in responding to the call for volunteers to hasten the interior painting of the new church school addition to the West Newton Unitarian Church.

Among those who have contributed their talent so far on painting and clean-up squad to make classrooms ready for Sunday church school sessions are: Joseph C. Skinner, chairman of the trustees, and Mrs. Skinner; Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Townsend and daughter Beverly; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Fisher, Jr.; Harry B. Taplin, director of religious education; Mr. and Mrs. John F. Taplin; Albert K. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick I. Rodd; William L. Tisdell, trustee member of the house and grounds committee; Dr. Lowell V. Coulter, John F. Carroll, Edward W. Whorf, John Gurry and Robert H. Cobb.

Motorists Can Help in Fire Emergencies

In co-operation with fire department officials of communities in the Commonwealth, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, Rudolph F. King, has urged motorists to recognize some of the many ways in which they may take part in the current official observance of Fire Prevention Week.

In his message, the Registrar says: "Special ceremonies have been scheduled throughout the Commonwealth for Fire Prevention Week with the promotion of public participation programs emphasizing the prevention of fires.

"One of the purposes of Fire Prevention Week is to create public awareness of the dangers of fire and the imperative need of eliminating potential fire hazards. Motorists can contribute to these objectives by the prevention of fires in their own vehicles and by observing the law which requires that no lighted cigars, cigarettes, live ashes or matches be thrown from car windows.

"On the approach of fire apparatus answering an alarm, motorists are required by law to drive their vehicles as far to the right curb as possible and remain there so as not to delay arrival of the apparatus at the fire, thus lessening the possibility of loss of life and greater destruction of property. Oftentimes the work of fire department personnel is hampered by inconsiderate motorists who park within 10 feet of a fire hydrant or in such a manner as to obstruct the free movement of apparatus, ambulances, or safety and police vehicles bearing off-

PL 121 Info Available at Civil Service

On July 16, 1953, the present signed Public Law 121 enacted by Congress to facilitate Civil Service appointment of persons who lost opportunity for appointment because of service in the Armed Forces after July 30, 1950, and to provide certain benefits upon appointment.

Applications for the benefit of this law must be made to the Civil Service office which maintains the register on which veterans have eligibility and must be made within 90 days after termination of active duty, or continuation for a period of more than one year after termination of active duty, or July 16, 1953, whichever is later.

Veterans discharged prior July 17, 1953, must apply on or before October 14, 1953.

The benefits of this law are applicable to veterans who served in the Armed Forces after July 30, 1950, and who are discharged under honorable conditions, provided their names appear higher on Civil Service registers than eligibles who received preferential appointments from such registers after June 3, 1950 and during the period of the veteran's service in the Armed Forces.

Detailed information on Public Law 121 can be obtained from the First Regional Office of the U. S. Civil Service Commission, U. S. Post Office and Courthouse Building, Boston 9, Massachusetts.

Candidates to Present Views Next Tuesday

"Candidates in Review," which the Newton Republican Club will sponsor as a public service Tuesday evening, October 13, at 8 o'clock at the Countryside School on Dedham street, Newton Highlands, promise to be one of the most important political events in Newton prior to the Municipal Election on November 3.

This meeting will make it possible for all voters of Newton, including the new citizens who have recently moved to this City, to hear the candidates state their respective qualifications for election. There will be an opportunity, during the refreshment hour following the meeting, to meet the candidates informally. Robert Lovett, Co-Chairman in charge of this event, has advised the Executive Board of the Newton Republican Club that practically a hundred percent response has been received from the candidates, and a large turnout of voters is expected.

TB Is Still A Major Health Problem

With increasing frequentness the staff of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association hears from the public this statement: "TB isn't a serious problem in the U. S. any more." The Association wishes to speak up and say: "This is not true. TB is still a major health problem in this country."

The Association's health education department has prepared to show the fallacy of the "TB is a dead duck" type of thinking with facts and figures obtained from the National Tuberculosis Association which works in cooperation with local TB Associations throughout the country.

One person dies from TB every 17 minutes, 30,000 die from the disease in one year. TB is responsible for more deaths in the U. S. than all other infectious diseases combined. Isn't that serious?

About 400,000 people have TB today. Within this year 115,000 people, now healthy, will develop TB. 150,000 people are spreading the disease to others without knowing it. Isn't that serious?

$350,000,000 a year is a moderate estimate of the cost of TB in the U.S. per year. That means money out of your pocket. Isn't that serious?

The tuberculosis control program is making great strides. However, it will take many more years of undiminished efforts to accomplish the objective of removing TB as a serious problem in the United States.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Nixon Has Made Amazing Comeback in Past 12 Months... His Political Fortunes Were at Low Ebb a Year Ago...

Just about a year ago, the amateur politicians around Dwight D. Eisenhower were insisting that he drop Richard M. Nixon from the Republican national ticket and select a new Vice Presidential running mate, possible Senator Robert A. Taft.

The explosion of the so-called California fund scandal involving Nixon not only rocked the Eisenhower campaign but at least temporarily panicked some of the men running it, arousing fears that it might be the development that would turn the political tide against the G. O. P.

Ironically, it was the late Senator Taft, the old pro of the Republican party, who himself had battled Eisenhower down to the convention wire, who stepped in with steady counsel and the level-headed advice of a veteran of many political battles.

It's entirely possible that in the initial momentary bewilderment Nixon might have been tossed overboard by his own party, his public career ended in disgrace, but for the intervention of Taft and his influence.

Set Nov'ber 1 Due to Late Mailing Date

Due to the late mailing of some real estate tax bills, a 30-day extension has been granted for filing applications for tax abatements, according to an announcement Saturday by Chairman John D. Wright of the Newton Board of Assessors.

However, no extension of time has been made for the payment of taxes, since residents will have received their bills in time to make payments by the first of November. Since November 1 is a Sunday, payments will be accepted without penalty through November 2.

In announcing the new deadline Chairman Wright explained that the usual limit is October 1. The new deadline is November 1, or 30 days after the receipt of the real estate tax bill.

This year Korean war veterans with a 10 per cent disability will be entitled to a $2000 exemption on their homes. This is the first year that the exemption will be in force, Mr. Wright pointed out.

Under a new law, blind persons living in homes which are assessed at $8000 or less are also in line for the $2000 exemption.

A similar exemption is granted for disabled veterans, but this must be applied for each year. About 80 veterans sought the Chamber of Commerce Is Actively Co-operating in Halloween Parties

Paper Drive Saturday to Aid Exchanges

The first money-raising project of the 1953-1954 School and School Exchange of Newton High School will be a mammoth paper drive this Saturday. The cooperation of the citizens of Newton is urgently needed if the drive is to be a success.

The plans are for two trips: one to Cleveland Heights, O., and the other to Hershey, Pa. Because of the distances involved, the expenses will necessarily be high. Anyone having papers or magazines they would be willing to donate is asked to please call EI 4-0328 or DE 2-0122 before Friday, the 16th, and leave their name and address. Any help would be greatly appreciated.

Promoted in Reserve

Peter Bordini of 90 McCarthy road, Newton Centre, a member of the 1019th Control Group, U. S. Army Reserve, has been promoted from captain to the rank of major.

The Newton Chamber of Commerce is again lending its invaluable assistance in furthering the success of the 250 neighborhood Halloween parties for more than 14,000 Newton school children.

In addition to its wholehearted moral backing of this vast enterprise, said to be the largest in the country, the Chamber is, as in previous years, generously assuming the cost of mailing several thousand letters to Newton residents and business houses, this week, appealing for cash donations to help defray the cost of the mammoth celebration. In pointing out that the cost of mailing letters to every family in Newton would be prohibitive, Rupert C. Thompson, Executive Secretary of the Chamber, said that he hoped those not directly solicited would, nevertheless, also share in this great event for the children by sending to the Chamber of Commerce, 1171 Washington street, Newtonville 60, any amount they might feel inclined to give. He asks that checks be made payable to Warren W. Oliver, treasurer, who has served as the Halloween Committee's

Sen. Morse to Give Address Here Tuesday

Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon will address the Temple Emanuel Brotherhood at its installation dinner, Tuesday evening, October 20. His talk, "Do We Need A Political Realignment in America?" will be broadcast over the Yankee Network after 8:00 p.m., when installation ceremonies begin.

Senator Morse gained national prominence when he decided to become an Independent during the 1952 Presidential election. In an almost evenly divided Senate, his vote can decide the course of legislation during the next several years. Born in the Middle West, Senator Morse has had a distinguished career as an educator (Universities of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Oregon) and as a statesman. He has served in the U. S. Senate since 1944.

Edgar Grossman will be installed as president of the Brotherhood succeeding Louis Marcus.

Herter, Jr. Is Nominated for Nat'l Honor

Carleton P. Merrill, president of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce today announced that the name of Christian A. Herter, Jr., has been submitted to the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce for consideration as one of America's 10 outstanding young men.

Mr. Merrill stated that a search for the nation's ten outstanding young men of the year has been made for more than a decade by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce and its national magazine Future. The purpose of this program is to present the world with concrete evidence that success in our free enterprise system is still available to those individuals who strive to achieve. Any young man, 21 through 35 years of age, who has been of service and an outstanding example of this precept to the people of the nation, is eligible to be nominated as a candidate for recognition.

Chris Herter by his own record as charter president of the Newton Republican Club, former chairman of the Newton Heart Drive and as State Representative elected from the Fourth Middlesex District has shown exceptional contribution to his own profession and to the general welfare of the people. With this record of civic achievement and personal accomplishment he was appointed administrative assistant to the Vice President of the United States in 1953. It is with the full knowledge of this record, which stands as impressive evidence of the scope and diversity of opportunity within the framework of our American way of life, that the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce makes this nomination. Mr. Merrill concluded.

The 10 top men, named by the judges will be honored at the traditional banquet that is held each year during Jaycee Week, in commemoration of the founding of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce on January 21, 1920. This year the ceremonies will be held in Seattle, Washington.

Will Happen to Your Partnership Interest?

Your partnership interest may be your most valuable asset. You may be counting on it to protect your family's future. Have you taken steps to be sure that, in the event of your death, your family will realize its true value?

Every partner, in a general way, recognizes the merit of having an agreement to fix the price of his interest in the event of death, but frequently neglects to act until death has made it impossible.

Safeguard your family's future. Make certain that your estate will receive a fair price for your partnership interest.

In serving as executor for deceased partners we have helped to carry out partnership agreements. We have seen these agreements fulfilled to the great benefit of the deceased partner's dependents. This experience may be helpful to you when you work out plans to protect your partnership interest.

We would be glad to talk to you, your partners and your attorney about this matter at any time.

Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Wins National Citation Award

The directors of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association met Tuesday at the Nurses' Home of the Hospital. Mrs. Paul T. Babson, president and Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr., past president, presented the report of the American Hospital Convention which they attended in San Francisco last month. Mrs. Babson represented the Hospital Aid and Mrs. Moore was a delegate from the Council of Hospital Auxiliaries of the Massachusetts Hospital Association.

On exhibition at the meeting was the Citation Award won by the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid in the contest sponsored by the Committee on Hospital

Auxiliaries on the subject "Know Your Hospital Through Your Auxiliary." The Aid's entry in this contest was made in the form of a handsome booklet, bound in pigskin and containing newspaper clippings, photographs and original drawings describing the diversified activities of the Aid during Hospital Week last May. It was compiled by Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr., member of the Public Relations Committee and Mr. Robert R. Walker, Public Relations Counsel to the Hospital. Mrs. Babson received the award at the final luncheon of the Auxiliaries. There were 40 competing entries in Class II, which comprised hospitals with over 100 and up to 300 beds. Judges in the contest were: Miss Mildred Whitcomb, Associate Editor, "Modern Hospitals," Dr. Karl P. Meister, Executive Secretary, Board of Hospitals and Homes of the Methodist Church, and Mr. Warren P. Thompson, Public Relations Division, Chicago Title and Trust Company.

Mrs. George C. Prather reported on the progress of the "Earn and Give" campaign, by which the Aid is raising funds to establish a Post-Operative Recovery Room for the hospital. The Newton Highland Directors were congratulated on the success of the dessert bridge held in the Newton Highlands Workshop on Friday, October 9. Warm appreciation was expressed to Mrs. Leonard T. Jenny, president, and the members of the Garden Club of Newton Highlands for the attractive floral arrangements which served as prizes or were sold for the benefit of the "Earn and Give Fund." Hostesses for the bridge were Mrs. Martin P. Suthy, chairman, Mrs. Grosvenor D. Marcy, Mrs. Ward I. Cornell, Mrs. Herbert G. Dunphy, Mrs. P. Edward Edew, Mrs. John Fox and Mrs. Fred G. Sanford.

Mrs. Alvah Ring of Newton Lower Falls and Mrs. T. Stewart Hamilton of West Newton were the hostesses for the morning coffee which preceded the meeting.

God's Healing Power Subject Of CS Lecture

The application of God's healing power to problems of everyday living will be the topic of a Christian Science lecture to be given here October 18 by Ralph E. Wagers of Chicago, Illinois.

Mr. Wagers recently completed a tour of the Orient, during which he visited Korea at the invitation of military authorities. Also he recently lectured in South America. He will speak locally at the invitation of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton, in the church edifice, 391 Walnut street, Newtonville, Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p. m. His subject will be "Christian Science: The Operation of Divine Principle in Our Behalf." The lecture is open to the public without charge.

Prior to devoting his full time to practice of Christian Science, Mr. Wagers was in the lumber business in Wisconsin, and was at one time chairman of the agricultural committee of the Wisconsin Retail Lumbermen's Association. He left business in 1925 to become a Christian Science practitioner. He became an authorized teacher of Christian Science in 1940 and a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship in 1946.

Following this, each parent will go to his child's classroom where the teacher will hold a group conference outline the year's curriculum. The meeting will close with refreshments.

'Full-Time' Mayor Amendment Vetoed, Blocked From Ballot

The proposed amendment to Newton's ordinances which would require a "full-time" mayor or was blocked from appearing on the November 3 ballot last week through a veto by Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood.

After Mayor Lockwood vetoed the measure, the aldermen sustained the action by a six to six tie vote at a special meeting of the board. The amendment had been previously passed by the aldermen by a count of nine to seven.

The amendment was sponsored by the Newton League of Women Voters and the Newton Taxpayers' Association. It required that the mayor shall "in the exercise of his office subordinate any other business or profession to his duties as mayor or shall not hold any other elected or appointed salaried public office."

Since the tie failed to override the veto, this amendment will not appear on the ballot at the city elections. Instead, an amendment previously passed, raising the mayor's salary from $8000 to $12,000, will appear. The vetoed measure included the salary increase as well as the "full-time mayor" restriction. Voting to sustain Mayor Lockwood's veto were President Wendell R. Bauckman and Aldermen Winfield C. Anderson, Joseph B. Davis, William R. Mattson, Edwin A. Terkelson and Earle D. Wood.

Those seeking to override the mayor's action were Vice-president Ernest G. Angevine and Aldermen Lawrence B. Damon, H. Eugene Jones, Paul S. Rich, Arthur S. Scipione and Hirsch Sharp.

In vetoing the measure, Mayor Lockwood declared, "I regret to state that I am returning to you Ordinance 19, without my approval."

"I am returning this legislation because the statute involves a large problem of proper management. It is reasonable to expect that the elements of capability, judgment, honor and conscience will vary in different mayors. The vote of the Board indicates complete lack of unanimity. Section 2 could not be properly checked, nor controlled, nor enforced and therefore it is not good legislation."

A two-thirds vote of the board of aldermen is necessary to override the veto. The board is composed of 21 members.

Delegates

Mrs. May L. Sweatt and Mrs. Caroline Sartwell were delegates from the West Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union to attend the State Convention this week held in the Universalist Church in North Andover. Miss Evangeline Morse is a delegate from the Newton W. C. T. U.

Young Student From Germany At High School

Newton High School will welcome to its student body this year Heinrich Christian Schwemer from Berlin, Germany, who will attend school here through the American Field Service International Scholarship program.

This organization is sponsoring 168 students from Germany who will be in high schools all over the United States. They are a carefully chosen group, selected on a competitive basis.

It is the hope of the A.F.S. that these students, who will stay in American homes while attending our high schools will get a true picture of American life, our ideals and our customs. Upon returning to their homeland at the end of the year, they will be able to explain America to their families and friends.

Each student is an ambassador from his country and has something to offer us in giving us greater knowledge and understanding of his nation's life. While at Newton High School, Heinrich will be staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Hill Jr., 24 Solon street, Newton Highlands.

Two Newton Girls At College in Pa.

Two Newton students are members of the freshman class at Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., which recently opened its 181st academic year.

Nixon's prestige was at a low ebb when the campaign ended, and it was anticipated that he would fade quietly into the background to be an obscure Vice President, seen little and heard less. The entire episode appeared to have been handled poorly, and even his coast-to-coast telecast explaining the fund had contained more melodrama than it did facts, in the opinion of many listeners seeking to maintain an open mind on the matter.

In the nine months the Eisenhower administration has been in office, however, Nixon has made so tremendous a comeback that he is now regarded as a possible sturdy contender for the Presidency in the event that Mr. Eisenhower does not choose to stand for a second term.

He has gradually won back the public confidence, and that he has regained the President's confidence was made strikingly clear the other day, when he flew out of Washington on a trip that was to last 72 days and is to take him 38,000 miles around the world. He will have a dual role of goodwill ambassador and roving reporter for President Eisenhower.

Washington observers report that there have been many signs of a buildup for Nixon and that the President has been a party to increasing the Vice President's prestige and prominence. Nixon, of course, could not undertake any such mission without the full and complete approval of "the boss."

In fact, President Eisenhower has done nothing whatever to dispel the growing impression in Washington that if he is not a candidate in 1956, his support will go to the young Californian who travelled under a political cloud in the late stages of the '52 campaign.

Whether Nixon ever will move up to bid for the Presidency is something that only future history will determine. Few men have gone from the Vice Presidency into the White House except through the accident of death.
Just as few men have made a political comeback to match that of Nixon in the past nine months.

The next 12 months will be a year of momentous importance both for President Eisenhower in Washington and Governor Herter here in Massachusetts, and both will be working without the assistance of lieutenants who played major roles in achieving the initial progress in the early stages of their respective administrations.

A year from now, Governor Herter will be campaigning for reelection to a second term, and the first real test of the popularity of the Eisenhower administration will come with the 1954 national election and the drive by the Democratic party to regain control of one or more branches of the Congress.

Both the President and the Massachusetts Governor face a critical period which will precede the election of next year — a period in which the records will be made that will be placed before the public a little more than 12 months from now.

Both hope that by lowering income taxes they can show to the public that their respective programs not only have resulted in more efficient government but have lessened the financial drain on the budget and pay envelope of the average person.

It is fair to report that the last Congress accomplished very little. Most of the big issues confronting it were put over until next year. And unless Congress moves a great deal faster in 1954 than it did in 1953, it is difficult to see how it is possibly going to handle all the matters awaiting its attention.

It is likely that it will be next winter, when Congress settles down to work after returning to Washington, that Senator Taft's death will be most severely felt by the Eisenhower administration.

Taft will no longer be on hand to bridge the gap between the President and factions of the Republican party who disagree with him on major policies, and there is no one in sight who can step in to smooth out differences and resolve party conflicts the way Taft did for the man who defeated him for the Presidential nomination.

And when the Massachusetts Legislature reconvenes in January, Governor Herter will feel the impact of the departure of his son, ex-Representative Christian A. Herter, Jr., now an administrative aide to Vice President Nixon, whose place will shortly be filled by a special election in Newton.

Herter's problem won't be of the same magnitude as Eisenhower's because he will not have the conservative and liberal elements of his party pulling against each other, as is almost certain to be the case in Congress. But he will certainly miss the help of his tall, slender son who was an invaluable aide in steering the administration's legislative course.

With the appointment of Democratic Mayor Burke to fill the vacancy left by Senator Taft's death, the Republicans now are actually in the minority in the upper house of Congress, even though the Democrats apparently will make no effort to reorganize that body.

President Eisenhower will be forced to depend on some Democratic help for the promotion of his program, even if there are no deficiencies in the Republican ranks, which there are almost certain to be.

Both he and Governor Herter will benefit to an extent from the fact that Democrats will be forced to support some of their measures for the sake of their own political well-being.

Democratic House Leader Robert F. Murphy of Malden, for example, last week filed a bill to repeal the increase in the State income tax which was placed on the books during the Dever administration and was

It is common knowledge at the State House that a reduction in the State income tax is one of Herter's prime objectives, and the politically shrewd Murphy was merely seeking to jump the gun and seek to obtain some credit for the Democrats for the tax reduction.

When the State income tax is lowered,
it will be on a recommendation made by Governor Herter in a message to the Legislature, and Murphy and other Democratic law-makers realize that it will be a move which they must support of political necessity.

The MTA problem also remains to be solved in the coming months, and however it is handled it will evoke some criticism and some public displeasure.

When the Democratic-controlled State Public Utilities Commission by a 3-2 vote last July 31 refused to allow the MTA trustees to increase fares on their system, they put off the solution of that problem so that it would come closer to election.

If the fare rise had not been blocked in what was obviously a political maneuver, the MTA would probably be on a self-supporting basis and most persons probably would have adjusted themselves to the idea of paying 20 cents instead of a 15-cent fare.

Now the MTA trustees, who have done a really remarkable job in slashing the operating costs of the road, still are confronted with the task of introducing a zone system of fares which undoubtedly will bring loud protests from those whose pocketbooks are hit.

The months ahead will not be easy ones for either President Eisenhower or Governor Herter. At least Ike can be thankful that he had no MTA problem. But he has plenty of others.

Our Lady's H.N.S. Told Materialism 'Rusting' Society

The Very Rev. Vincent A. Mc-dover, lashed out at the materialism that is "rusting our 20th century society" Sunday as he addressed the Our Lady's HNS

Dr. McQuade stated that we as followers of Christ must carry the words of truth to the mar-

TELE- VIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS
Television, which appeared to be on the verge of running out of comics a year ago, is giving birth to a new breed of funnymen who will have the country holding its sides with laughter within a season or two. That's the word from one who ought to know, ski-nosed Bob Hope.
Bob, who will appear about every three weeks this season, alternating with Milton Berle, had to spend a good ten years touring the smaller clubs before he attracted enough attention to start the long climb to the top of the heap.
But in his opinion, this isn't the case today. Night clubs and vaudeville are on the way out as far as developing new comic talent is concerned.
The new short cut is through the home screens. Being a diplomat where competition might cut into his own bread and butter, Bob is hesitant about naming the names, but he points out that the one who is doing best today has been Red Buttons. "He's definitely destined for the top," Bob is quoted as saying.
You could probably add other names to the budding stars you've seen on TV, like George Gobel, an Paul Gilbert, who, after kicking around the circuits for years, finally blossomed into crowd pleasers this summer on Honeydew. TV is the new cradle of the stars.

Our Side of the Story

(The following is written under the sponsorship of the Democratic leadership in the General Court for the purpose of expressing that party's viewpoint on current events on Beacon Hill.)

A cozy little political deal intended to "corner the market" and exclude general public interest in the set-up for a special election to fill a Newton House seat was exposed and broken up in Superior Court Justice Eugene
A. Hudson's courtroom recently by the exercise of American justice.

The quarterback sneak, had the infraction not been called and the political players forced to kick off again, is credited to Representative George E. Rawson, Republican Chairman of the House Elections Committee, a resident of Newton with a zealous interest in preserving its Republican traditions amid an awakening of Democratic strength.

The gist of the plan was to allow the citizenry of Newton to find out about election plans only between Monday evening, September 21 at 7:30 p. m., and the following afternoon at 5 p. m.
If any resident of the district that comprises Newton Centre, Nonantum, Newtonville and part of Chestnut Hill, among other areas, desires to be a candidate, he would have lost out in a first shuffle. For the record the events leading up to the fleeting episode must be preserved.

Speaker Charles Gibbons has power now to issue a precept for a special election to the House.
He did so on Friday afternoon,
September 18, and duly notified the Secretary of State. At the same time the Newton City Clerk's office was notified by a telephone call, that the election would be on November 10, with a primary three weeks before on October 20. The news conveyed said the official papers confirming this information would arrive from the Secretary of State's office on Saturday, a day when the Newton City Hall is closed.

In order that the Newton Clerk could operate under such a tight schedule, he arranged on Saturday, a special session of the Aldermen for Monday evening at 7:30. Fifteen of the city's 21 Aldermen managed to re-arrange their schedules to attend hurriedly and to instruct the Registrars of Voters to proceed.

There is no doubt that the representatives of the city's two lively weekly newspapers were in attendance at the special session but they both publish weekly on Thursday.

The Board of Aldermen, having dutifully played its role in the sly procedure, adjourned, leaving the Registrars of Voters only eight hours before the deadline for filing nomination papers.
Candidates would have to go to the State House at 9 a. m. to obtain blanks to secure the required number of signatures and file at Newton City Hall before 5
p. m. on Tuesday.

2nd Church, Newton, Minister Leaves Nov. 1 after 10 Years

Ten years of service to the Second Church in Newton will come to an end for Rev. Robert Clyde Yarbrough, Ph.D., D.D., on November 1 when he leaves for Detroit, Mich., to become minister of the North Woodward Congregational Church.

Dr. Yarbrough will lead the Detroit church through its relocation program. His new congregation has sold its intown building and plans have been drawn for a 38-acre religious center more than 10 miles outside the city. The center will take care of the educational, recreational, social and spiritual needs of the congregation.

During Dr. Yarbrough's 10 years in Newton, the church has expanded considerably from a $36,000 annual budget to close to $60,000. The average attendance at Sunday services has doubled during his tenure, and 896 persons have joined the church.

Several organizations were formed, the church's weekly publication was established, and many memorials have been erected under his leadership.

In accepting Dr. Yarbrough's resignation, the congregation lauded his work in a resolution which stated, in part, "Dr. Yarbrough has been our devoted minister and sincere friend. The church has grown steadily and its activities have flourished under his inspired leadership."

The resolution concluded, "We hereby accept with mixed feelings of regret and most sincere good wishes, the resignation of Dr. Robert Clyde Yarbrough as minister."

Judge Thomas Weston, George Fernald, Carl Pickett and Ralph Taber, all former moderators of the church, have been named to nominate a committee of 25 or more to seek a successor to Dr. Yarbrough.

The congregation will vote as a whole on the new minister. An interim minister may be engaged by the deacon with the approval of the executive committee.

Social Dancing

Miss Josephine Morelli, a member of the staff of Emanuel College, Boston, will have charge of the Social Dancing Classes for boys and girls in their early teens on Wednesday evenings during the coming season. She will be assisted by Mrs. John Dunham, the new full time assistant at the Rebecca Pomroy House, a Newton Red Feather Agency. The first class will begin on October 21st.

ALDERMAN MATTSO

Mattson Says This Election Is Important

At a political rally held at the home of Mr. George F. Saunders, 10 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, Alderman Mattson, one of the speakers, said: "Newton is facing one of the most important elections we have had in years. On November 3rd we will elect not only a new Mayor but 40 per cent of the Board of Aldermen (8 out of 21) will be new members. Several of our most capable experienced Aldermen, unfortunately, will not run for re-election this year."

Mattson urged the many guests at the meeting to pay particular attention to voting this year and elect the best candidates for the Board of Aldermen. To enable the voter to form his own judgment of the candidates for election or re-election the Alderman presented six fundamental qualifications as a guide in the coming election. They are:

(1) The candidate should be a resident of Newton for a number of years so as to be well acquainted with the problems of the city.

(2) Have an educational and business or professional background adequate for a good foundation for work on the Board.

(3) Sound and mature judgment as developed through experience.

(4) Prove his civic interest and abilities by active participation in civic affairs before he becomes a candidate.

(5) Enter politics as a public servant and not for personal or professional benefits.

professional benefits.

(6) Have the courage and determination to act for the benefit of the entire city and not be subjected to or influenced by pressure groups.

Alderman W. R. Mattson was elected to the Board of Aldermen in 1945. He was re-elected in 1947, 1949, 1951 and is a candidate for re-election this year. He is one of the most active civic leaders in Newton and the above comments were based on his 8 years' experience as an Alderman.

Prior to his election in 1945 Mattson had served for 4 years as a Charter Member of the Newton Board of Public Welfare. Throughout all of his 33 years as a resident of Newton he has taken an active part in Community Chest Drives, was all Newton Chairman for the U.S.O. Fund Raising Campaign in 1947 and was Newtonville Chairman of A.R.P. throughout World War II. He has served on the Executive Committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association for 14 years, and was President for 2 years.

Alderman Mattson is a graduate of M.I.T., and for the past 19 years, has been Vice President of the American Locker Company. He purchased his home at 23 Brookdale road, Newtonville, in 1923, and he, his wife, Mabel L. Mattson and their daughter, Jane, have resided there ever since. His family is also active in politics. Mrs. Mattson is one of the two elected representatives from Newton on the State Republican Committee and has held several executive positions with the Massachusetts Women's Republican Club. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mattson have been elected to a number of State Republican Conventions, and for many years have been members of the Newton and Ward 2 Republican Committees.

Annual Fall Convocation Held At A-N

The annual fall convocation at Andover Newton Theological Seminary, oldest Baptist and Congregational seminaries in America, was held Wednesday in the morning and afternoon on the hill-top campus at Newton Centre.

The keynote speakers were the Rev. Dr. David E. Roberts, professor of philosophy of religion at Union Theological Seminary; and the Rev. Dr. James W. Lenhart, minister of State Street Congregational Church, Portland, Maine.

Several hundred clergy and laymen, including representatives of more than 500 alumni serving pastorates in New England, attended.

The Stephen Greene Lectures opened at 10 a.m. with Dr. Roberts preaching on "Existentialism, Christian and Secular." He gave the second portion of his talk at 2 p.m. Dr. Lenhart discussed "Preaching the Gospel of Redemption" at 11:15 a.m. and "Preaching as a Means of Grace" at 3:15 p.m.

The Rev. Dr. Herbert Gezork, president, presided. A luncheon was served at the noon hour.

'54 Plymouth Automobiles Are On Display by Newton Dealers

Plymouth will display its 1954 line of automobiles in dealer show rooms throughout Newton today (Thursday) President John P. Mansfield announced today.

The new models have optional power steering and three choices in power drives.

They are longer than last year's models. New body lines, a new front end design, new interiors, new advanced design seat cushions and engine improvements are among the 64 advancements in styling and engineering design.

"We are confident that people will like the new beauty of our 1954 cars," Mansfield said. "We are absolutely certain that they are the most durable, best riding, best performing and roomiest cars that Plymouth has ever built."

Plymouth is using the link type of power steering. The hydraulic "muscle" is in the steering link. Plymouth officials say it is the most effective, compact and serviceable installation produced for cars in the low price field. It reduces steering effort up to 80 per cent, permits fingertip control in tight parking situations and promotes safe driving through lessening of driver fatigue and absorption of road shock.

In its 1954 line, Plymouth offers three options in power drives. Hy-Drive, a no-shift unit made up of a combination of torque converter and three-speed transmission, was introduced during the 1953 model year. It will be in volume production for 1954 models. The two other options are Synchro-Silent three-speed transmission and Synchro-Silent with Overdrive, which provides a fourth forward speed for cruising. Mansfield said more than half the Plymouths now being produced have either Hy-Drive or Overdrive.

made up of 11 body types in three series. Aristocrats of the line are the Belvederes consisting of a sport coupe of "hardtop" design, a four-door sedan, convertible and Suburban steel-bodied station wagon type car, all beautifully color-styled in two-tone combinations. In the Savoy series are a four-door sedan, club coupe and two-door sedan. In the lowest priced Plaza series are a four-door sedan, two-door sedan, business coupe and Suburban.

All models have completely new interiors. Other changes include an increase of 3 5/8 inches in overall length, a new front end styling treatment, new chromium side moldings and modifications in virtually all exterior design features.

Interiors are designed with emphasis on color harmony and modern decor. Seat and back cushions and door side panels are upholstered in new types of fabrics which are exceptionally resistant to wear.

Plymouth is introducing a new type of seat cushions with Dual Flex springs. They are made up of a combination of coil springs and jack springs which, working in combination, provide a softer cushioning action in normal riding situations and resistance to "bottoming" when the car hits a bump.

To extend top engine performance over a long period of time, Plymouth is using new silicon chromium alloy intake valves in 1954 models. Exhaust valve inserts have been retained to maintain high compression engine performance in years of service.

Other mechanical improvements include a higher capacity oil pump, new improved clutch, and improved electric windshield wipers.

Mr., Mrs. Owen Robbins Married at Second Church, To Live In N. Y.

Easter lilies decorated the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, last Saturday afternoon when Miss Dorothy K. Bigelow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Hardwick Bigelow of West Newton and Marshfield, became the bride of Mr. Owen Wekler Robbins, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wekler Robbins of Paul's Valley, Okla.

The Rev. Frederic Lawrence was assisted by the Rev. Clyde Yarbrough in performing the 4 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of pale ivory satin with a fitted bodice and a low round neckline framed with heirloom lace. A long type lace extended down the front of the bouffant skirt which terminated in a long train. She wore long satin gauntlets and her veil of ivory tulle was held in place by a lace Juliet cap brought from Belgium last summer by her sister, Marion. Her bouquet combined small white orchids with lilies-of-the-valley and stephanotis.

Mrs. Douglas Danner (Mary Bigelow) of West Newton was her sister's matron of honor. The maid of honor was Miss Marion Ayer Bigelow of West Newton, another sister, and the bridesmaid was Miss Elizabeth Anne Brewer of Richmond, Va. Their American Beauty gowns had velvet bodices and bouffant skirts of nylon tulle in panels of pale pink and American Beauty. They carried Eucharis lilies. Miss Margaret Dangler of Lake Forest, Ill., and Miss Sally Ann Moody of Paul's Valley, Okla., cousin of the bridegroom, were honorary bridesmaids.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bigelow wore blue sheer taffeta with a pink beaded hat and a spray of orchids. Mrs. Robbins, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in gray silk with a pink hat and gloves and an orchid corsage.

Dr. Galen Robbins of Washington, D.C., was his brother's best man. The ushers were Mr. Douglas Danner of West Newton, brother-in-law of the bride; Mr. George Bissell of West Newton; Mr. Jay M. Schwamm, Mr. Alan Silka, Mr. Charles Q. Cohen and Mr. Oliver H. White, all of New York city; Mr. John Rudy of Slifka, Ind.; Mr. Robert Arvidson of Connecticut; and Mr. Donald Breen of Springfield.

The bride was graduated from Wellesley College in 1952. She is provisional member of the Junior League and a member of Phi Sigma. The bridegroom was graduated in 1951 from DePaul University, and from Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration in 1953. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. After a wedding trip to the Catskills and the Poconos, they will live in New York city.

MRS. JACQUES YATES AND MRS. PAYSON LEBARON of Auburndale are shown working on some of the dried arrangements which, in all sizes, shapes, and varieties, will be one of the features of the Holland Flower Mart at the two-day World Fair at the Auburndale Congregational Church next week. The flower mart, of which Mrs. LeBaron is chairman, will open at noon on the second day, Friday, October 23.

Miss Veronica Rita Hannon Weds Mr. David Christopher Henry

The Rev. John R. Wall officiated in Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, Newton Upper Falls, which had white chrysanthemums, delphiniums and carnations on the altar, when Miss Veronica Rita Hannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Hannon of Circuit Avenue, Newton Highlands, became the bride October 3 of Mr. David Christopher Henry, son of Mr. David A. Henry of West Roxbury. The 10 o'clock ceremony was followed by a reception at the Wellesley Inn, Wellesley.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of chantilly lace over tulle and satin, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and an accordion pleated front panel down the skirt. Her finger-tip veil of imported matching lace was caught to a silk helmet headpiece, and she carried a cascade bouquet of Eucharis lilies with stephanotis and swansonia.

Mrs. William H. Hannon Jr., as matron of honor for her sister, carried a cascade bouquet of Eucharis lilies with stephanotis and swansonia.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hannon wore aqua Belgium lace gown with brown velvet alter-in-law, wore a shrimp gown with a lace bodice and net over taffeta skirt completed with a lace stole. She wore a headpiece of shrimp flowers and net veiling and carried a cascade of bountiful roses with white snapdragons and ivy. Mary Jane Fitzsimmons, cousin and god child of the bride, as flower girl, wore aqua net over taffeta with a large Bertha collar and apron effect on her skirt was edged with lace. A pink sash was tied at her waist and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses.

The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast. After a wedding trip through New England, Mr. and Mrs. McSpadden will live at 11 Plimpton road and at Winter Park, Fla.

Following this the firm is embarking on the development of two shopping centers, the first of which will be in Porter square, Cambridge, and the second on the Concord Turnpike in Arlington. Magazine Rates School Housing Here 'Fair Plus'

An article on schools throughout the nation, appearing in the November issue of the Woman's Home Companion, which reaches the newstands tomorrow, rates Newton's school housing situation as "fair" but improving.

Schools in 119 areas from coast to coast were rated in the article according to the number of pupils per classroom, the number of children in schools over 5 years old, and the number of pupils in "non-fire-safe" schools. The ratings used were good, fair and poor.

In an individual breakdown of the survey of Newton sent to the Graphic, the Woman's Home Companion rated the city's extensive building program a "good," both in construction accomplished since 1946 and in buildings planned.

"Since 1946," the survey stated, "Newton has erected 1 school structures, providing 10 classrooms and costing $5,255,000. Two buildings, providing 27 classrooms and costing $1,600,000, are scheduled for completion before September, 1954."

Commenting on this program the editors wrote the Graphic: "Newton has been making steady progress in replacing over-age and combustible structures. The current program will more than take care of the anticipated 1954 enrollment increase. To replace over-age structures and handle anticipated enrollment increase would require nine buildings and three additions, costing $6,855,000."

In considering school housing the survey rated Newton's 2 per-classroom ratio as "fair." The seven "combustible" buildings housing 2569 pupils was termed "fair," and the 2752 students in six buildings over 50 years old was rated as "poor."

The magazine article only mentions Newton in a general listing of school ratings in 33 states and the District of Columbia. A handful of nine cities receive "good" ratings in the listing, and Newton's "fair plus" topped the eight Massachusetts cities selected.

Makeshift Arrangement for Oil Storage Makes Fire Hazard

The increasing use of range burners and portable oil stoves has resulted in a demand for oil storage on the premises. In the absence of suitable regulations in many localities, numerous makeshift arrangements have been resorted to and frequently the nature of these is such as to create a severe fire hazard.

The principal danger of storing and handling a flammable liquid of any kind is its exposure to the air. It is therefore plain that if exposure is minimized and storage is in a safely constructed and installed container, the fundamentals of safe storage and handling will have been provided. In communities where there is an established system of oil delivery at frequent intervals, the need for keeping on hand more than 55 gallons is not necessary.

An oil drum of substantial construction, such as used in the oil trade, may be safely used for permanent oil storage purposes. While it should preferably be located outside the building with the faucet locked, it may be permitted inside if kept in an upright position or placed in a suitable metal stand in a horizontal position. The withdrawal of the oil may be with a hand pump, arranged to discharge into a container subsequently used for filling the oil reservoir of the range or portable stove; or it may be electrically operated to discharge by means of a continuous piping to a constant level device supplying a range burner. When faucets are used they must be of a special design so that they will close tight and not leak and be provided with some means to be locked.

When storage in excess of 55 gallons is desired, steel storage tanks not over 275 gallons may be installed in the basement, provided with means for filling conforming to the National Board of Fire Underwriters' regulations for oil storage in connection with stoves and ranges originally designed for solid fuels. Venting of any drum or tank is essential and this vent must be large enough not to allow a rupturing pressure to be built up by a small fire outside the tank. For tanks over the 55 gallons the vent must be outside of the building.

Oil burning space heaters of size requiring flue connections introduce a special problem. Because of the size of the supply tanks or reservoirs it is impracticable to remove them to the outside for filling. For these reasons filling operations are carried on inside at the heater. Filling should be from an oil can of the type which is safe and designed for the purpose. Portable heaters employing a wick probably create the greatest hazard because of the number of them in service, the faults of construction and the portability of the burner. Filling operations should be outside the building and by means of a properly designed container. They should NEVER BE FILLED while the wick is still burning.

It should be borne in mind that flimsy makeshift storage arrangements, such as glass bottles, pails of various descriptions and improper drums sooner or later invite damage and resultant exposure of the oil through breakage, leakage or overflow. It is well to remember that the handling and storage of oil will involve no danger if exposure of the liquid is prevented; exposure permits the oil to change into vapor and when the latter is mixed with air in the proper proportion is flammable and explosive.

A Permit to Store fuel oil must be obtained from the Fire Department and the container for storing must be inspected before the Permit can be issued.

University of Scouting to Start Shortly

Norumbega Council's fall training program will get underway with a two-session University of Scouting to be held at the Day Junior High School in Newtonville, on October 26 and November 2.

George M. Shannon, Norumbega's Training Committee Chairman and "dean" of the University, is enrolling Newton, Wellesley, and Weston adults interested in any phase of Scouting for the evening courses. Faculty for the University will be comprised of well-experienced Scouters in the Council. Mr. Shannon is director of the University's "College" of Boy Scouting; David Hoover, Norumbega's Cubbing Committee Chairman, is director for the Cubbing "College"; and the Explorer Scouting "College" is headed by Arthur Menard, Chairman of the Council's Explorer Scouting Committee.

Courses in the Cubbing College include Fundamentals of Cub Scouting, Pack Administration, the Den Meeting and the Den Meeting Plan, Achievement Plan, the Pack Meeting, Den Mother-Den Chief Relationships. The curriculum for Boy Scouting contains Patrol and Troop Organization, Patrol and Troop Meetings, Patrol and Troop Hiking, Patrol and Troop Program Planning, Helping the Individual Boy to Grow.

The special Explorer courses, planned so far, are Explorer Organization and Leadership and Explorer Program.

Den Mothers in particular should find the University of great benefit. Dean Shannon points out, "that all unit, Cub Packs, Scout Troops, and Explorer Posts alike will want to have at least three or four students enrolled because only one course per session can be attended by each person and there is available a world of knowledge—the 'how to' of Scouting—that can show Scouters how they can be more effective in service to their units."

Mr. Winrow Given Party on Leaving For Arabian Post

Mr. Winrow was scheduled to leave by airplane from New York to Arabia via Holland and Spain. He will go to a training school in Lebanon, Arabia, where he will study the Arabian language and native customs.

After completing this training, he will go on to Saudi Arabia where he will specialize in deep sea diving. Mr. Winrow will remain in Arabia for at least three years.

Joseph C. Skinner, chairman of the trustees, will preside. Part of the meeting will be conducted by the minister, Rev. John Ogden Fisher, as a gathering of the Parish Council, members of which include the leaders of parish organizations and committee chairmen. Miss Margaret S. Ball is parish clerk.

Alvord Brothers, Realtors, have sold a Cape Cod house, custom built in 1951, at 134 Annawan road, Waban. The house contains six rooms, bath, lavatory, garage and is on almost 10,000 square feet of land.

No Comment

Probation of the will of the late Chief Justice Vinson, disclosed a cash estate of $1,100 (exclusive of life insurance and some small real estate holdings), is promoting revival of talk here as to the need for higher salaries for both the judiciary and Congress.

Mr. Vinson was a quiet, hard-working official who loved family life... when his sons became interested in baseball Mr. Vinson kept close track of the games... knew the batting average of every player in both leagues... so he could maintain close father-son relationship.

Unless better salaries are paid, the only type of men who will be attracted to Congress or the judiciary will be those who have not made a financial success in private life or those who are millionaires. This would limit public service too much to two extremes.

Members of Congress opposed to emasculating Taft-Hartley are vitally interested in seeing that Mr. Eisenhower gets the right advice on labor legislation before he completes his recommendations for T-H revision.

Here is why: The Palace Guard at the White House is advocating weakening amendments.

If the Palace Guard were not recommending weakening the Act, the likelihood is that Congress would be inclined to strengthen T-H considerably by extending more authorities to the states in labor matters.

The consensus in Washington is that whatever recommendations Mr. Eisenhower may make will, in all probability, be approved by Congress.

While there has been no real crystallization as yet on any proposal, those at the Capitol who have dealt closely with labor legislation are becoming more and more convinced that the more employer-employee relations can be returned to the states the more satisfactory the situation will be.

Strong support for Mr. Eisenhower's removal of price, wage and rent controls has been brought back from Europe by Rep. Oakley Hunter (R-Calif.) who points out that in Paris there are rent ceilings on all unfurnished apartments in Paris (they were imposed over 35 years ago in World War I). Mr. Hunter then observes: "As a result, any landlord who can do so, throws a few pieces of furniture into his property so as to escape rent control. The difference in rent is terrific."

He then points out that an unfurnished apartment may rent for $185.00 per year and a furnished apartment in the same neighborhood for $200.00 per month. As a result, persons in an unfurnished apartment are loath to move even for better jobs because they may have to take a furnished apartment... in fact, even if unemployed, it might be best to hold on to the cheap rental apartment and try to obtain a new job in that neighborhood. All this has brought about immobility of labor... a lack of new construction... and has not curbed inflation, as prices are up about 30 times over World War II... much less the increase over World War I.

The State Department and other Eisenhower officials still are opposing the Bricker proposal to amend the Constitution to prevent treaty-made law from superseding or in any way nullifying a federal or state law. The fight over the Bricker proposal promises to be an intense one next winter. In this connection, it is noted that the Iowa Supreme Court recently ruled against a plaintiff who accused the defendant of actions which violated the Iowa and United States Constitutions and the United Nations Charter. The significance, of course, is that the idea of international law being interwoven with domestic law already seems implanted in some places.

Building Pace Stays Ahead Of Last Year

Newton's building pace dropped off slightly during September from the corresponding month in 1952, but the nine-month total of building permits to date is still running well ahead of last year.

According to the monthly report of Building Commissioner Arthur Campbell, 103 permits were issued by his department during September. The estimated cost of these permits amounted to $695,272.

During September, 1952, the Building Department gave out 101 permits at a total construction cost of $723,220.

The first nine months of the year saw 796 permits valued at $6,433,243 issued by the city. This is well above the 1952 nine-month figure of $5,761,171, although last year's total represented 844 permits. In 1951, only 791 permits were issued, but the total reached $11,353,831.

Ward Lines Group Considers Establishing Eighth Ward

The creation of an eighth Newton ward from the present overloaded Ward 5 and the shifting of parts of three other wards was proposed as a solution to the city's unbalanced ward lines problem last Thursday night at City Hall.

The Aldermanic Ward Lines Committee suggested at its meeting that the new Ward 8 start with 500 voters so room would be left for the city's rapidly-expanding population. At present, Ward 5 contains about 12,000 registered voters.

Other changes proposed to balance the voting power included:

Adding Ward 2, Precinct 3, to Ward 1, thus reducing Ward 2 to 6000 voters.

Adding Ward 3, Precinct 4, and a part of Ward 5 near Fuller street, West Newton, to Ward 4. This would give Ward 4 a total of 6000 voters and Ward 3 would be reduced to 5400.

Adding parts of Ward 6 to Wards 1 and 7 to make a total of 5200 voters in Ward 6, a total of 4800 voters in Ward 7, and 5300 voters in Ward 1.

Representatives of the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Association objected to the short time allowed for studying the changes, since legislative sanction must be obtained and the first week in December is the last date that a bill can be filed.

The meeting of the committee was attended by about 35 representatives of various improvement associations and of the League of Women Voters. They will be provided with summaries of the changes.

The aldermen have been studying the problem of the ward line changes for the past two years. Action must be taken by 1955, or they may not be made for another 10 years under a state law. Members of the committee present were Chairman Hirsch, Joseph B. Davis, H. Eugene Jones and William A. Jackson.

Now in Effect 10¢ MINIMUM RATE FOR Coin Telephone Calls

First Increase in 70 Years

Effective on Wednesday, October 14th, the minimum rate for calls from New England Telephone Company coin telephones in Massachusetts became 10¢, in accordance with authorization by the Department of Public Utilities. This is the first increase in the minimum rate in Massachusetts' coin telephone history. Only calls within the present 5¢ calling area will be affected by the change. Calls that are a dime today will continue to be a dime. Thus, the new 10¢ calling area will include both the present 5¢ and 10¢ areas.

Costs of Providing Service Up Sharply

The costs of providing telephone service have increased sharply during the past few years. Since higher schedules of telephone rates have been found necessary to meet these higher costs, it seems only fair that users of coin telephone service should bear their share of the increase.

Most Coin Telephones Have 10¢ Rate

A 10¢ initial rate is already effective or authorized for 83% of Bell System coin telephones. Applications have been filed for an additional 6%.

Please Read The Instruction Cards

At each dial coin telephone, you will find instruction cards showing exactly how to call from that telephone, and a list of the outside localities that may be reached by dialing.

If the receiver is replaced after a single nickel has been inserted, the coin will be returned.

Two Teas Given to Aid Emerald Luncheon to Be Held Nov. 9th

U.N. Day Committee

October 18th-24th is United Nations Week.

Many local organizations are uniting their efforts to bring to the citizens of Newton vital information concerning the aims and accomplishments of the United Nations. As never before, the peoples of the world are given an opportunity, through the United Nations, to know and to influence what is going on, for one of its most important weapons in promoting Peace, Justice and Progress is the influence of world public opinion; and an informed public opinion is made possible through the open debates that take place in all its organs under the full scrutiny of the peoples of the world. Moreover, private citizens of the world, banded together in many thousands of national and international non-governmental organizations, are assisting the United Nations by spreading information about its activities, by presenting their views and advice on subjects of which they have special knowledge and experience, and by helping to mold and give expression to public opinion. The United Nations is the instrument—the only existing instrument—by which man can achieve worldwide Peace, Justice, and Progress.

On Monday evening, October 26th at 8:00 p.m., there will be an open meeting at War Memorial Hall, City Hall, Newton. Miss Anne Guthrie, member of the Speaker's Research Committee for the United Nations will speak on the subject, "The World's Workshop."

The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs and Newton Council of Churches are sponsoring Miss Guthrie, together with the League of Women Voters of Newton, who are making arrangements for a group of international students to participate in a panel discussion. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Antique Club

The Antique Club of Watertown will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight, (Oct. 15) in Pratt Room of the main Library on Main street. Mrs. Margaret Leander will speak on American Art glass. Bring examples even if in doubt of origin so they may be identified by this well known authority. The public is invited to attend.

Two teas, part of a series of special functions being held in behalf of the Emerald Luncheon for the Home for Jewish Children, were given for a large number of greater Boston women by Newton and Brookline hostesses during the past week.

More than 100 persons, key workers in the forthcoming Emerald luncheon to be held Nov. 9th at the Hotel Statler, were entertained by Mrs. Alvin Zises at her attractive Cotton street home in Newton.

Aiding Mrs. Zises in the entertainment and pouring were: Mrs. Lawrence Suttenger of Newton and Mrs. Morris Sherman of Newton.

An additional 100 women, also principal workers in the luncheon affair and the fashion show to be given by Cyndel of Brookline at the November 9th Hotel Statler attraction, were entertained by Mrs. Nathan Pearlman at another tea at her lovely Griggs terrace home.

Helping Mrs. Pearlman as pourers were Mrs. Edward A. Klemar, president of the Home for Jewish Children, and Mrs. Morris Schwartz of Dorchester, chairman of the committee.

Mrs. Schwartz, speaking on the Emerald Luncheon, stressed the special Reward Luncheon to be held in December at which time those women who worked for the Emerald affair would be "rewarded."

"This incentive has proven its worth in the past," she pointed out, "and women from every section of Greater Boston are striving to be at the Emerald and the Reward luncheons — two of the biggest affairs in the city."

estine, he was Assistant Secretary of the United States Delegation to Dumbarton Oaks, a member of the Institute of Pacific Relations, and a technical advisor to the United States Delegation of the First Session of the General Assembly of the United Nations held in London in 1946.

Because of Dr. Bunche's prominence and speaking ability, the Red Feather "Kick-Off" Dinner will be an outstanding event in Newton this year and while the meeting is primarily for members of the Red Feather Campaign organization and members and directors of the Newton Community Chest agencies, there will be a reasonable number of tickets available for Newton citizens who would like to attend this meeting. Tickets, including dinner, will be $1.50 and must be obtained in advance through the office of the Newton Community Chest, 93 Union street, Newton Centre—telephone, LA 7-5120—before 10 a.m. on Monday, October 19.

David Berkman, Newton Campaign Chairman, will preside at this meeting and Charles Devens, General Campaign Chairman of the Red Feather Campaign for Metropolitan Boston, will speak on the importance of Red Feather services to the people of our community. Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood will also speak to the gathering and Rev. Ray A. Eusden will give the invocation.

The Theatre party for Residential workers at the West Newton Theatre on Tuesday night was a huge success, with the largest attendance ever at a Community Chest meeting. In addition to the feature picture "Roman Holiday" a Red Feather film "Benji" was shown and there were projections on the screen of information pertinent to the Newton Campaign.

The Residential Campaign in Newton starts on Red Feather Sunday, October 25, and the Newton goal this year is $325,000. Solicitation is now under way in the advance divisions and three weeks will be devoted to the Residential Campaign. The campaign slogan this year is, "Your gift is a lift for all."

Christening

Born in Munich, Germany, 11 months ago, Laura Ruth Bechtel was christened at a special service held last week at the First Unitarian Church in Newton by Rev. John Ogden Fisher, minister.

The parents, Dr. and Mrs. John Bechtel, lived on Otis street, West Newton, while Dr. Bechtel was serving his internship at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, before serving two years with the U. S. Army Medical Corps in Germany. Mr. Fisher had officiated at their marriage ceremony at the First Parish Church in Framingham, where the bride, who was Miss Shirley Foster, had earlier been a member of the young people's group during his ministry there.

Now back in civilian life, Dr. and Mrs. Bechtel, who had been visiting Mrs. Bechtel's family in Framingham, arranged for the christening ceremony before leaving for his new work in industrial medical research in the Pittsburgh, Pa., area. The Foster grandparents, two aunts, and a nephew were present for this private christening ceremony.

structors will be aided by four part time instructor and several consultants, Father Carroll stated in telling of the specialized staff that would be available.

Courses will be first given in attaining an attitude which accepts blindness as a major handicap, but one that can be conquered. Then the newly blinded persons will be taught the latest techniques of daily living activities, how to accomplish the usual things one does during a normal day and how to make one's way about the house. Men will be given tips on how to shave and women, how to apply make-up.

The newly blinded will also be given courses in braille, in typing, in making home repairs, in enjoying recreation and in obtaining useful employment. Extensive instructions will be given in the use of the cane to enable the person to travel independently. This course also includes the more effective use of the other senses in independent travel. Also included is psychometric testing to indicate the person's aptitudes and capabilities, occupational therapy to start the newly blinded person toward work habits, a work tryout shop to evaluate the capabilities toward various occupations and a vocational counseling service to guide the person toward the wise choice of a new job or working out particular problems in going back to his old occupation. The blind trainee will live at the Center throughout the course.

The rehabilitation center is the fulfillment of a long sought hope of Father Carroll. Finances for this center will come from the annual "Odd Change Harvest." At a recent meeting, Father Carroll informed captains in the "Odd Change Harvest" that he considers the center will be one of the most effective functions of the Catholic Guild for the Blind.

The "Odd Change Harvest" is the Guild's annual fund raising drive from Labor Day to Columbus Day and is now in progress under the leadership of Paul J. Clifino of the family that pioneered supermarkets in this area. This year's goal is $75,000 to help the Guild keep up its program to give security, hope and opportunity to the 4000 blind in Eastern Massachusetts.

In addition to the new rehabilitation program, the Guild publishes a bi-monthly "talking" newspaper designed to be read to the blind, sponsors recreation activities for the blind who are confined to institutions, holds an annual IN-DAY, a field day with sports events and informative talks given by experts on the problems of blindness and has a general social service program.

In addition to the disabled veteran abatements, Mr. Wright reported that 148 other property owners have filed for tax cuts since receiving their 1953 tax bills. Included in the abatement requests are applications from the Commonwealth Country Club and the Chestnut Hill Shopping Center. Their requests for abatements in previous years are being considered by the Tax Appeal Board.

bring this campaign to a successful conclusion. In the past every other Salvation Army Drive has reached its quota in Newton and if this record is to remain unbroken more and more contributions must be received. As the "army" of volunteer workers continue to conduct the residential "good neighbor" canvass on behalf of this famed organization it is asked that every citizen remember the Newton slogan, "The more you give the more Newton benefits as one dollar out of every five given remains here in Newton for local needs."

terson developed a series of health booklets which have been distributed to policyholders, public health agencies and to interested individuals in answer to an average of 15,000 requests for copies each year.

A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania where he received his doctorate in public health, Dr. Patterson spent 10 years with the New Jersey State Department of Health before joining the John Hancock. He is a member of the advisory committee of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis Society and the State Department of Public Health, and has written and lectured widely on health educational techniques.

Hundreds of Business Men Attend Stein Club Dinner

Hundreds of prominent Greater Boston business men and industrialists attend today the dinner meeting of the Boston Stein Club as the organization opened its 1953-1954 season at the MIT Faculty Club in Cambridge.

The affair marked the presentation of the Boston Stein Club Technion Fund to Dr. Karl T. Compton, chairman of the MIT corporation.

Dr. Compton, one of the sponsors of the Technion, the MIT of Israel, has been chosen as a great American in whose honor the new chemical engineering institute at Technion will be named.

Abraham Shlager of Newton, president of the Stein Club and treasurer of the Boston Chapter of the American Technion Society, made the presentation to Dr. Compton.

Richard J. Marcus of Brookline, noted industrialist and president of the Technion Society, announced that the first board meeting of his group would be held Oct. 19 at his home, 7 Chatham street.

At the same time Mr. Marcus, an active worker on behalf of the Combined Jewish Appeal, urged every member of his society to work for the CJA.

"We of the American Technion Society," he said, "are vitally concerned with the success of this drive covering 201 agencies in which we as Jews and as friends of Israel are most interested."

The Boston Stein Club Technion Fund was praised by Oscar Horowitz of Newton, one of the Fund's most active and energetic workers, as a unique instrument to build good will and help both Israeli and American students.

"The Fund has a duo purpose," he said, "in providing money for maintenance of Technion students while studying at MIT here, and also providing funds for a Greater Boston student to attend MIT, regardless of his origin."

"MIT has been more than generous through the efforts of both Dr. Compton and Dr. Killian, president of the Institute, to make available free tuition for these students."

Newton Lions Drive to Aid Eye Research

The Newton Lions Club is participating in a state-wide campaign by more than 100 Massachusetts Lions Clubs started last week to raise $100,000 for eye research.

Chairman of the local campaign is Morton V. Ross of 795 Washington street, Newtonville. Other members of the Newton committee are Ralph S. Sanguinetti of the Newton Savings Bank, Henry Fusi of the Newton National Bank, T. Frank Copp of the Edwards Lumber Company, Dana Gleason of Gleason's Flower Shop and Thomas W. Leydon Jr. of 74 Puritan road, Waban.

During the month of October, Lions Club members will sell electric light bulbs door-to-door. Each package of bulbs will be sold at below retail cost, but the club will make a small profit for eye research through a discount allowed by the manufacturer.

The Lions Clubs need to sell in the vicinity of two million bulbs to reach their goal of $100,000. Already several freight car loads have been dispatched to the various Lions Clubs throughout the state. The bulbs are broken down from case lots into small units by Lions Club members and packed—protected by paper sleeves—in paper bags.

On each bag of bulbs, is affixed the following message: "With this purchase, you have made a contribution to the Massachusetts Lions Eye Research Fund. Thank You. The sight you save may be your own."

John Ward School Pupils Planning Unique Halloween

A new plan for Halloween, whereby the tradition "trick or treat" will provide everyone with a chance to share with needy people in other countries, will be sponsored by the John Ward School, Newton Centre.

On Halloween, children will ring doorbells between the hours of 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. Householders are asked to contribute only children's clothing, sewing materials or soap.

Articles which the children will be seeking include children's underwear, caps, socks, mittens, coats, dresses, and similar apparel. New garments are preferred, but used clothing is acceptable if it is clean and in good condition. Sewing materials sought are needles in packages, full spools of unused thread, wound yarn or safety pins. Also needed is new or partially used soap.

The idea for this plan for the Ward School Halloween came from the president of the P.T.A., William Carmen. He is being assisted by a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Silverman, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Rosenfeld and Miss Mildred March, principal of the Ward School.

Shipping abroad and responsibility for distribution will be by American Friends Service Committee, a Quaker agency serving people in need regardless of race, religion or nationality.

Candidates to Present Views October 21

"Know Your Candidates", the annual candidates meeting of the League of Women Voters of Newton, takes place next Wednesday, October 21, at the new Chaffin School at 8:00. All candidates running in the coming municipal election on November 3 have been invited to come to state their views and answer questions from the audience. The meeting is sponsored by the League of Women Voters as part of their continuing program of helping to create an alert and informed electorate.

"With forty-nine candidates running for election this year," stated Mrs. John McClintock, president of the Newton League, "it is vital that each voter make an effort to know about these men before he can vote intelligently. We are trying to help Newton citizens to do this by giving them a chance to meet, hear and question the men who are seeking to represent them. We hope all Newton citizens will attend this important gathering."

Howard Whitmore and Walter Hodgdon, candidates for Mayor have accepted the invitation to attend the meeting. They will make statements outlining their platform. Candidates for the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee will talk on "Why I Seek This Office," and a general question period will follow. After the formal part of the meeting, refreshments will be served and the audience will have a chance to talk individually with the candidates.

Richard A. Dion, aviation machinist's mate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Dion of 52 Cabot street, Newton, has been assigned to the operations department of the U. S. Naval Air Missile Test Center at Point Mugu, Calif.

Schedule Exams For Naval ROTC On December 12

The Navy has announced that the eighth nation-wide competitive examination for its college training program, the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps, is scheduled for December 12, 1953. The Navy emphasized that this date is final and examinations would not be given at any other time regardless of circumstances. Successful candidates will participate in four years of college training with government assistance and will be commissioned as officers of the Navy and Marine Corps upon graduation.

Applications for examinations are available to high school seniors or graduates within the age requirements. The applications may be obtained at high schools, colleges, and Navy Recruiting Stations throughout the country. Completed applications must reach the Educational Testing Service in Princeton, N. J., by November 21.

The program is open to male citizens of the United States between the ages 17 and 21, and quotas have been assigned to each state and territory on the basis of its high school population.

Those who are successful in passing the aptitude test will be interviewed and given physical examinations. Then, if they are found in all respects qualified, their names will be submitted to state and territorial selection committees composed of prominent citizens and naval officers for final selection.

The Navy expects to enter about 2,000 students into the program for the fall term of college, 1954. Those selected by the competitive examinations will be assigned within quotas, to schools of their choice among universities and colleges which maintain NROTC units.

If accepted by the college, the candidate will be appointed Midshipman, USNR, and will have their tuition, books and normal fees paid for by the government. In addition, they will receive pay at the rate of $600 a year for the four-year period and will be provided the required uniforms.

A student may, if he so desires, accept employment not conflicting with his NROTC and academic activities. Such employment may in some cases be desirable in order to defray the expenses of quarters, subsistence, and for necessary clothing, since the uniforms supplied may be worn only on cruises, during drill periods, or while engaged in other naval activities.

Between each academic year, summer cruises of from six to eight weeks are taken in various ships of the fleet to provide practical shipboard training.

After commissioning, NROTC graduates serve on active duty for three years before applying for retention as career officers.

Course in Astronomy at Science Museum

For thousands of years the irresistible fascination of the star-studded night sky has captured the imagination of man.

Almost everyone would like to know more about the stars — but many are held back today by the wealth of technical data piled up by the magic of modern scientific instruments.

But there is a great deal to be learned about the stars without mathematics. And to answer this problem, the Museum of Science is repeating its popular course in Physical Astronomy for beginners this fall.

John Patterson, Acting Director of the Planetarium, will cover subjects from phases of the moon to radio astronomy, the expansion of the universe and the problems of space travel.

The ten meetings, starting Tuesday, October 6, will include demonstrations with models and actual observing with the Museum's new Petzoldt telescope when the skies are clear.

Applications should be forwarded as soon as possible to: Planetarium, Museum of Science, Science Park, Boston, 14, Mass. Museum members are entitled to a reduction in the course fee.

School Children Of All Ages Pay Visits to Museum

School age children from all sections of Greater Boston and vicinity will be visiting the Children's Museum in Jamaica Plain during the coming school year as part of the visual aids program operated by the Museum for the benefit of public, parochial and independent schools. Over 19,000 students took part in this program last year.

In addition, many thousands of youngsters will visit the Museum after school and on Saturday when special clubs, film programs and paper-and-pencil games are sponsored by the Museum as part of its pioneering work in education and recreation in this area.

Family groups, as well as individual children, also take part in the traditional Saturday morning nature walks which leave the corner of Centre and Elliot streets every Saturday at eight o'clock for a two-hour walk through near-by woods, including the world-famous Arnold Arboretum grounds. Under the guidance of a member of the Museum, staff, family groups, Scouts and individual children learn to identify birds, mineral formations, plant life and other features of the New England countryside. It is a course in basic natural science, given in an outdoor setting.

The Museum is located on Route 1, the Jamaica Way. It is open daily, except Monday from nine to five, and Sunday from two to five. Admission is always free and adults are welcome. Free film programs are presented every Saturday in the modern, 500-seat Auditorium. On Saturday, September 19, the feature will be "Most Accidents Occur Near Home."

CHICAGO—The first 25 miles away from home are the most hazardous when you're driving an automobile.

"Accident Facts," the National Safety Council's new statistical yearbook, shows that 61 per cent of the drivers involved in the 33,000 fatal motor vehicle accidents last year lived within 25 miles of where the accident occurred, 21 per cent lived elsewhere in the state, and 18 per cent out of the state.

Seventy-three per cent of the drivers involved in all motor vehicle accidents also lived within 25 miles of where the accident occurred. Seventeen per cent lived elsewhere in the state, and 10 per cent outside the state.

The ten meetings, starting Tuesday, October 6, will include demonstrations with models and actual observing with the Museum's new Petzoldt telescope when the skies are clear.

Applications should be forwarded as soon as possible to: Planetarium, Museum of Science, Science Park, Boston, 14, Mass. Museum members are entitled to a reduction in the course fee.

Whitmore Confronted With Unusual Political Problem ... Must Convince Supporters Election Isn't Sure Thing ...

One of the most dangerous political contests in which a candidate can engage is one in which his friends and supporters assure themselves that he is certain of election and can't possibly lose.

That is the principal problem confronting Representative Howard Whitmore, Jr., in his campaign for election of Mayor of Newton.

Whitmore is a good enough politician to know that the record lists the names of many office-seekers who "couldn't lose" but still went down to defeat while their friends were arranging victory celebrations that never materialized.

Every political observer in and out of Newton expects Whitmore to coast home to a decisive victory. On all the evidence he should do exactly that. He's an able politician of unquestioned integrity. He achieved an outstanding record on Beacon Hill, and his departure from the State House will be a real blow to the Herter administration.

The Day Draws Near

Eyes of 14,000 Newton School Children Focused on Halloween

As the last day of October approaches, more than 14,000 school children of all ages, from kindergarten through senior high, are eagerly looking forward to Newton's 13th annual Halloween celebration.

Harold B. Gores, Newton's Superintendent of Schools, stated the young folks' attitude succinctly, when he said: "Next to Christmas, Newton youngsters like Halloween best."

Actually, it is not merely the impressionable younger people who are getting a thrill out of the city-wide parties in the offing. It is the grown-ups, as well. That would seem, at least, to be one of the reasons why well over 1400 men and women are devoting hours of time and untiring effort in the detailed planning of programs for the 20 separate parties to be held throughout the City. Committees in every Newton village, according to Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, Chairman of the all-over Program Committee, have applied themselves so conscientiously that practically every facet of every program is now well in hand.

While committees are understandably reticent about the many surprises that will be unleashed on the children's "big night," enough information has leaked out to prompt Howard Whitmore, Jr., General Chairman of the Halloween Committee, to say that he is convinced this year's Halloween celebration "will set a new high in participation and interest that will be a tribute to the diligence and ingenuity and unselfish devotion of the many, many hundreds of men and women who are so earnestly handling the multiplicity of details necessary to assure its success."

Mrs. Hovgaard has received progress reports from virtually all Building Chairmen, and expresses her gratification that so many committees have everything, as she says, "under complete control." Reports reaching her office recently are as follows:

Mrs. Karl Ernst, Building Chairman of the Hamilton School parties for kindergartners through 6th graders, says that about 200 children are expected to participate from 7 to 9 p.m. Prizes will be awarded in each classroom for the funniest, prettiest and most original costumes; in addition there will be games, movies, a Chamber of Horrors, and specialties which are being kept secret. Mrs. Joseph Doyle is Publicity Chairman; Movies are in charge of Mr. Rudd; Mr. John Power heads up the group planning the Chamber of Horrors; Refreshments will be handled by Mrs. John Power and Mrs. Scott; and the First Aider will be Mrs. William O'Donnell.

A large party will be held at the Memorial School, in Oak Hill, with 550 first to sixth grade pupils attending, according to Mr. William G. Doherty, Jr., Building Chairman. The whole program is ready in every detail, and includes, among unveiled other events, games, movies and a Chamber of Horrors. Committee members are: Chamber of Horrors, E. McMahon, I. Jackson, J. Guberman, T. Fitzgerald, Charles Murphy, John Hamm, Eric Hanson, Cobey Ellingwood; Movies, J. Rifkin, J. Lasso; Room Parties, B. Plotkin; Refreshments, B. Warren, B. Sherer; First Aid, D. Murphy, M. Doherty, J. McMahon. Close to 400 children, from first through sixth grade, will attend the festivities at the Williams School, Auburndale, state Chairman Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Booz, and Co-chairmen Mr. — HALLOWEEN — (Continued on Page 9)

All Newton Music School Affair To Be Held Sunday Afternoon

On Sunday afternoon, October 25, from three to six o'clock, the All Newton Music School will hold its Annual Open House. A cordial invitation has been sent to parents and friends of the school and a pleasant social time is anticipated.

Mrs. Sylvester McGinn, president of the Board of Trustees, will receive parents and guests and will be assisted by gentlemen of the Board, Alden Bellman, Community Chest liaison officer; Louis Winkur, chairman of the Parents' Auxiliary; and, Mrs.

Mabel B. Worth, Executive Director. The tea table will be presided over by ladies of the Board and of the Parents' Auxiliary. A large group of mothers and members of the staff and faculty will serve as hostesses.

Music during the entire afternoon will be in charge of Miss Irene Forte, Musical Director, who has planned an interesting and varied program by the Music School orchestra, student and faculty groups.

This annual event coming early each fall is a highlight in the Music School year and is always an interesting and social occasion. The Music School has the largest enrollment in its history and has been teeming with activity ever since opening its doors for the forty-third season on September twenty-first. Besides full schedules in all departments for individual lessons, orchestra and ensemble groups are meeting weekly, and there are nine groups of young students between the ages of six and twelve meeting weekly in the classes for musicianship and theory of music. A new community service has been added this season in the form of a course in Music Appreciation for adults under the direction of Allen Barker of the piano department. This course is part of the adult education program and is meeting a need long felt in the community.

The All Newton Music School is a Red Feather Service, member of the Newton Community Chest, the Newton Community Council, and National Guild of Community Music Schools.

LWV DIRECTORS WILL TAKE NO STAND ON MAYOR'S SALARY INCREASE ISSUE

City Plans Incinerator Expansion

Law Requires Cooking All Garbage in '54

Informal authorization for a $300,000 improvement program at the city incinerator, made necessary by a new state law which requires the cooking of garbage, was granted Monday night by the Board of Aldermen.

Although no formal recommendations were made by committees studying the incinerator question, the aldermen are allowing Public Works Director Willard S. Pratt to begin drawing up plans for the project since the garbage cooking law goes into effect on January 1.

Construction of additional buildings and steam pipes for the cooking will cost more than $100,000, Earle D. Wood, chairman of the finance committee, reported. However, over a five-year period this may result in a $125,000 saving in the cost of handling garbage, he pointed out.

The cooking of garbage was established as a state law this year, to become effective on January 1, because of a sudden increase in hog diseases. All garbage collected must be thoroughly cooked before being fed to hogs to kill the germs which have seriously threatened the state's hog industry.

In view of the proposed construction, Alderman Richard H. Lovell of the public buildings committee suggested that the city should extend its existing garbage collection contract for five years. He said the city should demand an increased performance bond, which currently amounts to $25,000.

Mr. Pratt was authorized by the board to complete the preliminary plans and to call for public bids on the incinerator expansion. The aldermen have been considering expanding the city incinerator for some months, even before the new law made it necessary.

Hearing to Consider Stricter Home Construction Scheduled

Whether the city should exercise stricter control over home construction in presently undeveloped areas of Newton through a change in minimum lot sizes will be the subject of a public hearing scheduled at City Hall next Wednesday.

The hearing will be conducted by the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen and by the City Planning Board at 7:45 p.m. on an amendment to the zoning laws proposed by the committee.

The ordinance seeks to reduce the number of homes which would be allowed in future developments by increasing the minimum lot sizes in Residence A, B and C districts. Objections have been raised by some city officials to the financial burden placed on the city by extensive real estate developments which bring large numbers of families to the city. The population increase demands large expenditures for streets, sewers, drains and schools.

The proposed amendment follows: "Section 1, Paragraph (a) of Section 23.8 of the Revised Ordinances of Newton is hereby amended by changing the lot areas and lot widths specified — CONSTRUCTION — (Continued on Page 9)

Students Sign Up For New Insurance Plan

Students in Newton schools are currently being enrolled in a new insurance program which insures them from an hour before they arrive at school until an hour after they leave.

The insurance, which costs parents $1.25 per child for a year's coverage, includes all athletics except inter-school football for which separate insurance has been available for some years.

Slightly more than half the high school students have already signed up for the insurance, while approximately 1000 primary grade pupils have enrolled. Arrangements are being made to introduce the plan throughout the elementary grades.

In some schools, the insurance plan is being organized through — INSURANCE — (Continued on Page 9)

Seek to Limit Outside Duties By the Mayor

The Board of Directors of the League of Women Voters of Newton voted at its meeting last week to take no stand on the question of raising the mayor's salary from $9000 to $12,000. The Board reaffirmed the League's position supporting an adequately paid, qualified, full time chief executive, as adopted by the members in April as a major item for work during the coming year.

In a statement to the Graphic, the League explained it was as a result of this program that the League and the Newton Taxpayers Association sponsored an ordinance which would require a mayor to "subordinate any other business or profession to his duties as Mayor and not hold any other elected or appointed salaried office."

The statement of the Board of the League of Women Voters is as follows: "When the proposed raise in the mayor's salary was approved as a ballot question by the Board of Aldermen on Sep- — SALARY — (Continued on Page 9)

United Nations and Its Work to Be the Topic at "World's Workshop" Monday

"The World's Workshop," a discussion of the United Nations and its work, will be the topic of Miss Anne Guthrie in a speech this Monday evening, at War Memorial Hall, City Hall. A part of the observance of United Nations Week in Newton, this program will also feature three international students: Syed Razi of India, Azaz Sahwell of Jordan, and Jane Francis of England, in a discussion following the talk.

Deadline Finds 6 Seeking Seat Herter Vacated

The deadline for filing papers for the special primary and election to fill the seat vacated by Representative Christian A. Herter Jr. in the 4th Middlesex District, expired Tuesday with six candidates in the field.

Three Republicans, two Democrats and an Independent have entered the fight for the post formerly held by the Governor's son who is now special assistant to Vice President Nixon.

The primary is scheduled for November 17 and the election, December 8.

Republicans who filed are: William R. O'Connell, 9 Fair Oaks avenue; Paul S. Rich, 78 Franklin street; and Donald L. Gibbs, 37 Claremont street.

The Democrats are William M. Morris, 10 Harding street, and Laurence E. Cook, 43 Walker street.

The Independent, John L. Sheehan, 38 Bemis street, will not be entered in the primary, but his name will appear on the December ballot.

Red Cross Seeks Unused Clothing To Aid Germany

Newton citizens wishing to assist in meeting clothing relief needs in Germany may do so through their Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross.

With the approach of winter there exists a need for new-wear, new-sweaters, socks and warm clothing for both men and women. New material for the production of these articles which can be made up by the German Red Cross is also needed.

For many months the national organization has been assisting the German Red Cross in meeting clothing needs and this assistance will be continued and increased. The opportunity to participate is now extended to local chapters.

As has been indicated in the press, a number of voluntary relief organizations are now conducting appeals for used clothing. The American Red Cross will not conduct a duplicate appeal for used clothing.

In accordance with the usual practice, contributions of relief funds may be made through the Newton Chapter. Anyone wishing to donate new clothing or material should deliver it to the Newton Red Cross, 21 Foster street, Newtonville. — VOTING — (Continued on Page 9)

With a rare propensity for being on the spot when exciting things are happening, Miss Guthrie has travelled widely. During her years as YMCA executive for India, Burma and Ceylon, she watched the tide of independence swell, bringing in a free and separate India and Pakistan. While continental secretary for South America she arrived in Chile on the eve of a revolution. As advisor in the Philippines she landed as the Commonwealth was coming into being. Ten years later she was the first civilian woman to be returned to the Islands to help rebuild the ruins and to participate in the celebration when the Republic of the Philippines was inaugurated.

In recent years Miss Guthrie has been especially interested in the United Nations. Since 1947 she has attended the General Assembly meetings. She was in Paris when the Universal Declaration of Human Rights was adopted. She now is an accredited representative for the International Alliance of Women to the Economic and Social Council, and a member of the Speakers' Bureau.

Blood Donations Saved Many Lives In Leyte Disaster

Do you know that the generosity of hundreds of people helped save lives in the recent air-craft carrier Leyte explosion?

In only a few hours, hundreds of pints of blood were used and still more hundreds of pints will be needed. For many months to come some of the victims will continue to need blood. Do you realize how much one of these lives may depend on you?

Newton residents are being urgently asked to co-operate by making an appointment at the Bloodmobile Visit next Tuesday. Between the hours 1:00 and 7:00 p.m. the Unit will be at St. John's Episcopal Church, 311 Lowell avenue, Newtonville. Appointments are being made by calling the chairman, Mrs. Thomas G. Walters, LA 7-2390, or the Red Cross Chapter, LA 7-6000.

If circumstances arise making it impossible to keep an appointment, donors are asked to please contact the Chapter. Some one else may be able to donate at that time. Every pint of blood is needed!

General Electric Co. to Locate Plant in Newton

Purchase of property for construction of new office and distribution facilities for General Electric Company has been completed according to an announcement made today by John B. Rubenstein, Chairman of the Newton Chamber of Commerce. The property has been purchased from Cabot, Cabot & Forbes, Inc. of Boston, developers of the Newton Industrial Center. The one story brick and limestone building will encompass more than 50,000 square feet and will occupy a 103,272 square foot lot on Industrial Place opposite the present Wild & Stevens, Inc. building.

The building will house offices for the Boston Service District and the New England Sales District of the Lamp Division of General Electric as well as warehouse and distribution facilities. "We were attracted to the Newton site by its accessibility to our outlets in the New England and metropolitan Boston area," said A. H. Rogers, Manager of the Boston Service District of G. E.

It is expected that the plant will employ approximately 65 people. Cram and Ferguson are the designers of the new structure. Construction is expected to start this winter, with completion coming next fall.

This year's schedule also calls for special displays of house plants, carnations, roses, orchids and a section for holiday decorations, under the direction of Mrs. Arthur P. Teele, Boston School of Flower Arrangement.

Civic Association Announces Endorsements of Candidates

The Newton Civic Association today released a listing of candidates for municipal offices which the Association believes "are best qualified to serve the interests of the city."

In announcing the endorsements, the Association declared that "it is the policy of the directors of the Newton Civic Association to refrain from endorsing for election to any branch of the city government any person who, as an employee of the City of Newton, receives from said city any salary, wages or other emolument."

Diman; Ward 2, William R. Mattson and John W. Whittemore; Ward 3, Joseph B. Davis and John P. Nixon; Ward 4, V. Stoddard Bigelow and Earle D. Wood; Ward 5, Wendell R. Bauckman and Edwin A. Terkelson; Ward 6, Lawrence B. Damon and William P. Ripley; and Ward

7, Winfield C. Anderson and Richard H. Lovell.

Ward aldermen endorsed were: Ward 1, Adelaide B. Ball and Carleton P. Merrill; Ward 2, Stuart M. Spaulding; Ward 3, Charles H. Meeker; Ward 4, Harry H. Ham, Jr.; Ward 5, H. Eugene Jones; Ward 6, Hirsch Sharf; and Ward 7, James K. Fitzpatrick.

The announcement stated, "In the interests of its purpose of promoting efficient, representative and responsible government in the City of Newton, to encourage citizens to take an active interest in civic affairs, and to support the candidacy of reliable and competent men to seek election to public office, the Newton Civic Association believes that the following candidates are best qualified to serve the interests of the city."

PICTURED WITH MRS. FOGARTY, Paul J. Cronin, Vice-President of Grover Cronin Incorporated, discusses the latest designs and the first presentation of the American Designer Series in which Anne Fogarty will personally present her fall and winter collection in the Grover Cronin Studio, Saturday, October 24 at 3:30 p.m.

Anne Fogarty, Young Designer To Be at Grover Cronin's Sat.

America's outstanding young designer, Anne Fogarty, will make her first visit to this area when she appears at the Grover Cronin store on Saturday, October 24.

The trim little designer, who is perhaps her own best model, is most widely known for the "Fogarty Silhouette" which features a tiny waist with a bell-shaped skirt. It was only this fall in Paris that many critics noticed the similarity of a leading French designer's "Inverted Eiffel Tower" model and the style of Anne Fogarty which has been in vogue for several years.

These wide bouffant skirts which lend grace and freedom to Miss and Mrs. America have also given rise to a renewed petticoat fever. So, to make sure that just the right effect is created, Mrs. Fogarty has designed her own petticoats to wear with her dresses.

Vibrant colors, exquisite textures and classic lines are blended perfectly in all Fogarty clothes and make them practical but elegant for superb living. It is the designer's careful combination of these ingredients plus the painstaking workmanship which makes the Fogarty design stand out above any other.

To round out her costumes, Anne Fogarty has designed exotic jewelry to complement her oriental-inspired clothes. Her earrings take on the shape of temple bells, pagodas or fans in a slightly dramatic effect. She carries through her heavy gold jewelry to wide cuff bracelets and artistic necklaces.

In the past few years, Anne Fogarty designs have greatly influenced the American fashion scene. For her creative talents, she has been awarded the Mademoiselle merit award, and the American Fashion Critics' Award.

Mrs. Fogarty has chosen the Grover Cronin store to personally show the current fashion trends in New England. She will present a fashion showing of her new line in the Grover Cronin Studio on Saturday, October 24 at 3:30 p.m. and afterwards will be available to talk to those present.

New Study to Be Undertaken For Toll Road

Further developments on the East-West Toll Road affecting the interests of Newton citizens were reported this week by Rep. Howard Whitmore, candidate for mayor and key member of the Toll Road Protest Committee. It has been announced that the New York engineering firm of Coverdale and Colpitts has been retained by the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority to study the present plans for the highway to ascertain whether or not the proposed route will be economically profitable and whether or not it will best serve traffic to this area.

"It is possible and even to be hoped," said Mr. Whitmore in a statement this week, "that the investigations of this impartial engineering firm will take enough time so that the General will once again be in session when the report is presented. This will permit full review of the whole turnpike question by the legislative body of the state. We understand that the study will be on a broader basis and of a more thorough nature than those studies which have to date determined the location of this highway. Although we are not yet out of the woods on this question, it is encouraging to note that the activities of the protest committee have resulted in this request for further study. We still are convinced that Newton stands to suffer seriously from the present terminus at Nickerson Field. Therefore we welcome any move that will further public understanding of all of the implications of this road way."

Improvement Ass'n Denies Backing Any Candidates

The Newton Improvement Association this week issued a denial that the group is publicly backing candidates for office in the coming municipal elections.

In a statement this week to the Graphic, President Edward J. Pease declared:

"It has come to my attention that rumors are being circulated to the effect that the Newton Improvement Association is backing certain candidates for public office."

"I want to advise your readers that the Newton Improvement Association is not backing any candidates for any office whatsoever. This question never has been discussed at any of our meetings or has the Board of Directors ever considered it."

"The Newton Improvement Association is a civic organization working only for the betterment of the village of Newton Corner."

Stein Club Praised for New Approach in The Awarding of Scholarships

The Boston Stein Club—Jewish alumni members of Massachusetts Institute of Technology—was praised by the president of the Institute for initiating a new approach in the award of scholarships.

Dr. James R. Killian, president of MIT, accepted from Abraham Shalger of Brookline, president of the club, a unique scholarship for freshmen.

The presentation was made at a dinner meeting held at the MIT Faculty Club, Cambridge, at which more than 300 prominent businessmen and industrialists were present.

The scholarship—a revolving loan fund—was the first ever set up for freshmen at MIT—and represented a "far-sighted policy," Dr. Killian said.

At the same time Oscar Horowitz of Newton, chairman of the Fund Committee, presented to Dr. Karl T. Compton, another fund to care for Technion (the MIT of Israel) graduates who came to Boston for specialized work.

When a group of hard-headed businessmen evaluate the need for helping a worthy student early in his college life—the time when he needs such financial help—then such evaluation represents a far-sighted policy that shall reap benefits, Dr. Killian said.

Dr. Compton praised the Boston chapter of the American Technion Society—the organization that supports Technion in

JOHN T. BURNS
John T. Burns, Noted Realtor, Services Held

A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated yesterday at Our Lady's Church, Newton, for John T. Burns, founder of the real estate firm bearing his name, who died Saturday at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital of a heart attack.

Mr. Burns, who was 91, was the oldest active realtor in Massachusetts. He made his home at 11 Hunnewell circle, Newton.

A native of St. John, N. B., he came to Newton in his early 20's. He took an important role in the development of Newton during the past 60 years and was recognized as the dean of realtors in suburban Boston.

Mr. Burns' first office was in Newton Corner. Now the firm has three offices in Newton and one in Wellesley. During his life-time, he constructed more than 100 homes, stores and business buildings and aided the

Blue Bird Leaders, Sponsors Begin Fall Training Program

Mrs. Nathan Kay of Newton Centre represented the Newton District Council of Camp Fire Girls at a Training Committee Workshop for Camp Fire volunteers and professional workers in Lenox last weekend. Newton District Council is a member of the Greater Boston Council of Camp Fire Girls and a "Red Feather" Service.

Agenda for the three-day Workshop stressed importance of sound training practices to keep pace with the growth of local councils and develop confidence and interest on the part of adults participating in the Camp Fire program. Improved training methods for Camp Fire group leaders and council committee members were demonstrated.

Under Mrs. Kay's direction, Newton Camp Fire leaders have had three meetings in their Fall Training Program.

Late last month, an all-morning session of orientation for Blue Bird leaders and sponsors was held at the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre. Miss Augusta Birkhead, Camp Fire Field Worker, and Mrs. Richardson Rice of the Greater Boston Camp Fire Training Committee led the discussion of new techniques for the Blue Bird play program and a review of favorite and successful methods at-ready in use. Those attending were Mrs. Benjamin Loeb, Mrs. Arnold Seligman, Mrs. Walter Kreske, Mrs. Albert Abramson, Mrs. Romaine Deacon, Mrs. Peter Coogan and Mrs. Kay.

A similar meeting of Camp Fire leaders and sponsors was conducted by Mrs. Mabel Walter of the Camp Fire Field Staff. Discussion was focussed on the significance of the Camp Fire program and the relation of group work to the development of the individual girl. Present were Mrs. Charles Renker, Mrs. Parker Smith, Mrs. Robert Young, Mrs. Leo Milner, Mrs. Russell Monto, Mrs. Peter Coogan, Mrs. Walter Harrelson and Mrs. Kay.

An outdoor session in Camp-craft took place during the morning of October on Institution Hill, Newton Centre. Miss Augusta Birkhead demonstrated techniques of firemaking, elementary woodcraft and outdoor cooking. Leaders taking part were Mrs. Samuel Stubbs, Mrs. Leon Freeman, Mrs. Irving Banquer, Mrs. Leo Milner, Mrs. Jon Glibern, Mrs. Parker Smith, Mrs. Nathan Kay and Mrs. Harrelson.

Additional meetings have been planned by Mrs. Kay to make available to Newton leaders the materials and methods discussed at the Lenox Workshop.

Accidents Are Needless

Now that hunters are taking their guns out of locked closets, the next three months may well be termed "open season on children." While all hunting accidents are needless, the maiming and killing of children as a result of the sport of hunting is particularly tragic.

An estimated total of 9,300 shooting mishaps will occur this year. About three-fifths of these deaths and injuries will occur in the field or in public places, while the remaining two-fifths will happen because of carelessness with guns in or around the home. How many children will be involved?
Last year the figure topped 2,700 killed and injured.

According to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, parents should be as gun-wary during the hunting season as battleship vets.

If you live in the country or wooded areas, don't let the children play in the fields.

Warn the children not to pick up or throw rocks at any shotgun shells they may see on the ground. Ammunition is not to be played with.

Don't let Dad toss his hunting jacket
over a chair when he comes in from hunting.
All ammunition should be cleaned out of hunting togs, placed beyond the reach of children, and locked up before the hunting clothes are even put away.

The hunting gun should be "broken down" and put safely in its case before the hunter enters the house.

When Dad cleans his gun, make sure the children are not present.

Finally, never allow a child under the age of 14 to accompany a hunter on a trip.
No matter how cautious the child or his parent, there are probably other hunters in the field. Too many of them are thoughtless and "trigger-happy."

If guns and ammunition are no more accessible to children during the hunting season than at other times, and if children are kept out of target range, the headlines need not count so many children among the hunting season casualties again this year.

The Taxes You Pay

As a result of figure-hunting by the Research Department of the National Association of Manufacturers, one of the most accurate estimates of taxes paid by typical families in New England has been completed.

Researchers are frank in saying that assumptions were made, but these were drawn from factual data available through the Federal Reserve Board and the Bureau of Labor Statistics. They believe they have hit about as close to the mark as anyone can, dealing in averages.

If the head of a mythical family earns but $2500 a year, here is how it breaks down:

Federal Taxes — $378
State Taxes — $103
Local Taxes — $112

This does not include individual income tax for he pays none, but it takes in the employment, corporation income and profits taxes, (which it is assumed we pay in one form or another) sales taxes and licenses.

The total taxes for this family are $593 or 23.7 per cent of his income.
Beginning in the next salary bracket, $3000, the family pays an income tax. Here is the total tax load for five more salary brackets.

$3000 — $745 or 24.8 percent of income
$4000 — $1093 or 27.3 percent of income
$5000 — $1526 or 30.5 percent of income
$7500 — $2766 or 36.9 percent of income
$10,000 — $4005 or 40 percent of income

Taking the same families and calculating their tax savings if four contemplated changes in federal taxes alone go through, the researchers found the following:

Savings of $35 for the $2500 family; $48 for the $3000 family; $77 for the $4000 family; $120 for the $5000 family; $262 for the $7500 family; $418 for the $10,000 family.

The four tax changes include elimination of excess profits tax, reduction of corporation income tax rate, reduction of individual income tax rates and reduction of ex-cises.

The study concludes that economy in government—for it is government on all levels that takes the taxes—is an immediate need.

But the election will be decided by the people who go to the polls and vote, not by those who stay and home or by the seers who solemnly state which candidates can and can't win.

Whitmore might be better off in one sense, if it appeared that he had more of a fight. He'll be elected, if he can draw out a reasonably substantial vote and if his back-ers don't take too much for granted.

His election looks like a sure thing—until one remembers that there aren't any sure things in politics.

Loss of Congressional Seat in Wisconsin By G.O.P. Has Given Party the Jitters

Republican politicians now will be waiting anxiously for the outcome of special Congressional elections next month in California and New Jersey as an indication of whether President Eisenhower's popularity is really falling after nine months in the White House.

The surprise Democratic victory last week in a Wisconsin election, which in the past has always gone Republican, has given G.O.P. politicians a severe attack of the shakes and shivers.

They know that the vote was a protest against the farm policies of the Eisenhower administration and a reflection of the unpopularity of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

But they're wondering if the political significance runs any deeper than that and whether the President is still as strong in the industrial areas as he was a year ago.

A number of political pundits have expressed the conviction that Ike is as popular as ever in such States as Massachusetts and that the Wisconsin upset was born of a farmbelt condition which cast no shadow upon the G.O.P. in the Bay State.

That's probably true, but the fact is that until the Wisconsin returns caused politicians across the country to sit up in astonishment, the Republican strategists were proceeding on the assumption that Ike's popularity was at an all-time high and that the G.O.P. Congressional candidates would be able to ride to victory on his coattails a little more than a year hence.

The Republicans really didn't consider it had a serious fight in the ninth Wisconsin district because no Democrat ever had been able to win a seat in Congress from that sector. They were well organized and had plenty of campaign funds. The Democratic candidate had little organization and less money.

Any general and serious drop in President Eisenhower's popularity would, of course, pose a problem for Governor Herter and Senator Saltonstall, both of whom will be standing for reelection next year. Saltonstall, particularly, would be campaigning largely on the Eisenhower record.

New Jersey may well provide some evidence a week from next Tuesday as to which way the political winds are blowing. It is a State where conditions are reasonably similar to those in Massachusetts and where the public reaction to Eisenhower would be about the same as here.

Not only is a special election scheduled to fill the place of Republican Congressman Clifford Case, who resigned, but New Jersey voters also will be choosing a new Governor.
There are factors in that gubernatorial election, however, which have nothing to do with the Eisenhower administration and which could conceivably set the stage for another political upset.

Paul L. Troast, the G.O.P. candidate, made a personal plea for clemency in behalf of Joseph S. Fay, convicted extortionist and labor leader who is now in Dannemora prison, and that is the hottest issue of the campaign.

Should the Democratic candidate win, political observers undoubtedly would interpret it as a rebuke for President Eisenhower, and yet the real reason could be Troast's solicitation for Fay.

Out in California, where there are more political nutcases to the square foot than in any other place in the United States, a special election will be held Nov.
10 to choose a successor to G.O.P. Congressman Norris Poulson who recently was elected Mayor of Los Angeles.

The Californians invariably do things just a little different from anybody else, and their State election laws provide that there should be no primary and no party designations in selecting the Congressman who will replace Poulson.

They will stage what they describe as a "sudden death" fight between four candidates, two Republicans and two Democrats.
Despatches from Los Angeles report that the Democrats hope that the two Republican contenders will split up the G.O.P. vote and that one of the Democrats will emerge as a minority choice. Why two Democrats won't also split up the Democratic vote is something we can't figure out from this distance.

Republicans are making a real bid for the Governorship down in usually Democratic Virginia which President Eisenhower carried with the help of Senator Byrd last November, but where Byrd's rule is now being challenged.

Sidney S. Kellam, campaign manager for Democratic Candidate Thomas B. Stanley, was indicted for income tax evasions during the campaign and resigned his posts after charging partisan politics in Republican control of the U.S. District Attorney's office.

Political observers believe that to a degree all these fights will reflect public feeling toward President Eisenhower and that if Ike is as popular as they surmise the G.O.P. standard-bearers all will benefit.

There's some basis for that contention,
but it's stretching a point to maintain that Ike is slipping if a Republican candidate for Governor in New Jersey loses votes because he spoke out for a labor extortionist who is not held in particularly high esteem at the moment.

United Nations Day Proclamation By

Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood

WHEREAS, October 24th has been designated by the General Assembly of the United Nations as the day to be observed throughout the world as the anniversary of the coming into force of the United Nations Charter; and

WHEREAS, during this, the eighth year of its existence, the need of the United Nations is greater than ever before, and its success depends on the extent to which its members give it support; and

WHEREAS, it is of the greatest importance that citizens in every community of this country give expression of their faith and support of the United Nations and bring hope to the peoples of other nations who are also working toward a true peace with freedom and justice for all;

NOW THEREFORE, I, Theodore R. Lockwood, Mayor of the City of Newton, do solemnly declare Saturday, October 24th a day of special commemoration in that it is the eighth birthday of the organization which can maintain peace on earth among men of good will: Bells have a deep significance in our national history and a special religious meaning to all people. They represent the peaceful pursuits everywhere, the shepherd, the camel caravan, college chimes, the call to worship;

THEREFORE, I request that every bell in this community ring out at eleven o'clock on the morning of October 24th as a reminder to every citizen to join the rest of our country in a prayer for the success of the United Nations in the belief that ultimate triumph of peace and justice through the efforts of men of good will shall prevail. Also, I call upon the officials of the Local Government, the Newton Committee for United Nations Day, Representatives of Civic, educational and religious organizations, agencies of the press, radio, motion pictures and other communication media, and all citizens to cooperate in appropriate observance of this day through the City.

Disposal of Leaves in Streets Creates a Serious Problem

The disposal of leaves in our yards and streets here in Newton is a very serious problem to most every home owner. We all enjoy the beauty and the cooling shade of the trees in the summer, but in the fall when the leaves start to fall our real trouble starts.

In many cases the leaves are raked up and placed in containers and set out for the Highway Department to collect. This is one of the safest ways to dispose of them. Some people use the leaves as a mulch to protect plants from the cold of winter.

Others use the leaves as a base for a compost and then dig them into the ground to help build up the soil.

Most people resort to burning them in the open regardless of the conditions that exist. It is this practice which causes considerable trouble. As an example, leaves are raked into the street and set on fire. The smoke blows across the street so thick that auto traffic cannot see ahead and an accident is caused.
The smoke enters the adjoining homes and cause ill feelings and people suffering with certain breathing ills are affected. One of the bad features of the burning in the open is that many people burn regardless of weather conditions, especially on windy days. In these cases it is not uncommon for such a fire to spread over a wide area and set bushes and buildings on fire.

Some people just light the fires and then let them burn unattended. In such cases trouble is sure to follow. Any time that fires are set in the open someone should stay there to watch it and be sure to extinguish it before leaving. Children should never be allowed to play around any fire in the open and should have the danger pointed out to them for their safety.

Another bad feature of burn-

Mr. Mercer has served in the Savings Department at the Newton Office, was elected assistant treasurer in 1945, and was manager of the Personal Loan Department before coming to the Wellesley Office as acting manager in July, 1952. First Unitarian Society Sermon Sun. on Servetus Servetus, the Spanish-born scholar, lawyer, doctor and theologian, who was burned at the stake in Geneva in 1553 for his unorthodox writing, will be commemorated in a sermon next Sunday morning by the Rev. John Ogden Fisher at the First Unitarian Church in Newton.

Although a contemporary of Martin Luther and John Calvin, whose names are more often associated with the Protestant Reformation of the 16th century, Michael Servetus was condemned by Calvin in his "revolt against the reformers" for trying to advance the reform toward free, rational, tolerant religion. Servetus is accredited among the spiritual founders of the Unitarian movement, together with Faustus Socinus, Giorgio Blandrata and Francis David, four centuries ago in Poland and Transylvania.

In the field of science, Servetus is numbered among the anatomists who made the nearest approach to the doctrine of the circulation of the blood.

Recruiting volunteer talent suitable for entertaining convalescents whose sense of critical discrimination has not been lessened by long months of illness seemed a formidable task last year to Mrs. James H. Orr, chairman of entertainment and supply, Newton Chapter, American Red Cross.

However, when the fall series of regular entertainments for the patients in the Mary MacArthur Respiratory Centre of the Wellesley Convalescent Home began in September, the chairman found that several busy artists had received such friendly receptions that they were willing to make return engagements.

DONALD H. GORDON

Gordon Stresses Need for Large Vote November 3

At a series of house gatherings which have been held throughout the city during the past month, Donald H. Gordon, candidate for Alderman at Large from Ward 2, has stressed the importance of having a large vote at the city elections on November 3. "We cannot allow a small fraction of the voters to determine the government for all of us," he stated. "We all have a duty to express our views by casting a ballot on November 3."

Mr. Gordon stated that little better than one out of four voters cast ballots in the last municipal elections. "With our city growing as rapidly as it is, we cannot assume that Newton will continue to maintain its high standard of government unless we all participate by voting," he said.

In discussing the issues in the coming elections at these meetings, Mr. Gordon has listed those which he feels are important and his stands. Among them are the following:

1. The equalization of voting strength in the wards.
2. Investigation of the advisability of a city incinerator to alleviate the present problem of refuse collection.
3. The creation of a central purchasing office for all city departments.
4. Elimination of inequities in the assessment of new homes.
5. The separation of election administration from the now overburdened City Clerk's office and the creation of a separate body to administer elections.
6. A change in the present method of filling vacancies on the Board of Aldermen.

Mr. Gordon lives at 391 Highland street, Newtonville, where he resides with his wife Susan and two children aged five and three. He is a graduate of Princeton College and Harvard Law School and is engaged in the practice of law in Boston. He believes that his legal experience has brought him into contact with many of the problems of city government such as real estate taxes, betterment assessments and zoning laws which will help him as a member of the Board of Aldermen.

Other favorites giving repeat performances this autumn were Miss Carole Taylor and Miss Ann DeFazio of Needham. Carole played the piano and sang, and Ann did pantomimes to records. George Wright Briggs, Jr. of the New England Conservatory and WBZ-TV, arranged a program of piano and vocal numbers.

Miss Anne Dinsmore, a student at the New England Conservatory, sang popular songs for the patients. Another much enjoyed program was that given by the "Needham Airmen", a barber-shop quartet in costume. The members of this group of singers are Harmon Shufro, Larry Zick, Ben Thomas and Dick Hawes. James H. Orr, Jr., also made his regular visit to do his imitable personal caricatures.

Homemade refreshments were served on each occasion by the hostesses, Mrs. Orr and Miss Dorothy Simpson of West Newton. "Peneche", Miss Simpson's prize poodle, who has scarcely missed one of these entertainments, continued his practice of greeting each patient individually.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Lawrence Oncley Returning Tues. from European Trip

Dr. and Mrs. J. Lawrence Oncley, with their daughter, Nancy, are returning from abroad and expect to arrive in New York on October 27. Genevieve Oncley is well known in Newton as School Committee member from Ward 2.

Dr. Oncley, in England on Fulbright and Guggenheim Fellowships, has been called home following the recent death of Edwin J. Cohn, head of the Harvard University Laboratory of Physical Chemistry Related to Medicine and Public Health. The laboratory is soon to receive the coveted Lasker Award in Science for the outstanding work on blood fractionation done there.

During her European stay Mrs. Oncley has been visiting schools and studying educational policies and methods, particularly in the Scandinavian countries. In a very recent letter to a friend she wrote, "I have been able to join a team of five overseas visitors under the auspices of the Department of Education of the University of London, which has been visiting twelve different school systems. I expect to see the chairman of the London County Council Education Committee before I leave." Mrs. Oncley also arranged to give a number of talks on American education with particular reference to the Newton school system before interested British groups.

On her return Nancy Oncley will be enrolled at F. A. Day Junior High School; her sister, Louise, is remaining abroad to complete a year's study at Bedford College in London.

Newton Highlands Ceremony Scene of Coleman and Peyrot Rites

In St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands, Miss Carolyn Coleman, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George A. Coleman of Newton Highlands, became the bride of Mr. Jan Bernard Peyrot, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Peyrot of South Milwaukee, Wis. The four o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. Richard H. Schoolmaster and a reception followed in the parish house.

The bride wore a white satin gown made with a stand-up collar, a yoke trimmed with sequins in leaf design, and long sleeves. It was fashioned by the bridegroom's mother. A satin crown similarly trimmed held in place the bride's fingertip veil of nylon tulle, and she carried a shower of carnations, stephanotis and ivy.

As matron of honor and only attendant for her sister, Mrs. Edward G. Hunter of Needham, wore a raspberry nylon tulle gown and carried a mixed bouquet.

Mr. Carl Comolli of Hartford, Conn., was best man. The bride was graduated from Northfield School for Girls and Lasell Junior College. The bridegroom served with the Netherlands Army during World War II and was graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1949.

After a wedding trip to Cape Cod, Mr. and Mrs. Peyrot will live in Glastonbury, Conn.

Salary-

tember 14, we felt that it was important for the voters to have some guarantee that future mayors would devote the time and attention which the office of Mayor in our growing city deserves. This is particularly important since there is no provision for removal of the Mayor in the city charter. The proposed raise would make Newton's chief executive the second highest paid Mayor in the state, second only to Boston.

"The League's ordinance was passed by the Board of Aldermen on October 5 by a vote of nine to seven. On October 7 Mayor Lockwood vetoed the legislation stating that 'the statute involves a large problem of proper management. . . . Section 2 could not be properly checked, nor controlled, nor enforced and therefore it is not good legislation.'"

At a special meeting of the Board the following night, the Mayor's veto was upheld by a six to six vote. A two-thirds vote of those present would have been necessary to override the veto.

"It is our feeling, based on research and several legal opinions, that the statute is constitutional. The voters of Newton have the authority to vote a salary increase. It is inherent in this power to set minimum requirements for the position for which they are authorizing the salary. An ordinance of this type is generally enforceable by suit brought in a superior court. In introducing this legislation, we were acting with the feeling that legislation of this type has its main purpose to act as a deterrent to those who might seek the office solely for personal gain."

The Board expressed the hope that the voters of Newton will be allowed to decide whether they want some minimum requirement enacted into law before any emergency situation could arise. The favorable reaction of many leading Newtonians to the League's proposal assures that the matter will not be allowed to drop.

The League Board expressed regrets that it could take no stand at this time on the ballot question of a raise in the mayor's salary to $12,000.

John H. Lehman Outlines Good YMCA Program

Principal characteristics of a good YMCA program today were set forth by John H. Lehman, executive secretary of the Two-State Committee of the YMCA's of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, at a dinner meeting for the board of directors and staff of Newton YMCA last Thursday.

Stating that the YMCA is both an educational and religious organization, Mr. Lehman said that in YMCA program members have an opportunity to see democracy at work and they should have a chance to participate in the management and planning of the local Y. Secondly, the "YMCA should have a keenly developed sense of ultimate Christian purpose and that there should be a loyalty to this purpose by a considerable number of its members," Mr. Lehman declared.

Following these principles, a YMCA should have programs, "rich and varied and appealing to a broad range of persons," Mr. Lehman stated. They should work with local agencies to help members with vocational, educational, and personal problems. They can also work with industry, and in several cities, the speaker said, foremen's clubs, made up of foremen in industrial plants, have had very successful careers.

"The YMCA can also deal with the problems created by the mobility of American population," Mr. Lehman said. "Two out of every five families move every two years, and this makes our problem of reaching people more difficult, but also provides a field of service. Often when a young man comes to a new town, the YMCA can either put him up until he finds a place to live, or find him a room with some family in town. For the program to meet these needs and others any YMCA needs a long-range financial program," Mr. Lehman declared, "and we need many more active lay leaders and committee workers."

Mr. Lehman commented upon the activities of the Newton YMCA this year, in which a building fund was begun. Respects were also paid to the men who founded the Newton YMCA on October 16, 1877.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Directors which followed Mr. Lehman's talk, Charles E. Smith, treasurer of the Building Fund reported. Dr. Prentiss L. Pemberton discussed plans for Newton's participation in the Two-State Older Boys' Conference.

H. Donald Norstrand, representative of the budget committee of Newton Community Chest, of which the YMCA is a charter member, was a special guest at the meeting. Frederick S. Bacon, president, presided. Walter B. Hatfield offered the invocation at the dinner.

Miss Guthrie's grasp of world affairs is impressive, but her charm for audience lies especially in her feeling for the human values involved in the world's struggle, and her skill in making her listeners see and feel what she has experienced. A wealth of amusing anecdotes and her humor enliven even her most serious words.

The message of Miss Guthrie is not one of defeatism and futility but of challenge and hope. Her attitude is positive, constructive, stimulating; and her audiences are left with a genuine lift of the spirit and a clearer understanding of their own part in building a new and more peaceful world.

The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, the Newton Council of Churches, the League of Women Voters of Newton, the Newton Council of Church Women, the Newton Branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom all have co-operated in making the arrangements for United Nations Day Observance in Newton.

Gibbs Putting On Active Campaign

Donald L. Gibbs of 37 Claremont street, Newton, is receiving a tremendous amount of support from all parts of the Fourth Middlesex District in his current campaign for the Republican nomination to replace the Honorable Christian A. Herter, Jr., who recently resigned. Every day prominent leaders in Newton are pledging their support to his cause.

The opening of the "Gibbs for Representative" Headquarters at 793 Washington street, Newtonville, will provide a central place for meetings and a focal point for the distribution of political literature and information. The voting lists for all the wards in the Fourth Middlesex District are posted on the walls and anyone wishing to check their registration can either go to the "Gibbs for Representative" Headquarters or telephone DEatur 2-1373.

At a crowded house rally, Gibbs said "It has been rumored that I am a reluctant candidate and that my heart and soul is not in the campaign or in service in the House. This is emphatically not true and is a deliberate misstatement of fact. It is true that I did not seek the office. I yielded to the persuasion of many of the leading citizens of Newton and when they convinced me that I was the best qualified and assured me of their complete support, I agreed to become a candidate. I have put my hand to the plow and there will be no turning back. I can assure you that I am devoting my wholehearted efforts to my campaign and will render as conscientious service to the State as I did to the City when I was a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen for nine years, ending as Chairman of the Finance Committee. I am delighted that so many outstanding leaders are actively working for me in this campaign because they know that I am looking only for an opportunity to serve the people of this District and because they know that I am the only candidate who combines nature, successful business experience with a background of outstanding public service."

Now undergoing extensive post-trace training with the 24th Infantry Division in Korea is Pvt. Francis J. Paglia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paglia of 15 Hovey street, Newton. Pvt. Paglia has been overseas since May.

—GRAPHIC SPORTS—

For the first time in close to 30 years, a Newton High School eleven ran its season-opening winning streak to four straight Saturday against highly-rated Watertown. Sparked by the pinpoint passing of quarterback Art DeStefano, the Orange and Black powered to a 28-13 victory before an overflow crowd at Watertown's Victory Field. DeStefano, whose passing was a question mark in the Newton offense before the season opened, completed his first seven tosses to shatter the Watertown defense. Before the afternoon ended, Art had a fabulous 12 for 16 passing mark good for a total of 146 yards.

It was Watertown's 100th anniversary celebration, but the Orange and Black got all the frosting off the cake. Newton hopped off to a quick lead on a 23-yard field goal (a real rarity in schoolboy football) by Paul Fitzgerald, dropped behind when Watertown marched 75 yards, and then racked up four touchdowns before Watertown could score again.

Until midway through the third stanza, it was one of the best schoolboy games you could hope to see. Both teams appeared in top form, despite pre-game injuries, and gave an exhibition of football as it should be played. . . . The game tearily opened with disaster for Newton as the kickoff was bobbled back to the goal line before Bob Lee could pick it up and get back to the 18. Ercole Iafraite was sent through right guard and popped out into daylight to electrify the throng. Hampered by a charley-horse, he didn't have the speed to outdistance a pair of defenders and was dumped from behind on the 21. Ercole fumbled, and Newton's first chance was gone.

Late in the first quarter, DeStefano moved Newton to the enemy 14 on a series of passes. When the running attack failed, Fitzgerald came into the game and pumped the ball just over the uprights for three points. Watertown retaliated with a sustained drive, aided by a roughness penalty, to lead 7-3.

With time running out in the half, Newton moved 70 yards in 10 plays to take the lead. All but 19 of the yards were gained through the air, and a penalty gave Newton five more. Bob Lee belted over from the one-yard marker to put Newton out in front for good. . . . In contrast to the first half, the finale was strictly "no contest." In the third period, Lou Kahlenbeck—who had just made a spectacular leaping grab of a 20-yard heave—took a 10-yard from DeStefano and spun out of the arms of two defenders to tally from the four. The game slipped from Watertown's hands after Newton kicked off. On the second play from scrimmage, Iafraite plucked a flat pass from the waiting hands of an astonished Watertown end and scampered 28 yards to run the score to 22-7. . . . The period ended as Watertown tried unsuccessfully to make a first down. Watertown punted to the Newton 38. DeStefano then handed off to Joe Hall on a sweep around right end behind a wall of blockers, and Joe sprinted 61 yards before being pushed out of bounds one foot from paydirt. Hall was given the ball on a plunge through left tackle for the final Newton score.

A surge born of desperation brought the Watertown fans to their feet as second-string quarterback Tony Scalzi filled the air with passes. He piloted the team to one touchdown and was on the Newton seven when the game ended. . . . Actually, the score did not indicate the difference between the two teams. One touchdown less for Newton and one more for Watertown would be more indicative, but the Orange and Black gridsters took more advantage of their opportunities than did the home team.

Not to be overlooked in evaluating the Newton eleven is their fighting spirit. It is one of the most aggressive teams ever to wear the Orange and Black, at least in recent years, and plays the game right down to the hilt. . . . So far the gridgers have acted as though they could go all the way for the Class A title, mainly because they play as a team with an absence of prima-donnas. They tackle like they mean business, which has indeed been lacking in some teams during past years. Although the season opened with apprehension over the baptism of fire expected for new head coach Bud Hawkes, Bud has welded his boys into one of the top Class A squads. . . . Newton must rate a favorite's role this Saturday when it entertains Arlington at Dickinson Stadium at 2 p.m. But the Spy Ponders are no push-overs, as attested by the fact that they played Waltham to a tie, and Waltham pulled the major upset to date of the schoolboy campaign by clobbering vaunted Haverhill 26-6. Barring a sudden letdown by the Newton eleven, the traditional Newton-Waltham tussle will probably find both squads undefeated.

Our Lady's High School is in the throes of a descent from the top of Division 2 of the Catholic League to the basement. A few years ago, when the Newton school inaugurated the sport, they started off as a perennial power in the Catholic loop. But the all-stars which once filled the Our Lady's lineup have left huge gaps, and Our Lady's dropped its third game this year in a 31-7 rout by Christopher Columbus.

Every Wednesday Is Women's Day At Health Center

Women wishing to whittle down their waistlines or drop a few pounds here and there can be seen making a deadline Wednesday's for the Waltham Health Center at 130 Newton street, Waltham.

On Wednesday's, it's strictly "For Women Only" inside the spanking-new building. This day is rapidly proving popular among the fair sex, and last week 57 of them enjoyed the facilities of the Health Center.

In charge of the array of machines inside the innocent-looking building is Mrs.

Charles Malone of Waltham. Her staff consists of three assistants and a masseur.

The strange machines inside include a walking machine, on which the customer plods for miles without moving forward an inch; a bicycle firmly anchored to the floor, that always pedals as if it is going up a hill; and a contraption that moves up and down a woman's waist to roll off the inches.

Following treatment on one or more of these contrivances, the women are thrust into a steam bath. Next comes a couch which vibrates as the masseur smooths out the knots in the women's tired muscles.

The it's out the door for another week while the male "bay window brigade" takes over.

O'Connell in Contest For Representative

William R. O'Connell, Republican, this week filed nomination papers, for state Representative to be voted for in the Fourth Middlesex District (Newton).

O'Connell in filing, said he was doing so at the request of a number of prominent members of the Republican Party and with the understanding that he was in no way interested in any controversy now existing among any of the candidates.

O'Connell, a life-long resident of Ward 2, received his primary education in Newton (Our Lady). In 1938, he graduated from Holy Cross College, where he majored in economics. The same year, he joined the Navy. Upon his release from the Navy, he joined the Miller Produce Co. In 1941, he went into business for himself. In 1944, the company of which O'Connell was then president became a licensed member of the War Shipping Administration with access to stockpiles set aside for the armed forces. In 1946, as president of the company, he received a citation from the War Shipping Administration for services rendered in the procurement of food for the War Shipping Administration vessels.

In 1949, in the interest of expansion, he became associated with Miller Produce again as a member of the firm. The company presently occupies his entire building.

O'Connell, a civic-minded business man, with proven experience and ability is a past village chairman for the community chest, a past president of the Parent's Teacher Association, past chairman of the Newtonville Civic organization that was solely responsible in securing an extended cement sidewalk for a primary school in Newtonville. O'Connell, as president of the Carr School P.T.A. first brought up the school insurance program now in effect. He is a past chairman for the Halloween Party and at present a delegate to the Newton Council of P.T.A.'s as well as chairman for the school skating program.

He is a taxpayer in Newton, Boston and Marshfield. O'Connell resides at 9 Fair Oaks avenue in Newtonville with his wife, Marjorie F. and their four children, William, Patricia, Kenneth and Cheryl Ann. O'Connell's parents, lifelong residents of Newton, are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice O'Connell who reside at 116 Adams street.

LAWRENCE E. COOKE
Lawrence E. Cooke Seeks Democratic House Nomination

Lawrence E. Cooke, attorney, of Newtonville, this week filed nomination papers with the Newton Board of Registrars as a candidate in the Democratic Primary preceding the Special Election on December 8 for State Representative from the Fourth Middlesex District.

Last month, in a Suffolk Superior Court action, Cooke succeeded in annulling a prior election date which had afforded only 24 hours for candidates to file papers. The new date of December 8 for the special election means that the Primary will be held November 17.

Cooke stated that recent events surrounding the special election in the Fourth Middlesex District have shown the voters of Newton that only a Democrat can provide the able and courageous representation at the State House that they deserve.

Attorney Cooke is a graduate of Harvard College, with honors, and of Harvard Law School. During World War II he served as a Naval Officer aboard an L.S.T. in the U. S. Navy Amphibious Forces in European waters. He is presently engaged in the general practice of law in Boston and has been active in Newton Community affairs. Candidate Cooke is married and resides with his family in his own home at 43 Walker street, Newtonville.

By WALTER CHAMBLIN, JR.

It is becoming increasingly clear that the fate of the Republican Party in next year's Congressional elections is going to depend on two things.

First: How successful the Administration will be in getting its legislative program through the House and Senate. . . . and Second: How effective the Eisenhower Administration will be in selling its record of accomplishments to the public.

Many Republicans who have been traveling through the country are returning to Washington actually astounded as to how little the public knows about what the Eisenhower Administration has done since it took office. These Republicans report that the Fair Dealers have distorted the record to the point that many people are of the opinion that no campaign promises have been kept and that things in government are continuing to move just about as they did under the last two administrations. . . . And this conclusion is drawn: That the Republicans in contests for both the House and Senate will be in major trouble with the voters in areas won or lost last year by slight margins.

Here are some highlights of things people are reported not to realize: That tax reduction is scheduled for December 31 when the excess profits and individual post-Korean income boosts expire. (The Republicans hold that these cuts should not have been effected if Truman spending had continued) . . . that the big drop in farm prices (about 18 per cent) occurred before Mr. Eisenhower took office . . . that a cut of more than $14 billion below the Truman budget has been effected . . . that two commissions are studying how to (1) cut the size of government, (2) eliminate government competition with private business, and (3) return to the States as many functions now performed by the federal government as is possible.

This list could be materially extended.

Now the Republicans making such reports also point out that the big job of the current administration is developing and enacting policies now in the study stage and then selling them to the country. The four major issues listed are: (1) a farm policy, (2) a labor policy (revision of the Taft-Hartley), (3) a tax policy and (4) a foreign trade policy. To these four could be added revision of defense policy in view of Russian possession of the H-Bomb and a definite shift from foreign economic aid to military aid.

It is the opinion of those who have been talking with the voters that the public generally approves what has been done after it has been explained to them. . . . and that the public also will approve what the administration plans to do if again it is properly explained. . . . And much emphasis is placed on the two words "properly explained."

But the Republicans will not go into this winter's crucial session of Congress as strong and united as they should or could be. There is much dissatisfaction on Capitol Hill over some of the presidential advisors at the White House who are termed the Palace Guard. This dissatisfaction is showing up in consideration of Taft-Hartley changes and it is likely, if the Palace Guard has its way, that the Republican leadership at the Capitol will lose the support of many Southern Democrats. If this split in the old Republican-Southern Democratic coalition (which enacted Taft-Hartley over Mr. Truman's veto) should occur, the Administration would be in major trouble.

There is much speculation over how the new Secretary of Labor, James P. Mitchell, will fit into this Taft-Hartley situation. In this connection it should be borne in mind that the Secretary of Labor is expected to look out for the interests of labor. Aside from this, those who know Mr. Mitchell give this appraisal: He will be favorable to labor. . . . He will try to make himself acceptable to labor. . . . He will represent a liberal view.

point . . . too liberal to suit business. . . . but will not be a crusader. . . . will be glad to talk with business and, as one person expressed it: Mr. Mitchell will be a better appointment for business as Secretary of Labor than Harry Hopkins was as Secretary of Commerce.

--- Food For Thought ---

By MARY O'MALLEY, NUTRITION EDITOR, N. E. DAIRY AND FOOD COUNCIL

Wise parents will set a good example by eating the right foods themselves. They assume children will eat and enjoy the food that's served.

Besides their own good idea of what a child can eat, so children's plates get smaller servings, particularly of new foods. Plates of food are more attractive to children if one food stands out separately from others on his plate. The experts in child training say it's most important to let children ask for more.

Even though it may tax a parent's tolerance, some table accidents have to be expected. With experience, a child loses awkwardness and gains good manners. Pleasant stimulating conversation is better for the child than scolding.

A child's activity when away from the table has also a bearing on eating habits. Out-of-door play makes appetites keener. A "quieting" time just before meals relaxes children. Washing up, helping to put food on the table, inviting the other members of the family to the table . . . these tasks are a pleasant sequence.

Let children go marketing for the family sometimes, and add to mother's list some whole-some foods of their own choosing. Help children learn to cook and serve. Sometime let them do a simple meal alone.

SHOPPERS' WORLD TRIP WINNER EXAMINES PLANE MODEL

Mrs. Juliana Sautner, German war bride who won the Trip of a Lifetime contest Thursday, shows her two children, Juliet, left, and Marian, right, a model of the TWA plane in which they will fly home for Christmas. Mrs. Sautner, who lives in Needham, will also be accompanied by her husband, Joseph, on her first trip home since she left her native Wurtsburg in 1947.

Boy Scout Activities

Back in the swing again, Cubs, Scouts and Explorers throughout Newton, Wellesley and Weston, have completed a highly successful season of summer Scouting activities and are planning now for the fun, advancement and service opportunities coming up this fall, winter and spring.

Even as the Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Scout Posts begin their regular meetings, they are getting ready for a "Paul Bunyan" fun week-end to be held at Nobscot Reservation in Sudbury-Framingham starting October 17. Attendance at this annual event has been increasing each year until now it rates as one of the most popular of all Norumbega Council's projects. This year, as in the past, there'll be plenty of camping, contests, "loot," and a real old-fashioned outdoor campfire.

During this past summer, Scouts of Norumbega Council participated in the third National Jamboree held in Santa Ana, California, the "wagon trip" to the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico, a wilderness canoe trip through northern New England, summer camping at Camp Quinapoxet in New Hampshire and an Explorer Air Week-end at Otis Air Base, Massachusetts.

Explorer Scout Air Week-end Just last month some 114 Explorers and Scouters encamped at Otis Air Base. They were permitted close-up views of the Air Force's interceptor jet fighters and chatted at length with several pilots. Many of the Explorers showed remarkable knowledge of the fundamentals of jet aviation. The group visited the control tower, weather station, crash crew station and the base training center. At each point able technicians of the Air Force described the operations conducted. Not the least of attractions was observation of jet airplanes taking off, flying low over the base and landing. The group also saw an official film detailing the phases of operations involved in a bombing mission against German industrial targets in World War II, from the initial high level staff conferences to intelligence reports following the return of the flights to England.

On the second day of the week-end, the Explorers inspected the crash boat dock at the base. Each was fitted out with regulation Mae West jackets and taken on a demonstration cruise about Cape Cod Canal.

Wilderness Canoe Trip The largest and best canoe trip in the Council's history was another Scouting highlight. The trip took 25 Scout and Scouters, in 12 aluminum canoes, along a 75-mile route of lake and stream through the Kezar Lake region and down the Saco River in southwestern Maine.

Glorious sunsets and marvelous vistas of the Presidential Range were features of the trip. Fishing licenses were obtained by eighteen of the travelers and the results of the anglers efforts were the best in many years.

Some valuable lessons in canoeing were taught along the way. Wind and fog at times proved the advantage of the training cruise mandatory before the voyage began. Heading for church across Kezar pond one morning, the voyageurs were beset by fog. Making excellent use of their compass knowledge, they were able to cross the several miles of pond and strike their destination within 50 feet.

Philmont "Wagon Train" Horseback riding, mountain climbing and real western living featured the summer of eleven Norumbega Council Scouts. They were treated to some grand opportunities to gather on-the-trail experience at the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico. Bronco busting, archery, riflery and numerous western skills were the order amid the colorful hills and valleys of the 200 square-mile

Coty Exhibition

The many friends of Sophia G. Coty, talented young Newton artist, will be pleased to know she is holding an exhibition of water color paintings at the Copley Society Galleries, 561 Boylston street, Copley Square, and continuing through Friday, October 30th.

All art 'lovers', particularly those interested in water color techniques will be delighted with this exhibition.

Mrs. Coty's unique ability as a portraitist in water color has brought distinct acclaim from a wide circle of contemporary artists and laymen alike. Her extraordinary talent with this difficult medium will delight the devotees of water color portraiture.

Over 20 paintings, including landscapes and florals as well as portraits, are being exhibited. The public is invited.

Joan H. Manley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Manley of 150 Pleasant street, Newton Centre, has been named a justice in the Women's Court of Justice at the University of Massachusetts.

Scout-owned ranch on the Santa Fe Trail.

The addition of the new "Cheyenne" tent unit at the summer camp in West Rindge, New Hampshire, increased capacity to 180 Scouts this year. And the camp was very nearly jam-packed all season.

The camp program offered many diverse activities. Water-front features were swimming, life saving practice, boating and canoeing. Hiking included a three-day trip to Mount Monadnock and shorter trips to Mount Barrett, Mount Temple and the Cathedral of the Pines. Nature study taught conservation and fire control, as well as the study of insects, birds and reptiles. In addition to the work the Scouts did toward advancing up the ladder of individual merit, unit projects included such things as signal tower construction, establishment of outpost camps, clearing underbrush and duties improving camp life on many counts.

New Scout Year Underway Now the regular activities of Scouting are rolling into high gear in Norumbega Council. The Cub Packs and Dens, Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Scout Posts are already holding their regular meetings, practicing Scouting skills and performing community services.

It's not too late to join the Scouts. Interested boys and parents can obtain the names of Scout leaders and information about units in their immediate localities simply by getting in touch with the Norumbega Council office at 259 Walnut street in Newtonville.

Studebaker's 1,912,340th postwar automobile which came off the assembly lines a few days ago had an especial significance for the century-old Indiana automobile firm. It took Studebaker exactly 20 years to build 1,912,340 cars and trucks prior to World War II, but only slightly less than ten years to build the same number since the war ended. Executive vice president P. O. Peterson in charge of manufacture, and K. B. Elliott, in charge of sales, left to right, were on hand as the record-establishing car, a Commander 5-Passenger coupe, came off the line in South Bend and was prepared for shipment.

Precautions Urged to Protect Older Persons From Accidents

What can be done to protect older persons against the rising tide of home and public accidents is a question now engaging the attention of more than three million families throughout the country who have relatives over 65 living with them.

The seriousness of the problem is revealed in a study completed recently by the Institute for Social Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, which shows that a high percentage of accidents involving persons over 65 result in their death or permanent crippling injury.

Present day economic problems and a rapidly increasing population over 65 makes this a heavy responsibility for all members of the family, the Institute points out. Recent achievements in public health and medicine have reduced the death rate by disease in older age brackets, but the accident rate continues to increase. Accidents, principally around the home, result in death or permanent crippling injury for more than 300,000 older persons each year.

Falls comprise the worst hazard type of all, and account for more than 75 per cent of these mishaps. Fifty-eight per cent of the falls occur on home stairways and, strangely enough, on level walk surfaces too.

The Institute lists some of the more important measures that can be taken to safeguard your loved ones over 65.

Whether elderly persons live with you or just come to visit, do all you can to make their quarters convenient and free of obstructions.

Provide "one floor living" for them wherever possible. Provide bright, shadow-free lighting in all rooms used by them. Night lights are recommended in bedrooms, hallway and bath.

Try to provide assistance to older persons when stairs must be used; keep stairs free of obstructions and well lighted. Handrails are a must on all stairs and steps. Store all commonly used household items, such as dishes and utensils in easily reached places so that climbing or over-reaching is unnecessary.

Show them how to operate any of the newer electrical or gas appliances, stove or heaters in your home. Keep your home "fire safe." Remember that the danger from fire increases when elderly persons are present.

Provide them comfortable but safe footwear, with non-slip soles and sturdy medium heels. Encourage elderly persons not to engage in work or chores that are beyond their physical capacity.

When it can be avoided, do not burden grandparents with the responsibility of baby sitting. Tactfully provide a younger escort when walks on the street or in public are undertaken by aging persons whose sight, hearing or physical reactions endanger them.

Younger persons often fail to recognize the waning physical and mental abilities of older persons until it is too late, cautions the Institute. Constant alertness of family members will help to prevent an accidental tragedy in your home.

What Shall We Eat...

...French Omelet

A French omelet is a refinement of scrambled eggs. You don't stir at all, but use a far more gentle treatment. Before it's finished and folded, turnover style, there's a filling set inside.

Let a tasty, golden omelet brighten your breakfast. Here's the complete menu plan: Fruit juice, French omelet, toast and butter, and milk; plus a hot beverage if you wish.

French omelets are at their best when made in small quantities, so here's a recipe to serve two. You'll need three eggs and three tablespoons milk, salt and pepper, and one tablespoon butter. Mix eggs, milk, and seasonings thoroughly.

Heat butter in skillet just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water. Pour in egg mixture. Reduce the heat; slow cooking will keep your omelet tender and moist.

As the mixture at the edges begins to thicken and loosen, lift the cooked portions with a fork toward the center so that the uncooked portions flow to the bottom. Tilt skillet so it is necessary to flatten the flow of uncooked eggs. Please, do not stir. When eggs no longer flow and surface is still moist, increase heat to brown bottom quickly. Carefully loosen edge. Fold in half or roll. Total cooking time will be 5 to 8 minutes.

One of our favorite variations is to place the bits of chopped ham or bacon on a breakfast omelet before folding. This French Omelet will serve a family.

FRENCH CHEESE OMELET
6 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
6 tablespoons milk
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup shredded cheese

Beat eggs with seasonings and milk until well mixed. Melt butter in large skillet. Maintain a moderate heat and pour egg mixture into pan. Cook for 8 to 10 minutes until eggs are set. If mixture is very crust it is advisable to lift lower crust with spatula to allow liquid to reach bottom of pan when omelet is half done. When eggs are firm, sprinkle grated cheese over top of omelet, and fold over. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

Studebaker School Trains Mechanics

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—The old adage "You can't teach an old dog new tricks" is being disproved practically every day in South Bend, Ind., where The Studebaker Corporation maintains a year-round service school for automobile mechanics and service managers.

Instructors say that veteran automobile men are learning new "tricks" every day as older methods of servicing cars and trucks are discarded in favor of newer ones which do the job more efficiently and at less cost to the car owner.

Pouring into the school each year from all over the U. S. and from many foreign countries are hundreds of mechanics and service men. Their objective is the same: to learn the newest and most advanced methods of servicing Studebaker cars and trucks. Study groups are kept numerically small so that individual attention may be given each student by the instructor. An average group has from eight to ten students. Several such groups, each studying a different phase of automobile maintenance under an experienced instructor, are usually in session at the same time.

The "students", whose ages range from the late teens to the 60's, are sent to the school by Studebaker dealers so that their service departments will be thoroughly familiar with the latest maintenance aids and operations. Some of the students enroll in the school every year, others are asked to send service representatives each year so that Studebaker cars and trucks will be serviced only by trained men using the most modern equipment and methods.

Local Studebaker dealer is McCormick Motors, Inc., 4185 Washington street, Roslindale.

Of Sincere Greeting

A handshake can often be the most maddening form of greeting in the world. Limp, fishlike handshakes are often apt to leave a new guest wishing he'd gone to another party. They contradict the warmth they were originally intended to symbolize. Shake hands with character, grasping the extended hand firmly and releasing it quickly. Don't pump it up and down. Look at the person you're greeting to make him feel your friendliness.

Member banks of the Federal Reserve First District had net profits amounting to $20,600,000 during the first half of 1953. That surpassed by 13% the net profits for either half-year period of 1952.

Whitmore's Election Next Tuesday Regarded as Certain . . . Outstanding Legislator Should Make Excellent Mayor . . .

Representative Howard Whitmore, Jr., will be elected as Newton's next Mayor, when the voters go to the polls Tuesday for their municipal election, and he should prove one of the best chief executives in the city's history.

Any remote possibility of an astounding upset appears to have been eliminated as a result of the drive made by Whitmore and his supporters to get out the vote.

The greatest obstacle Whitmore has had to surmount has been the public apathy stemming from the belief that his election was a foregone conclusion and that he couldn't be beaten.

His opponent is former Alderman Walter A. Hodgdon, who, of course, is hoping for one of the amazing surprises that occasionally occurs in politics, when the candidate condemned to defeat by the experts, walks the last mile and suddenly plays the executioner.

Non-partisan Information

Annual Votemobile Service To Distribute Literature Today

The annual cavalcade of Votemobile operators, sponsored at each election time by members of the League of Women Voters, will again be seen on the streets of Newton today.

The League of Women Voters' Votemobile Service will operate five station wagons today (Thursday) to provide non-partisan information to the residents of Newton to help them vote intelligently on election day, November 3.

League members will supply information regarding wards, precincts and places of voting. They will also have available reprints of a League Questionnaire which was sent to the candidates and which lists the candidates' qualifications for office and their views on important issues. This reprint of the Questionnaire will help the voter become better acquainted with the candidates and the issues at large.

Station wagons will be parked for the better part of the day in Newtonville, Newton Center, West Newton and Newton Corner. The fifth station wagon will travel to other Newton areas. League members will also be at some of the Newton railroad stations from 7:30 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. on October 29 to provide similar services to voters.

Mrs. James Lewis is in charge of the Votemobile project. The following committee is assisting her:

Mrs. John Worcester, Mrs. Seymour Getter, Mrs. Benjamin Blumenberg, Mrs. Frank Kaplan, Mrs. Maurice Strauss, Mrs. John Schulman, Mrs. Elmer Rigelhaupt, Mrs. Leon Sternfeld, Mrs. J. Bernard Everett, Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, Mrs. Norman Erskine, Mrs. Chester Lipsett, Mrs. Manuel Beckwith, Mrs. William Endlar, Mrs. Edward Shapiro, Mrs. Frank Day, Mrs. Charles Marran.

Air Raid Test

Eight Cities and Towns to Participate Sunday, Nov. 15

William J. Baxter, Director of Civil Defense for the City of Newton, announces that on Sunday afternoon, November 15, a test will be held in Sector 4 which embraces eight cities and towns, including the City of Newton.

The public warning system will be used and at 1:30 p.m. a Red Alert will be sounded, followed immediately upon sounding the Red Alert, all traffic will be halted and pedestrians must leave the streets.

We have asked for strict enforcement of this regulation and in addition to the regular police, on duty, the Auxiliary Police will be manning strategic intersections in order to carry out the enforcement.

Public co-operation in every way is requested and drivers of cars will pull to the side of the road, turn off their motors and remain there until the All Clear is sounded.

Remember: The Red Alert at 1:30 will be a three-minute warning siren.

Remember: The All Clear at 1:45 will be three one-minute blasts with two minutes of silence between each.

Signers Seek Nov. 2 Session With Ald'men

The aldermen's informal action last week in giving the green light to a $300,000 expansion of city incinerator was vigorously protested Monday morning in a pair of petitions filed in the city clerk's office.

The petition, bearing a combined total of 303 names, objected to the proposed cooking of garbage at the incinerator and asked for a public hearing on their protest at Monday's meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

The majority of the signatures were secured in areas surrounding the city incinerator, which is located on Elliot street in Newton Highlands, a spokesman for the signers reported. The spokesman declared that residents near the incinerator were "about 100 per cent" against the expansion and the garbage-cooking plan.

Of the 303 signatures, 269 objected to the garbage cooking and 35 both protested and asked for

Mrs. Abbie J. Hall Enters 100th Year Tomorrow in W.N.

Mrs. Abbie J. Hall, formerly of Danvers, will enter her hundredth year when she celebrates her ninety-ninth birthday tomorrow (Friday) at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bela Sziklas, 145 Highland street, West Newton.

Many relatives and friends from the First Unitarian Society in Boston, headed by the Rev. John Ogden Fisher, minister, and Mrs. Harry E. Raymond, president of the West Newton Branch Alliance, are expected to call to offer their congratulations.

Mrs. Hall, the oldest person on the parish list of the West Newton Unitarian Church, has a remarkable memory, recalling names of her daughter's friends whom she has met only occasionally of recent years, and with a vast store of incidents of her early life.

Last Sunday's church calendar of the West Newton Unitarian Church called attention to Mrs. Hall's birthday.

Assessors Are Upheld by Appellate Bd.

The Newton Board of Assessors today announced that the Massachusetts Appellate Tax Board had upheld the Board's assessment of valuation in the case of an appeal involving the real estate located at 106 Nevada street, Newtonville.

The owners, because of their dissatisfaction with the assessment of $8,000 placed on their home, applied first to the Newton Board of Assessors for an abatement in 1952. The application was denied and an appeal was taken. Following the hearing of the case the above decision was given. The Board in commenting on the case said that it is the function and duty of the Assessors to review their assessments periodically to determine whether they are equitable, and that taxpayers are being taxed as near as possible on the fair value of their property.

This equalization of values may mean a reduction of assessments in some cases and an increase in others, depending somewhat on the sales price in any given neighborhood. The Board said further that frequent surveys are necessary in order to meet to a degree the constantly changing real estate market.

Father and Son Night Observed

Last Friday evening ninety Dads and sons participated in the Father and Son evening sponsored by the Youth Division of the Newton Y. M. C. A.

Dads and their sons enjoyed an evening of swimming, bowling, playing checkers, competing in ping pong and other activities that the members usually take part in. Following the activity period, all went upstairs for a brief new member induction ceremony. This was conducted by John Danielson and David Potts, youth secretaries of the Newton Y. M. C. A. Following this induction, movies were shown.

The Father and Son evenings are a part of the boys' program of the Newton Y. M. C. A. and are held monthly. The Newton Y. M. C. A. is a member agency of the Community Chest.

Top Interest In Mayor Race, Pay Question

Following one of the quietest campaigns in recent years, a light vote is expected Tuesday when Newton voters go to the polls from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. to elect a new mayor and at least seven new members of the Board of Aldermen.

Topping the ballot in interest is the mayoralty race between Walter A. Hodgdon of 22 Elliot terrace, Newton Upper Falls, and State Rep. Howard Whitmore, Jr., of 54 Carver road, Newton Highlands. Both have previously served the city as aldermen, and Mr. Hodgdon was formerly an assistant assessor.

Probably ranking second in interest to the campaign for mayor is the referendum question on increasing the salary of the city's chief executive from $9000 at present to $12,000, effective next year.

The Newton Taxpayers Association and the League of Women Voters sought to have a "full-time mayor" provision attached to the salary increase referendum, but their proposal was vetoed by Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood after the aldermen approved it by a narrow margin. The veto was subsequently upheld by a 6-6 tie in a special aldermen's meeting.

In the aldermanic race, seven candidates for re-election are assured of extending their terms by two years due to a lack of opposition. Although some write-in votes may be entered against them, it is doubtful if there would be enough to sweep an unlisted name into office.

The largest number of candidates involved in a single contest is for alderman-at-large representing Ward 3. Joseph B. Davis of 40 Cross street, West Newton, is seeking to retain his seat on the board, while James J. Bagley of 934 Watertown street, West Newton; William E. Halliday, Jr., of 110 Cherry street, West Newton; Francis M. "Chick" Morris of 10 Harding

Spotlight On Weeks

Edited by Willa Goldberg

It was Wed. Oct. 21, 9:07 a.m. The auditorium was filled with pupils and teachers gathered to view the second schoolwide assembly. The officers and division representatives were there to take an oath of office.

The president, Elaine Solomon; vice-president, Kent Barrabee; secretary, Alice Chester; and treasurer, Susan Gordon, had been sworn in by 9:15. Excepting Kent, who is an eighth grader, the officers are ninth graders.

Seated on the stage and in the front of the hall were a regular and an alternate member from each of the 29 divisions, editor of the "Spotlight," cafeteria squad captains, six parents, six teachers, Miss King, vice-principal, and Mr. Blaisdell, principal.

We had three speakers, Mr. Colvin, Mrs. Blaisdell and Ted Broad. He was last year's Council president. Elaine Solomon told what the council hopes to accomplish this year.

At 9:50, the assembly adjourned and it was "back to classrooms."

Everybody is talking about our cute cheerleaders and wondering who they are. They are Jo Feldman, Betty Carter, Sally Foote, Carol Ellis, Carol Colburn, Pauline Reardon, Barbara Bowers, Alice Chester, Linda Pearlstein, Ada Nazzarro, Linda Michaelson, and Susan Ziman.

Under the leadership of Miss Thompson and Miss Allan, our cheerleaders are trying to promote spirit and keep the morale of the team high. "Good luck, girls."

by Leslie Madfis

If you had come to Weeks on Mon. night, Oct. 19, you would have seen the parents of our own Weeks' students, attending classes.

Each class, instead of being the usual 41 minutes, was 8 minutes long. (Our parents get all the breaks.)

Our parents didn't come to school to decline verbs, or to "parlez-vous francais." (They probably couldn't do it anyway!) but to learn how each subject is taught, and how much we have accomplished, thus far.

Proper TV Installation, Care Urged to Lower Fire Hazards

The rapid increase in the use of television receivers has brought a flood of inquiries as to the relative fire and life hazards of television sets, and as to their proper use and installation of their antenna system.

Since television operates on essentially a line-of-sight basis, proper reception usually necessitates an exterior antenna and, as distance from the television transmitter increases, the antenna must of necessity extend higher in elevation. This increases somewhat the possibility of damage by lightning, and, as the antenna is usually mounted on a pole or tower on the roof, there is a possibility that, unless installed and supported, the system may fall in high winds, dropping across power lines or injuring persons or property.

Arresters for ordinary aerials are not suitable for television, but proper arresters are available. These arresters should be placed on each conductor of a ribbon-type lead-in. If a co-axial cable is used for a lead-in, suitable protection will be provided by an arrester connected to the outer sheath or by grounding the outer sheath, in which case the arrester may be omitted.

Where the antenna is mounted on a metal pole or tower, the pole or tower should be properly grounded. Opinions vary as to the size of the grounding conductor; the National Electrical Code requires not smaller than No. 14 AWG, but under some conditions, such as a high metal tower, it should approach the dimensions of a lightning rod down conductor or a No. 6 wire. The ground conductor should be connected to a suitable ground such as an underground pipe, and if the building is equipped with a lightning rod system, it should be properly bonded to this system.

The type of lead-in commonly used is the polyethylene ribbon type. Although this material burns much like rubber, and falls in flaming drops, its use for this purpose is not considered particularly hazardous. Recent improvement of the polyethylene lead-in, although still flammable, has eliminated the flaming drops. The co-axial cable lead-in is generally considered the best from the fire hazard viewpoint, but is considerably more expensive and has operational disadvantages.

Considerable care should be given to the mechanical stability of the antenna and its supports. Where located on the roofs of buildings, the antenna and supporting guys should not be located so as to interfere with operations of the fire department or where they are liable to cross with electric power lines.

Curtain Is Ready To Rise On Huge Hallowe'en Celebration Saturday

250 Separate Parties to Be Held in City

Howard Whitmore, Jr., general chairman of Newton's 13th successive Hallowe'en celebration, as he has been for several previous years, announced that preparations are complete for the upwards of 250 separate neighborhood parties to be held throughout the city for more than 14,000 school children of all ages.

In commenting on the immense amount of thought and time and work "in to the forthcoming celebration, Mr. Whitmore paid warm tribute to the 1500 men and women committee members who have given themselves generously and devotedly to this great city-wide enterprise. "Their spirit of unselfish co-operation," he said, "makes possible a civic event which, I believe, is unparalleled anywhere in the country. Certainly, it is a source of gratification to me to have the privilege and pleasure of being associated in a common cause with such earnest and co-operative fellow-citizens."

Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, chairman of the Program Committee, who is constantly in touch with the many building chairmen, expressed her delight with the program situation in every key location. "All committees," she said, "have done a wonderful job in shaping up programs suited to every age level. They've got their schedule of events well in hand; and from looking at the all-over picture, I can say that our school children are going to participate in parties that they'll remember for a long time to come."

Final reports on progress are now being received by Mrs. Hovgaard from building chairmen. The following are the latest:

More than 360 first to sixth graders of the Cabot School, Newtonville, will gather at parties running from 5:30 to 7 o'clock for the lower grades, and from 7:30 to 9 for the upper. There will be parades, community singing accompanied by a pianist, movies, games, refreshments, plus a variety of unrevealed surprises, according to Mrs. Louis J. Galner, building chairman.

The seventh, eighth and ninth grades, to the number of 175, who will have their parties at the Normandie Room, Norumbega Park, Auburndale, will have a gay evening dancing to the tunes of an orchestra, reports Mr. Stanley M. Rowland, building chairman. In addition, "the program includes continuous games, continuous movies, a fortune teller, dozens of prizes and refreshments. This party will begin at 8:30 and run until 10:30.

Mrs. Philip Stoner, building chairman of the Murray Road School, Auburndale, celebration, expects at least 100 children from kindergarten age through the fourth grade. On entering the school, the young people will enjoy a Hall of Fun, then have games in the separate rooms from 6:30 to 7 o'clock; after that there will be movies in the gym, followed by refreshments in the classrooms. Mrs. Stoner announces that Mrs. Barbara Wood has joined the kindergarten committee, and that Mrs. James Burns has been appointed building co-chairman. Mr. Hubert Jenkins will provide the movies and operate the projector.

From all indications, the parties for 350 kindergartners through sixth graders will be one of the biggest and best ever held in that school. Mr. James L. Carey, building chairman, and his committee, have planned a program that includes room activities of every kind, movies, refreshments, and, as a special feature, a lively stage entertainment, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Connell. Many games will also be played, and there will be favors for everybody. Room mothers will be in charge of the classroom festivities, functioning under the general direction of Mrs. Joseph Leone.

Mr. L. Carleton Merrill and Dr. Thomas Hayden, respectively chairman and co-chairman of the Davis School parties, expect an attendance of 275 boys and girls. The parties will run from 6:45 to 9:15 p.m. Scheduled to begin the evening is a costume parade, directed by Mr. John Pauler. Mr. Fred Hagelstein will show movies, and refreshments will be handled by Mrs. Robert Giles. A special feature will be a guitar player who will sing and lead songs in the various classrooms. Games will be in charge of Mrs. Norman Kennedy, assisted by room mothers.

An additional highlight for the fourth, fifth and sixth graders will be a Chamber of Horrors, supervised by Mr. Guy Litchfield, Jr., who promises "plenty of surprises here."

Mrs. Sidney M. Brown, building chairman for the kindergarten and first to third grade parties at the Underwood School, Newton, reports that "a gala program is planned, with an outstanding TV celebrity. A beloved personality has offered his time as master of ceremonies, and many surprises and gifts await the children." Assisting Mrs. Brown are: Mrs. Stephen Zebol, Mrs. Alfred Marcus, Mrs. Arthur Karol, Mrs. Edward Di Lorenzo, Mrs. Allen Hatch, Mrs. William Cotter, Mrs. Kenneth Yerkes, Mrs. John Cochrane, Mrs. Ed Hodgkins, Mrs. Richard Foley, Mrs. Robert Burns, Mrs. Paul Rich, Mrs. Raymond Wilbar, Mrs. Robert Bell, Mrs. Lowell Thompson, Mrs. Glen Warner, Mrs. Eugene Anderton, Mrs. Cyril Maybee, Mrs. David Jennings, Mrs. Charles Heffron, Mrs. Fred Lenox, Mrs. Kenneth Gleason, Mrs. Anton Villagas, Mrs. John Coleman, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. John Lannigan, Mrs. J. Stone and Rev. Archibald Macmillan.

An additional report from Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gilvar, building chairman of the party for the students of the Day Junior High School, to be held in the Senior High gym, from 7:30 to 10 p.m., states that the Program Committee headed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Katz, and the Dance Committee headed by Mr. and Mrs. Guy King, have had a meeting with the Student Council of the school and completed final details for an evening fun, and that "the students of the Day Junior High are anticipating a grand time." Among the special dances will be a Mexican Hat Dance, Snowball Dance, Ball-on-the-forehead Dance, Spot Dance, Cocktail Dance, Virginia Reel, and so on. Trophies will be awarded to the best dancers, and prizes will be given to the winners of the many games to be supervised by Mr. Dwight Rideout, chairman of the Games Committee, who is being assisted by Mrs. Emerson and Mr. Eldert. Mr. Rideout says that some very unusual games are in store for the boys and girls.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

That could happen only if all Hodgdon's supporters went to the polls and most of Whitmore's stayed home, a situation which Whitmore has taken some pains to prevent.

Had Governor Herter and his advisers been able to foresee the turn of events on Beacon Hill, they probably would have persuaded Whitmore to remain out of the mayoralty contest and pursue his legislative career.

But Whitmore had committed himself to running for Mayor, when the sudden death of the late Roy C. Smith projected him into the chairmanship of the House ways and means committee, and it was too late to turn back.

A keen and sound legislator who was able to grasp the intricacies of State finance and an able debater who could think rapidly on his feet, Whitmore was one of the outstanding G.O.P. leaders in the House of Representatives.

He advanced quickly in the House during the past few years, and he would have been a logical choice to succeed Speaker Charles Gibbons when the latter stepped out to seek higher office.

It is Whitmore, however, who is stepping out, and it is ironic that he is doing it at almost the same time as Representative Christian A. Herter, Jr.

As soon as he clears up his unfinished legislative business, Whitmore will resign to devote himself to his mayoralty duties, and a special election will be called to fill his place.

Newton is fortunate in getting a man of his caliber as Mayor, but his departure from the Republican lineup on Beacon Hill is the subject of some concern for the G.O.P. high command.

Question Facing Gov. Herter is Just Where to put the New Central Artery

Some shocking and astonishing disclosures are coming out of the controversy over the construction of a $100,000,000 Central Artery through downtown Boston.

One is that this tremendous project was started during the administration of ex-Governor Dever without knowing where the road was going.

The second is that it is gradually becoming apparent that millions of dollars of the people's money are being spent to build a highway that Boston doesn't really want.

The purpose of the project is to relieve congestion in downtown Boston streets at a cost of at least $40,000,000 a mile. But engineers will privately tell you that after the Central Artery is completed and in use there will be just as much congestion as ever on town streets.

This is just another of the problems and headaches which were dropped into Governor Herter's lap, when he assumed office last January. He didn't make the decision to build the Central Artery, and he didn't plan its route.

When he became Governor, he found a great monstrosity of steel jutting into the air in Boston's North End, where the rubble and shambles of razed buildings resembled a scene that might have been left by enemy bombing planes.

Plans on file called for the erection of the overhead artery to Fort Hill Square. But where it was to go from there nobody knew.

Now the question facing Governor Herter and Boston's Mayor John B. Hynes is: To what extent should a metropolitan city be wrecked to build a highway? Boston's teeming North End and market district already have been partially destroyed to make room for a road that so far isn't going anywhere except into the air.

Boston, which in recent years has been frantically reaching out to attract new industries, certainly can't afford to lose any it now has unless it is to become a municipal shell and a relic of past greatness.

Yet, one plan which has been suggested would drive the leather industry out of the city. When that proposal drew screams of outraged protest, an alternate scheme was advanced which would force the garment industry out of the Hub and wipe out most of Chinatown.

All this, of course, would be at the expense of the motorists of Massachusetts, for all the buildings which are levelled into piles of brick and dust must be paid for by the State.

The engineers who have been planning this highway remind us of a small boy drawing a straight line between two points. Their objective is to build a highway, and anything which stands in the path of the road must come down. The fact that it's just a bit incongruous to ruin a great city in order to build a highway doesn't seem to occur to them.

If the consequences of this Central Artery project were fully realized in advance, if it had been recognized that instead of helping Boston at great expense to the public of the entire State, it might wreck the State's capital city beyond all repair, this plan might never have been undertaken.

It wasn't until buildings began to crumble before the blows of demolition crews and huge bulldozers that the full impact of Chinatown, between downtown Boston and the general public.

The die had been cast before Governor Herter moved into the State House, and now the road has to go somewhere. If it is veered off so that it causes a little havoc and destruction as possible, it won't actually serve the purpose for which it was intended—a great highway to carry traffic in and out of downtown Boston.

And if engineers stand fast to their original objective, there won't be much of any city left to serve by the time they're finished. It's likely that Governor Herter ultimately will conclude that saving a city is more important than building a road and that this artery will be detoured off onto Atlantic avenue and past the South Station when all the shouting subsides.

The bewildered Chinese have assumed the pathetic role of buffets and pawns in this great debate over building a road. If Boston's garment industry is uprooted, it can move to another centre. But there just isn't any place for the Chinese to go.

They live now as a colony, peacefully and contentedly, in a small area known as Chinatown, between downtown Boston and the South End, troubling no one, serving the people who patronize their restaurants and stores, quietly going their own way.

They are little expense to the city. No Chinese has ever been on the welfare rolls. They take care of their own. When a Chinaman becomes sick or destitute, his fellow countrymen provide for him. That's no reflection on anyone else. It's simply the way the Chinese do things.

Their problem is that if they are uprooted there is no place to which they can turn. Where can they go as a colony? To Dedham? To Needham? To Newton? To West Roxbury or Roslindale? There isn't an area available to which they could move! What could the city do with them or for them?

To them the span of steel extending into the air in the North End must have some of the aspects of an approaching monster threatening their homes and business places. And in one sense it looms as a monster which is swallowing portions of Boston in devastating gulps.

And not only the motorists of Boston but those in Needham and Dedham, in Newton and Waltham, in communities across the State, are paying the bills for a road looking for a place to go.

Ike's Popularity Drops in Gallup Poll . . .

Dr. Gallup has given Republican politicians the shakes and shivers by reporting that President Eisenhower's popularity tumbled 10 percentage points between mid-September and mid-October. In that time, says the eminent pollster, the percentage of people who liked Ike dropped from 75 to 65.

We have often wondered where Dr. Gallup makes his poll and whom he quizzes to produce his statistics, and we have never known anyone who ever was questioned by a Gallup pollster, though that may merely mean that we don't come in contact with the right people.

It is very doubtful, however, that any man in high office where controversial decisions must be made can satisfy three-fourths of all the people, and if President Eisenhower is still pleasing 65 per cent of all Americans, that's quite a stunt.

The barometer recording former President Truman's popularity once plummeted down to 32 percentage points. Some observers thought it was going to crash right through the floor before it finished falling, but instead Truman was elected in 1948.

From a distance it appears that some of the men around the President have been doing everything wrong. Attorney General Brownell got into quite a squabble by calling a few newspapermen to his apartment and leaking the news that Earl Warren was to be made chief justice of the Supreme Court, and the other irate reporters, who woke up one morning to find themselves completely scooped, have retaliated by dwelling upon the shortcomings of the President and his cabinet members.

A long list of grievances against Ike have been aired, including the allegation that he spends too much time on the golf course, but if his popularity poll still registers 65 per cent after the difficult adjustments of the past nine months, he's still in pretty good political shape.

BOILED GARBAGE

Editor, Newton Graphic:

I wish to call attention to the readers of this paper that at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on November 2, a final vote will be taken on the proposal to boil the city garbage on Elliot street, Newton Highlands.

Home owners in Newton Highlands and Newton Upper Falls as well as civic-spirited people in other parts of the city are opposed to this plan for several reasons: first, when the present incinerator was installed, many residents recall that the city assured them there would be no odor or debris. However when the wind blows or it is damp, a smoky odor of burning trash is unpleasant; clothes on the line have deposits of fine soot, and houses have to be repainted too often. Now there is the same reassurance again that there will be no odor, but this time it is unconvincing. One reason for a lack of conviction is that in a recent radio address the County Agricultural Agent cited that in its present stage large-scale boiling of garbage presents several problems still unsolved. There is no logical reason why residents in any section of Newton should be guinea pigs in this experiment.

The second argument vitally concerns home-owners in the area who feel they stand to lose heavily on their investments. They believe that prospective buyers of their property would not care to live near a garbage plant.

There are new and attractive homes in the immediate area. The people are self-respecting and proud of their homes. They have worked hard to keep their property up, and they are desolate. I trust all civic-minded citizens will sympathize with their plight, and that the hearing on November second in protest of this project will be well attended.

Janet K. Clark
21 Frances street,
Newton Highlands.

HAS A RIGHT

I understand that at the meeting of the Newton Civic Association held last Monday evening legal excerpts were introduced tending to show that a teacher had no legal right to be a member of the Board of Aldermen in Newton. As a result of this information the Newton Civic Committee failed to endorse me for the position of Ward Alderman from Ward 7. I am told that there was no question of my qualifications at any time.

The information upon which the Directors of the Civic Association acted was definitely in error. Before I decided to offer my services to the city and to my friends of Newton Corner, I checked the matter carefully. I have a record of three Supreme Court decisions that rule that teachers are not city employees. The question was also taken up with our Newton Solicitor, Matt Jones, and I quote from his ruling: "I would rule in advising the Board of Registrars and Voters that Mr. Powers is eligible to run for the election."

I believe that the people of Ward 7 will understand the injustice that has been done by this action on the part of the Directors of the Newton Civic Association. I hope that it was done unintentionally. If so, I know they will want to correct it.

WILLIAM M. POWERS

STRAIGHT RECORD

Editor, Newton Graphic:

The Newton Civic Association wishes to be sure that the record is straight in regard to the resolution relating to city employees who are or may be candidates for the Board of Aldermen, particularly in view of certain statements which have appeared in the press.

The resolution declaring it to be the policy of the Association not to endorse "an employee of the City of Newton who receives from said city any salary, wages or other emolument" was definitely a vote on a matter of policy and not as a legal interpretation.

This policy did not intend in any way to pass upon the legal question as to

1. Whether a school teacher is an employee of the City or
2. Whether a school teacher was disqualified from serving as a member of the Board of Aldermen

Every candidate who appeared before the Newton Civic Association was given an opportunity to say anything he desired and no candidate was prevented in any way from fully expressing his thoughts. The fact is that the question of whether a school teacher in the City of Newton could serve on the Board of Aldermen and retain his position as a school teacher was not raised by anyone during the interviews of the candidates. The question was first brought to the attention of the Board of Directors of the Association at the subsequent meeting when the endorsement of candidates was discussed.

BAGLEY QUALIFIED

Editor, Newton Graphic:

As an interested citizen of Newton I should like to urge the election of James J. Bagley as Alderman-at-Large, Ward 3.

He was the first in the city to announce his election. He is a very successful businessman and is a member of many civic and business organizations. He is sincere, honest, very capable, respected and progressive.

In appearing before the Newton Republican Club, Italian-American Club, Newton Civic Association, Oak Hill Improvement Association, The League of Women Voters of Newton, and several radio broadcasts, he has without a doubt been extremely impressive, expressing his views freely, impartially, and has been constructive in every way.

If Newton elects James J. Bagley as Alderman-at-Large, Ward 3, I know 49,000 voters in the city of Newton who are going to be very ably represented.

HODGDON SPEAKS

Editor, Newton Graphic:

For economy, vote for Walter A. Hodgdon, for Mayor, and vote against the increase of the Mayor's salary on the ballot, thereby saving $3000 a year. In voting for other offices, I do not suggest who you should vote for, because I haven't endorsed any candidate and do not want anyone to endorse me. I favor a City Manager Form of Government. This would benefit taxpayers and City employees. My opponent's labor record is nothing he can boast about. City employees should consider this.

I oppose property taking roads passing through Newton, but favor a double tier Toll Skyway above the Boston and Albany, such as I proposed to Governor Herter. Tolls received and taxes collected, year after year, on hundreds of Newton properties not taken by the State would more than pay for this Skyway.

For years, a secret political machine has been circulating a slate card of candidates for City elections. Within months, another political machine, named the Newton Civic Association, has entered the field and mailed a questionnaire to the candidates. This showed that a candidate's military services and the fraternities belonged to, were major considerations in this Association's evaluation of a candidate's right to hold office.

Last week, I spoke to the Newton League of Women Voters, as follows: "On Oct. 3rd, I wrote two open letters, one to Mr. Needham, the other to Mr. Vittl. These letters stated that I questioned the Americanism of their intentions to endorse slates of candidates for the coming election. The word Un-American was not used by me in either letter.

Regarding the Newton Civic Association, I am mailing copies of their By-laws to both the Massachusetts Secretary of State and the Attorney-General to have this type of political machine classified before it can destroy the liberties and freedoms enumerated in the Constitution of our Country. The letters I mailed with these By-laws read as follows:

I enclose the By-laws of the Newton Civic Association. Kindly advise me how far this Association can go in political slate making and campaigning, and in collecting money to further the election of such slates.

I call your attention to Article 4, Section 2, which reads, as follows:

Any person may, in one year, contribute or donate to the Association, an amount not in excess of one hundred ($100.00) dollars.

Citizens of Newton, I wonder if these slate machines have asked my opponent if he is still interested in having a Sports Arena erected in Auburndale, or, if he still wants to prevent school children, who attend other than public schools, from receiving State paid for transportation on School Buses?

Until next Sunday, Nov. 1st, at 1:15 this is Walter A. Hodgdon for Mayor of Newton.

WALTER A. HODGDON

FAVORS ASSOCIATION

Editor, Newton Graphic:

It is my candid and honest opinion and belief that in the matter of good government we should have for our public employees "especially the water meter readers" an association such as I have proposed in the following subject, namely, the "Mass. Water Meter Readers Association."

As a group of public employees we consider our work to be very essential in the maintenance of our department within the city government. The water meter readers of the City of Newton would appreciate any publicity that we could receive in attaining our objective, namely: the establishment of an association on a state and national level.

This subject and still in the planning stage is very dear to my heart. It is not controversial in any racial or religious sense and can very well be considered a subject of public interest as it concerns public employees.

As a water meter reader of many years experience on the Newton Water Department, I think I can speak with some authority on anything that would be of benefit to us. I take great pride in being the author and originator of the "Mass. Water Meter Readers Association." It is also a well-known fact that other public employees have their organizations and associations, viz: fire, police and many others.

Our association would be strictly non-partisan and non-political and would adhere to our charter. Being the author and originator, I am desirous and thankful for any publicity that you can bestow on us, the water meter readers of the City of Newton.

We work hard serving the public interest as competent and trusted employees. We firmly believe our work is a public trust and is therefore a subject of public interest and deserves recognition.

This Association when formed would be an immense help to every water meter reader in Massachusetts. The main purpose of our association would be the dissemination of knowledge, pursuant to our mutual benefit, and advancement in worthwhile objectives, within a framework of charitable expression.

The benefits that would accrue to the members of our association—with a background of work characteristics, mutual affiliations, and a fraternal spirit of brotherly love would be enormous. The surface would just be scratched and our country would be rewarded with efficiency and mutual trust in a large segment of public employees.

It is very vital and essential, that we as Americans and public employees, should be organized to combat the evil effect of Communism, which is invading the ranks of our Federal employees.

Our association would later on be enlarged on a nationwide scale and eventually would embrace every water meter reader working in any water department in the United States.

The scope of our association would be unlimited with dues and assessments very moderate. We would elect state and national officers and keep our original charter. A state and national convention would be held every year in some city of our choice. Sickness, accident and health benefits would be paid to our members and this would be incorporated into our charter and by-laws.

Starting and getting our association off the paper and planning stage into a realistic fact of accomplishment is my fondest hope and dream. The net results and possibilities are endless; and the cost, good will and benefits to our city, state and nation will be great.

In conclusion may I state that with the forming of our association on both levels, i.e., state and national — our association would be dedicated to the purpose of building a greater country and we the water meter readers of America would have obtained our objective.

Vast Rail Improvement Program Aids Farms on New York Central

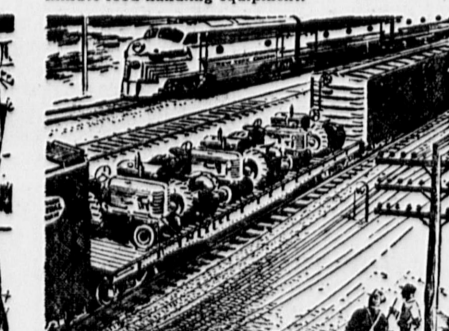

1. BUMPER CROP OF BOXCARS! Nearly 19,000 new cars have joined New York Central's great grain-carrying fleet since 1945. That $8-million-dollar investment assures prompt movement of crops from farm to market. And it's just one way that Central's program of progress benefits farmers.

3. ALWAYS LOOKING AHEAD, New York Central's Agricultural Department actively supports the 4-H Clubs. Also, it constantly seeks better ways to transport food. Ideas like the new, adjustable-deck livestock cars and super-low-temperature refrigerator cars now rolling on the Water Level Route.

2. OPEN DOOR TO WORLD MARKETS. Central tracks link the farms of 11 states with the great ports handling 85% of U.S. Atlantic trade. And in recent years, New York Central has invested millions to improve its shipside facilities that include up-to-the-minute food-handling equipment.

4. IT'S A TWO-WAY JOB. In any weather, the year around, Central's great new locomotive fleet not only hauls food to market, it also speeds supplies and equipment to the farms. And it does both at an average of only 1 1/2¢ per ton per mile. For dependable, low-cost transportation is always the CENTRAL IDEA!

Eight Newtonites On Strong Rivers Gridiron Squad

Several Newton boys have played a prominent part in the success of the Rivers Country Day School football team. After several lean years, Rivers has come up this year with one of the strongest teams in the Private School League.

In its last two games, Rivers has rolled up the impressive scores of 40-0 against Brooks School and 26-0 against Providence Country Day. Despite a thin squad in depth, Coach Bill Ormsby, Jr., of Newton, former Rivers star, expects his team to do well against its traditional rivals.

Boys on the team from Waban are Co-Capt. Bill Black, veteran guard; Dennis Kuntz, halfback, who scored three touchdowns against Brooks and two against Providence Country Day; Barnes Stames, sturdy fullback whose blocking and punting are outstanding. From Newton Centre, team members are Lee Supper, left end, a sophomore who never played football before this year; street, West Newton; and John P. Nixon of 40 Fountain street, West Newton, are also fighting for the two seats available.

At least one freshman alderman is assured in the contest for the at-large post from Ward 2, where only William R. Mattson of 28 Brookdale road, Newtonville, is up for re-election. Other candidates are Donald H. Gordon of 391 Highland street, West Newton; Isadore Ludwin of 67 Grove Hill avenue, Newtonville; and John W. Whittemore of 43 Otis street, Newtonville.

A third ward in which only one of the two at-large aldermen is up for re-election is Ward 6. Seeking to retain his post is Lawrence B. Damon of 34 Old England road, Chestnut Hill, while he is opposed by Helen L.

Peter TenBroeck and Thomas Heels, substitute linemen; and from Newton Highlands, veteran tackle James Trefrey and end Gordon McMullin, who also never played the game before this year.

Ring of 169 Ward street, Newton Centre, and William P. Ripley of 83 Pleasant street, Newton Centre.

Both aldermen-at-large from Ward 5 are standing for re-election. They are Wendell R. Bauckman of 336 Dedham street, Oak Hill, who is currently the president of the Board of Aldermen, and Edwin A. Terkelsen of 5 Cochituate road, Newton Highlands. Campaigning to replace them on the board are Neil J. McCallion of 50 Cottage street, Newton Upper Falls, and Alice M. Waters of 1093 Walnut street, Newton Highlands.

Contests exist for ward aldermen in all except Ward 6, where Hirsch Sharf of 143 Woodchester drive, Newton Centre, is unopposed.

In Ward 1, Adelaide B. Ball of 35 Waban street, Newton, is running against Carleton P. Merrill of 124 Newtonville avenue, Newton. Mr. Merrill formerly served as an alderman-at-large.

The Ward 2 contest is between Fred P. Pegnato of 504 Water-town street, Newtonville, and Stuart M. Spaulding of 136 Beaumont avenue, Newtonville.

Three candidates are in the running for the Ward 3 post, Charles H. Cosgrove of 47 Cherry street, West Newton; William J. Maloney of 46 Eden avenue, West Newton; and Charles H. Meeker of 20 Adella avenue, West Newton.

Harry H. Ham, Jr., of 457 Wolcott street, Auburndale, is opposed by Robert A. Moore of 5 Pine Grove avenue, Newton Lower Falls in Ward 4.

Alderman H. Eugene Jones of 128 Dorset road, Waban, is a candidate for re-election from Ward 5, but he is opposed by Henry K. Shor of 90 High Rock terrace, Oak Hill.

The Ward 7 candidates for the lone ward alderman post are James K. Fitzpatrick of 242 Park street, Newton, and William M. Powers of 3 Vernon street, Newton.

In the school committee race, only two contests are involved. In Ward 2, Gordon L. Hawes of 46 Lothrop street, Newtonville, is seeking to upset the re-election bid of Genevieve R. Onley of 23 Grove Hill park, Newtonville.

Three candidates in Ward 5 are seeking the seat presently held by Henry W. Keyes of 40 Puddingstone lane, Oak Hill. Opposing Mr. Keyes' re-election are Calvin A. Hill of 69 Pine Ridge road, Waban; George D. Mason of 57 Fenwick road, Waban; and Paul A. Williams of 82 Bound Brook road, Oak Hill.

Strictly "no contest" — barring an unforeseen write-in avalanche — are the present aldermen-at-large from Wards 1, 4 and 7; and school committee members from Wards 1, 3, 4, 6 and 7.

For the first time in 35 years, the complicated preferential voting system will not be in force. Formerly, voters marked both their first and second choices in the city elections. Now, a simple plurality — more votes than any other candidate — will win.

Under preferential voting, a candidate had to receive more than half the votes cast to be elected. If he did not receive that many, the second choices were added to the first, and the largest number of votes garnered by a candidate determined the choice.

The preferential voting system was voted out in a referendum ballot last year. Newton was one of the few cities in the state to use the complicated method.

The slow pace of the campaigns to date seems to point to a similar vote as was cast two years ago in the last municipal election. At that time, only 40 per cent of the registered voters bothered to go to the polls.

Out of a total registration of 41,416, only 16,555 votes were cast. As of June of this year, there were 45,506 registered voters in Newton.

An interesting sidelight to the election is that three women are attempting to be the first to break into the aldermanic lineup. Should one of the three be elected, she would set a new precedent, for never has a member of the weaker sex served on the city's governing body.

The candidates seeking the honor of being the first alderwomen are Adelaide B. Ball in Ward 1, Alice M. Waters in Ward 5, and Helen L. Ring in Ward 6.

Hearing-

the hearing. The request for the hearing has been referred to the aldermanic committees on public buildings and public works for action. Both committees are scheduled to hold their meetings tonight (Thursday).

The aldermen gave the director of public works informal approval to draw up plans for the expansion last week, since the committees concerned to study the incinerator problem had failed to recommend any specific action.

The cooking of all garbage which is to be fed to hogs will be required by the state beginning January 1 due to an outbreak of disease among swine. The incinerator does not have adequate facilities at present for the large-scale cooking involved.

The petition bearing the 303 signatures follows: "We the undersigned, citizens of Newton, protest against the proposed plan to boil or cook the garbage of Newton at the incinerator plant on Elliot street in Newton Highlands, believing this action will injure our property."

"Further, we request a public hearing in this matter on November 2nd, when it comes up before the Board of Aldermen. We feel that this request is serious enough to warrant the hearing in order to safeguard our property."

Newton Highlands Congregational Church "Village Fair"

The "Village Fair" in the Newton Highlands Congregational Church comes again this year on Friday, November 6th from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Founders' Hall, the newly dedicated room recently finished under the church sanctuary, will be the scene of the colonial village with its village green and brightly awninged shops. Pilgrim maidens will be in charge of all kinds of tempting wares for sale. Mrs. Clarence Churchill and Mrs. Wilfred Lake will open the windows of their Mother Hubbard Shop to display their hand-made aprons and across the way Mrs. Edward Hamilton and Mrs. Frank Rees will hang out the shingle of their Old Curiosity Shop. Gold and silver yarn knit in stoles and capes will brighten the gay piles of knitted garments in Ye Knit Shop of Mrs. Walter Archibald and Mrs. Robert Jennings.

Dominating the village scene will be the featured attraction of the Village Fair, the Colonial Kitchen, most charmingly decorated by the talented brush of George Bucknam and efficiently constructed by Donald McKay, aided by the Hobbs family. Members of the Martha and Dorcas Guilds, young colonial ladies, are gathering canned goods, home-made jellies and preserves, bakery goods and candies from kitchens all over the Highlands to fill to overflowing the attractive shelves of the Colonial Kitchen. Through the doorway of the Kitchen stands The Well, old fashioned and mysterious with its odd shaped packages to be purchased unopened and very inexpensively from Mrs. Irving Atwood and Mrs. George Elghmy. The "This and That Shop" of Mrs. Edwin Gibbs and Mrs. Donald McKay will have endless decorations for the Christmas season and novelties for everyone. No Fair is complete without its Gift Shop and Mrs. Floyd Dedrick and Mrs. Edwin Terkelsen have entrancing gifts for Christmas giving as well as choice plants and flowers. Browsing and buying in The Book Stall of Mrs. Frederic Grootsema will be a delight to both adults and children. The children have not been forgotten, for Mrs. Raymond Kennedy and Mrs. Ralph Shaw are opening a new shop called "Teens, Tots and Toys" and many a Christmas gift problem will be solved here. While thrifty buyers are laying in provisions and supplies for the holiday season, the children will be entertained and cared for in the movies by Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Hills and in the Little Red Schoolhouse by Mother Colton and the Martha Guild.

Guaranteed to attract a crowd of interested spectators will be the Hobby Shoppe where Mrs.

William A. Bedford will demonstrate finger painting. Mrs. Edward Ovington and Mrs. Ralph Nutter are gathering "collector's items" and in just such a shop will be found another piece of someone's collection where hobbyists may sell or buy duplicates or additions to their store of treasures.

The wholesome aroma of home cooked food from the Snack Bar of Mrs. Stephen Hung and Mrs. Stanley MacMillan will mingle with the fragrance of shabby to be purchased for fall planting. Mrs. F. A. Troie is in charge of that unsurpassed Country Supper always served when the men folk come in to join their families and then everyone will settle down to enjoy those irrepressible Highlanders in their hilarious show called "So You Like Television".

So Fore-fathers' Day will be celebrated by the Village Fair in Founders' Hall in the Church in the Heart of the Highlands, pantries will be replenished with good old fashioned food and Christmas gifts will be ready to wrap as the three general chairmen of the Fair, Mrs. Allston Budgett, Mrs. James Denning and Mrs. Francis Searway receive the proceeds to be used to further the work of Christian women in the community.

Mr. Saville R. Davis To Speak At Sisterhood of Temple Shalom

The Sisterhood of Temple Shalom of Newton is proud to have Mr. Saville Rogers Davis as its featured speaker at a meeting on November 4. Mr. Davis will discuss "What Next in Our Relations With Russia?" As former foreign correspondent and now American news editor of the Christian Science Monitor, he is at home equally in national affairs and foreign policy. He spent much of the postwar period in Europe, based in London, covering the major international peace conferences and observing the development of relations with Russia. He travelled widely through France, Italy, Spain, Germany, and the Low Countries, during this period, while covering the "peacemaking assignment," and as chief of the Monitor's London News Bureau, he reported the evolution of the British Labor Government at first hand. He now has charge of news on national affairs for his newspaper. Earlier, Mr. Davis had wide experience as a reporter, radio news commentator, and lecturer, always for the Monitor, chiefly in New York, Washington, Italy and Spain. He is a graduate of Williams College with a master's degree from Harvard.

This will take place in the Church Parlors, and will, it is hoped as in other years, be largely attended, not only by the members of the congregation, but by many interested friends in the surrounding areas. Sale of home-cooking, fancy-work and novelties will start at 2:30 p.m., while the "Dot-Luck" supper, which is a new feature in this year's bazaar, will be served continuously from 4:30 until 7:30—this at a reasonable charge, with special price for children. A warm welcome and a good home-cooked meal, should attract a large number of patrons on the above date.

Following the business meeting, Miss Mayan Jenkins will present a program that is different and of absorbing interest to every woman. Individual color readings and sketches will enhance her informal presentation. Several still life scenes from all over New England, including Rockport, Gloucester, Newtonville and Maine, and a collection of portraits are on exhibit today through tomorrow at the Copley

Society Gallery at 561 Boylston street, Boston by a young Newtonville mother, who is a self-taught painter. Mrs. Sophina G. Coty of 66 Grove Hill avenue is becoming one of the very few successful water-color portrait artists. An exhibition of 25 of her paintings are on exhibit including two pictures of her children, Deena, 11 and Brett, 6.

Mrs. Coty began her art work eleven years ago and studied the fundamentals of design at the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. Her water-color technique she developed later on her own, and she painted many still life studies and landscapes before embarking in the portrait field. this type of work and Mrs. Coty said "Since Water-color is such an impulsive medium, I like the challenge it presents and the adventure of controlling it."

Many requests for the unusual paintings have been made and she has shown her paintings at Jordan Marsh Company, the North Shore Art Association, the Independent Art Show, R. H. Stearns, the Newtonville Library, Newton Centre Woman's Club, the Newtonville Woman's club and the Rockport Art Association.

Recently Mrs. Coty has built an art studio in her home due to the ever-increasing responsibilities of her work, and is now giving lessons. What started as a hobby is growing fast into a full time profession.

Her paintings may be seen at the Copley Gallery, between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. today and tomorrow (Friday). She is planning to show her paintings in the Newtons.

President Stuart Knox opened the meeting with a word of greeting to the Faculty of the Franklin School, and to the members of the P.T.A. He spoke to us briefly about "What The Parent-Teacher's Association Really Means," how many organizations there are nationally, throughout the State, and locally. He also spoke of the many services that the P.T.A. renders besides the regular meetings, where problems and interests are discussed, for instance, it also sponsors Scout programs, Skating and Swimming programs, and many other activities that help to cement Community Goodwill benefiting School, Parent, and Child.

President Knox then introduced the Officers of the Franklin P.T.A. for the year of 1953-54. Dr. A. J. Minichiello, vice president; Mrs. Albert DuKatz, recording secretary; Mrs. Katherine Sherman, treasurer and Mrs. Gordon Ellis, corresponding secretary.

Standing Committees are: Mr. Martin Nugent, hallways; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fraser, room parents; Mrs. George Herth, skating; Mrs. Roland Olson, membership and hospitality; Mr. and Mrs. J. Donald MacKinnon, delegates to the Newton Council of P.T.A.s; Mr. and Mrs. William Paul, ways and means; Mr. and Mrs. John F. Carr, outgrowth shop; Mrs. Zenas O. Egan and Mrs. David Morris, refreshments; Mr. Arthur Connolly, program; Miss Marie Sullivan and Miss Helen Conroy, teacher representatives.

Mrs. Joseph Randall principal of the Franklin School was then introduced and he welcomed both old and new members, and then presented the Faculty of the Franklin School giving a brief biography of our five new teachers.

They are: Mrs. Jacqueline Newman, Grade 3; Mrs. Harriet Z. Klebanoff, Grade 1; Miss Mary Connors, Grade 6; Miss Dorothy A. Matson, Grade 1 and Mrs. Paula Phillips, Grade 4.

An interesting display of Costume Jewelry was shown by Miss Ethel Jackson of the Thomas Long Co. of Boston, who spoke to us on the subject "Costume Jewelry—Jewels of Beauty." After Miss Jackson finished her very interesting talk, matched sets of jewelry were modeled by several mothers and teachers, showing what a few added pieces of costume jewelry can do to enhance a person's appearance if chosen in good taste, regardless of price.

After the meeting refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Zenas Egan and Mrs. David Morris. The food was supplied by the Kindergarten mothers.

Three Foreign Students Tell What The UN Means to Their Countries

An especially fine International program, celebrating United Nations week, was given at the home of Mrs. Frank A. Day, on October 22. This was under the auspices of the Human Relations Committee of the Newton Community Club. Three students from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy gave their interpretation of what the United Nations means to their countries. Ronald MacLean of Canada, who was an officer in the Army, and is now working for his Ph.D., feels that both friendship with the United States and collective Security were the reasons for Canada entering the UN. While admiration for the ideals of the United Nations, he feels that NATO is the great force in Europe.

Abdur Razzak, who is from Pakistan, has a degree in English Literature and expects to go to London when he leaves this country. He feels that the troubles of the smaller countries, like his own, should not be overlooked in the United Nations.

Joachim Wild, from Germany, who has a Master of Law degree from the University of Wurzburg, thinks his nation is not eager to enter the United Nations right now. They have many problems, with eight million refugees to find places for in Germany, and they want to prove themselves as a Democracy before they enter.

Mrs. Loren D. Towle and Mrs. Norman P. Millard presided at the tea table, assisted by Mrs. Fred D. Hardy and her committee. The hostesses were Mrs. Harry B. Fitts and Mrs. Bruce Old.

Sound Film Nears Completion Of All-Newton Music School

The quarter-hour full-color sound motion picture about the All-Newton Music School, "Music for All," which has been in preparation since early in the year, was completed last Tuesday and is now going through final processing in a New York film laboratory.

The movie will be shown publicly for the first time on November 24. Donor of his services as photographer was Oscar H. Horowitz of 31 Montrose street, Newton, prominent member of the Amateur Cinema League and frequently in the news for his prize-winning productions. Last year his color movie "Ice Follies" was given the top Olympic award by the International Convention in Cortina d'Ampezzo, Italy.

Sponsored jointly by the trustees of the school and by the Parents' Auxiliary, "Music for All" was written and directed by Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Balos of 119 Park street, Newton, active members of the Auxiliary. Miss Irene W. Forte, director of music for the school, was musical director, and the audio engineer was William S. Eaton of the H-B Motion Picture Service, West Newton.

The narrator was Arthur N. Adon of the WBZ radio and television stations. All services were contributed.

Assistantships covering tuition expenses for one year have been awarded to two Newton students at the Graduate School of Boston University.

The 61 students given assistantships included Arthur B. Callahan of 169 Washington street, Newton, and David B. MacLachlan of 216 Highland street, West Newton. Mr. Callahan is studying biology and Mr. MacLachlan's field of study is geology.

Miss Connie Linberg of 65 Stearns street, Newton Centre, attended the 14th annual Fall Class Agents Meeting this month at Colby College, New London, N. H. A graduate of Colby, she has been a class agent for eight years.

Giving An Obligation of Democratic Living Says Dr. Bunche At Dinner

"Giving in support of worthy causes in a democratic society is not charity. This sort of giving is an obligation of democratic living," stated Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, United Nations peace negotiator at the Kick-Off Dinner of the 1954 Red Feather Campaign at Newton High School last Thursday night.

"In a democracy," he further stated, "business must have a heart and soul. Free enterprise can survive only if those who enjoy it are foresighted and generously human enough to pay the voluntary cost. Business has a big stake in the health and social stability of the community. Participation in the promotion of human well-being should be an obligation willingly assumed by every worthy citizen. Individuals and groups of individuals, through organized community effort, are called upon to shoulder, by means of their voluntary contributions and services, a major share of this burden of society. If they do not do so — since somehow the obligation must be assumed — it will be increasingly assumed by government, with many attendant and unpleasant implications as regards taxation and government regulations."

"Human beings," further stated Dr. Bunche, "are the richest resource of any society or community. It is a very short-sighted community which does not take every reasonable step to protect and preserve its richest treasure. No society can prosper long if it neglects the needy, the infirm, the maladjusted, the underprivileged, the young, and the aged. No one should ever be permitted to feel neglected or unwanted in a democracy. On the other hand, no one should expect a free ride. Rights and expectations must be counterbalanced always by duties and effort."

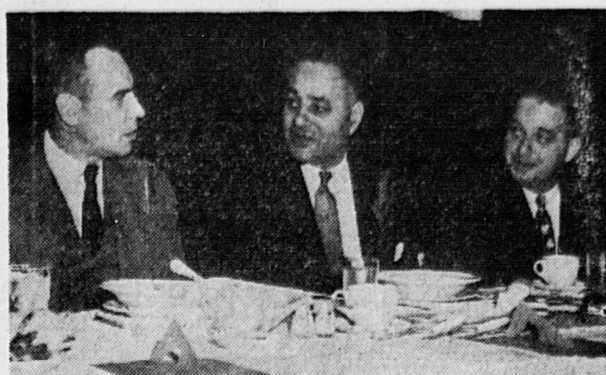

"In the charter of the United Nations the peace-loving peoples of the world express their fundamental faith in the dignity and worth of the human person. Vast numbers of people in far flung places have already felt the direct impact of the humanitarian work of the United Nations and have good reason to be grateful — millions of children have been vaccinated against tuberculosis; great numbers of refugees have been saved, kept alive, and given new homes; countless millions have been benefited from increases in food yield. How can America, strong and good as it is, preserve its own freedom without contributing its full share to the peace and freedom of the world? The United Nations is the world's life raft today. We should all be very thankful that we have it, granted that we would all prefer a sturdier and more seaworthy craft. I speak thus of the United Nations because I strongly believe in it. I am thoroughly convinced that its principles are sound and that they chart the only course to a free and peaceful world."

"The goal of all men and women of goodwill must be that of full and equal citizenship for all Americans irrespective of race or creed or national origin. This must be the goal, for the Negro citizen can never be content with anything less than his full birthright as a citizen, and no one who truly believes in our system could think otherwise. The Negro asks that he be weighed and treated in the society on the same scale and basis as every other citizen; that he be accepted or rejected, not as a group on the automatic basis of his color, but as an individual, in accordance with whatever merit he may possess. I have great faith in America and Americans. I am confident in this faith that all racial and social injustice will be corrected."

"It is urgently necessary that we do everything possible to preserve and improve the human resources of our nation. This is an obligation of every citizen as well as the government. In a democratic society there is a collective responsibility to assist the unfortunate, the stricken, the tragic, which is no less imperative because it is voluntary. Democracy can function properly and humanly only if its citizens have a highly developed sense of their civic obligations and if the hearts of democracy's citizens are big."

David Berkman, Newton Campaign Chairman, presided at the meeting and announced that $112,000 or 34.5 per cent of the 1954 Red Feather Campaign goal in Newton had been subscribed by the advance divisions. He further announced that the general solicitation would start on Red Feather Sunday, October 25, when 1700 workers connected with the Residential Division would start in to make their calls.

There were more than 800 enthusiastic workers and supporters in attendance at the meeting; this being the largest group to attend the Community Chest Kick-Off Dinner since the war years. Charles Devens, General Campaign Chairman for United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston praised Newton for its splendid record in past Red Feather Campaigns and said that under Dave Berkman's leadership he expected Newton would not only raise but exceed its goal. Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood spoke highly of the

Newton Woman Gives Museum Rare Barn Owl

A rare find in Massachusetts at this time of year, a young barn owl, barely able to fly, was turned over to the Museum of Science last week by a Newton woman.

Only one or two pair of barn owls are reported nesting in the state each summer, and their nesting season is usually from early May to the end of July. Two or three weeks later, they normally leave the area.

The museum received the rare youngster from Mrs. James T. Cals of 11 Faxon street, Newton, whose nephew managed the capture. The bird had gotten trapped in a skylight at the Raytheon plant in Waltham and was discovered during remodeling operations. What he is doing hereabouts in mid-October, no one quite knows, and he ferociously resists any friendly inquiries.

After a visit to the Stearns School in Newton, where Mrs. Cals' daughter, Jo-Ann, is a student, the owl was turned over to the museum, which will release him shortly.

Reserve Promotion

Eleuterio Mastromattel of 183 Adams street, Newton, a member of 94th Infantry Division Band in Boston with the Army Reserve, has been promoted from corporal to sergeant.

First Breakfast

The first breakfast of the Brotherhood of Temple Reym, West Newton, of this season was held Sunday in the Temple Vestry with more than 100 members present.

State Sen. Richard H. Lee of Newton was the featured speaker. His subject was "Your City of Newton." A scroll listing all charter members of the organization was presented by Trustee Nat Goldstein to president Dr. Herbert N. Shepard, accepting for the Brotherhood. Nominated for the Board of Directors were Leon Glick, Arthur Galer, Edward Rosenthal and Harold Berkowitz.

—GRAPHIC SPORTS—

Victory number five of the Orange-and-Black gridiron season went into the record books Saturday afternoon as the NHS team outfought a one-man team from Arlington by a 13-0 count at Dickinson Stadium. The win left oldtime sports fans digging deep into their memories to try to remember the last time a Newton eleven started the season in such whirlwind fashion. The best guesses available placed the last time a comparable record was achieved as back in the 1920's.

Living up to his advance rave notices, Arlington's Don Seager carried the brunt of his team's attack and nearly carried Arlington to a last minute touchdown with his savage smashes straight into the middle of the Newton line.... Of his team's 47 offensive plays, Seager carried on 23 rushes for a net gain of 80 yards and caught one of his team's two completed passes for a 14-yard gain.... His net gain would have been even higher had the exhausted halfback not been thrown for a loss on an attempted pass in Arlington's last offensive attempt.

The weatherman, which sandwiched a beautiful sunny day between two rainy ones, probably deserves an assist for the victory. Newton's running attack has not measured up to its passing prowess to date, and a continuation of Friday's rain would have made any passing at all questionable if not impossible.... Quarterback Art DeStefano was not throwing as spectacularly as he did the previous Saturday against Watertown, but he still managed to complete six aeriels out of 11 attempts. The passes gained 73 yards, set up the first score and resulted in the second.... DeStefano's favorite target, right half Lou Kahlenbeck, only caught one pass all afternoon. However, it was a 13 yard beauty which he took with a leaping catch barely inside the right corner of the end zone, at least five yards behind the closest defender. Lou took another aerial for a sizeable gain in the first period, but an offside penalty nullified the play.

Reverting to early-season form, the Newton gridsters dominated the first half with their offensive power and then beat off Arlington attacks for the remainder of the contest. The first time the Garden City eleven got their hands on the ball, a score followed.... Kahlenbeck started the march by running an Arlington punt back to the visitors 35. Two passes by DeStefano ate up 21 yards during the drive. Artie then handed off to Joe Hall on the five, and Joe bulled and pounded his way into the end zone with a pair of tacklers hanging on.

The second Newton touchdown was of the gift variety, coming after the Orange-and-Black recovered a fumble on the Arlington 25. DeStefano passed first to Bill Reilly for 14 yards and then finished the drive off with a perfect toss to Kahlenbeck in the end zone.... Arlington came out looking for blood in the second half and came within a hair of scoring with its first pass completion. Right end Chet Paris out-galopped a trio of Newton defenders to snare a long, looping toss and would have scored but for a diving, one-handed trip tackle by safetyman Kenny Flagg.... Newton's defensive line took command at that point and halted the Arlington threat on the 12 yard line.... Arlington's best drive came as the fourth period drew to a close. The Spy Ponders moved 63 yards before Seager was thrown for a loss on a fourth down and goal-to-go play. Newton then controlled the ball on the ground to run out the clock.... On the Arlington drive, Seager carried on 11 out of the 15 plays. As the visitors neared the Newton goal, it seemed to be a question of which would wear out first, Seager or the Newton line. Seager had more trouble getting up after each play until the attack petered out without his pile-driving attacks.

Newton's defense was aimed solely at stopping Seager and managed to confine the Arlington standstill to short gains. Every time Newton kicked off, rangy Paul Fitzgerald—who can boot practically all the way to the end zone—tried an on-side kick to keep Seager from getting off on a lengthy runback.... Willard Hamill's punting average took a sharp drop as he consistently aimed the ball out-of-bounds and away from Seager.

Four Newton first-stringers sat out the majority of the game. Halfback Ercole Iafate and fullback Bob Lee saw defensive action only in tight spots, with signal-caller Don Hoffman, an end, and safetyman Bob Peschier confined to the bench.... An especially encouraging part of the game was the performances turned in by the second-string backfield men. Hall did most of the Newton ball-carrying, lugging the leather 20 times for a net gain of 53 yards. Lucier gained 13 yards in 4 carries from his fullback spot. However, Iafate and Lee will probably be back in the lineup Saturday when Newton travels to Medford in search of number six in its victory skein.... The Garden City eleven again will rate the favorite's role against a steadily-improving but dangerous club.

Incidentally, Waltham High—Newton's next home opponent—continued undefeated by dumping Brookline 7-6. The Newton-Waltham encounter looms as one of the top contests of the year for local fans.

... Girl Scout News ...

The Girl Scouts of Newton, training Council for two graduates more than 2000 strong, have started their Scouting year with "Round Ups" in their individual school neighborhoods, with fourteen brand new Brownie troops, with more than 40 new Leaders, Assistant Leaders and Troop Committee members already trained in the first Leadership Training Courses, with more than 20 registrations already received for the next Training Courses now being set up, with significant additions to the adult corps of Scout workers, and with a group of enthusiastic Council delegates just returned from the great biennial National Girl Scout Convention in Cincinnati.

Miss Syveline Walter will be welcomed into the Newton Girl Scout family on Nov. 9, as a professional Field Director. She will replace Mrs. Charles Morang who resigned this fall after three years of enthusiastic, cooperative, and constructive service to Girl Scouting in Newton. Miss Walter comes to Newton from the Girl Scout Council of Portland, Me. She will be remembered by former campers as Camp Mary Day's Waterfront Director in 1951.

Again this year the Newton Local Council and its Executive Director, Miss Elizabeth Richardson, have been honored by the Boston University School of Social Work by being chosen as a delegate to the National Girl Scout Convention held in Cincinnati from Oct. 18 to 21, were Mrs. Arthur T. Gregorian, Commissioner; Mrs. Henry L. Kneppemburg, Treasurer; Mrs. Russell Broad, Program Committee; Mrs. Harry Shain Training Chairman; and Miss Elizabeth Richardson, Executive Director. More than 5,000 men and women, representing the entire United States, international guests from all over the world, and Senior Scouts from many cities, spent four days in business and inspirational sessions. The Newton delegates will report to the Newton Council at its regular meeting on Tuesday morning, November 17, in the A/V Newton Music School. All leaders and troop committee members are cordially invited to attend this Council session.

Pomroy School P.T.A. Builds Storage Shed

A very durable hut was the response of the parents of the P. T. A. of the Pomroy House Nursery School, a Newton Red Feather Agency, to the need for storage space.

Carts, tricycles and other toys are heavy articles to be lifting up and down from a porch each day. Also they take up good play space indoors on rainy days. Every available amount of room is needed for the active, busy children in order to keep them interested and happy during the hours they are together at Nursery School.

Thomas Sabetti was the guiding hand for Harry Morgan, J. Seymour McLean, Carmelo Tempesta, Louis J. Francis, Robert Demmons, Marino Beatrice and John Ahearn while they dug, plastered, hammered and painted. Donations and scrap materials provided the stock for the little building. Mrs. Timothy Dorsey, Chairman of the Nursery School P. T. A. helped to keep enthusiasm going with a number of projects in order to raise the cost of the materials.

Edwards Endorses Howard Whitmore For Newton Mayor

Among the thousands of endorsements received for the candidacy of Howard Whitmore Jr. as mayor was one from Roy S. Edwards, former candidate for mayor of Newton, the Whitmore for Mayor Committee announced today.

Mr. Edwards has long been prominently identified with civic activities and veterans affairs in the city and state. He is president of the Roy S. Edwards Lumber Company and chairman of the board of the Newton Chamber of Commerce.

The Whitmore Committee was gratified to receive his statement, which follows:

"It is my intention to vigorously support Howard Whitmore Jr. for the office of Mayor of the City of Newton.

"My decision is based on careful consideration of the qualifications of the candidates contending for this most important office.

"Rep. Whitmore has stated that, if he is the successful candidate, he will resign from his elective legislative office in the State House, and will be in fact a full time Mayor of Newton. He will give Newton an effective business administration and seek counsel and advice from individuals who in his opinion can assist him in the task ahead.

"A program such as this will benefit Newton greatly and should in my opinion, influence civic minded voters to favor the candidacy of Howard Whitmore Jr."

At Guidance Conference

Six Newton educators attended a guidance conference on Professional Education of Women conducted Friday at Simmons College. Among those participating were Inez M. Atwater, academic advisor at Lasell Junior College; Mary J. Cleveland, assistant principal, and Eileen M. Collins, guidance counselor, from Warren Junior High School; and Mother M. H. Quinlan, dean of studies, Mother Eleanor S. Kenney, president, and J. Patricia Marsh, placement director from Newton College of the Sacred Heart.

that members of the Advisory Council have no vote in decisions of the Board, particularly when endorsing candidates. According to the by-laws of the Newton Civic Association, members of the Advisory Council may attend Board meetings and have the privilege of the floor BUT are not entitled to a vote.

As President of the League of Women Voters of Newton, I felt it wisest not to accept your invitation to the members of the Advisory Council to attend those Board Meetings when candidates were being considered for endorsement. This was done to avoid any possible interpretation that endorsement by the Board of Directors meant endorsement by the Advisory Council.

It is the Directors of the Association who consider the qualifications of all persons who have offered themselves as candidates for public office—consider all information relative to such persons—encourage other persons to become candidates for public office—consider their qualifications—and upon majority vote of the Board of Directors endorse for public office such persons as they believe will best serve the interest of the City of Newton and its citizens.

Questions from candidates and the general public make it evident that there is misunderstanding as to the role of the Advisory Council. Since the Advisory Council members have no vote on the Board of Directors, the Advisory Council does not endorse candidates. In hopes of making this distinction clear, I am sending copies of this letter to the newspapers and to the candidates themselves. Anything you can do to make known that it is the Board of Directors of the Civic Association which endorses candidates will help to clarify the status of the Advisory Council and its members.

The League of Women Voters does not support or oppose candidates for public office. Although many League members were active in the formation of the Newton Civic Association, the Board of Directors of the League stated last spring that no member of its Board could serve on the Board of the Civic Association. This decision was made in order not to jeopardize our long-standing policy of non-partisanship, since the Board of the Civic Association is authorized to endorse candidates. Members of the League Board could, however, serve on the Advisory Council since it is not authorized to endorse candidates.

You will no doubt be calling a meeting of the Board of Directors soon after November 3rd in order to evaluate the work of the Civic Association in the city election. Also you will no doubt be making plans to carry out the stated purpose of the Civic Association "of promoting efficient, representative and responsible government in Newton, and, to that end, to encourage citizens to take an active interest in the affairs of the City" with the city election completed.

I will look forward to serving as an active member of the Advisory Council of the Newton Civic Association at such time.

He said he would be available at most times to act on these problems if elected.

Mr. Bagley made it very clear that there is a strict alliance between the issues which come before the aldermen and his everyday business, therefore qualifying him fully for the office he seeks.

His last business activity was as a member of the George B. H. Macomber Co. staff.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth (Drinkwater) Whidden and a grandson, Robert Avery Whidden 2nd. His son, Robert G. Whidden (Dartmouth '39) was killed in 1943 serving as a training officer in the Air Transport Command.

Halliday Explains His Opposition To Swimming Pool

The campaign of William E. Halliday Jr. for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 3 was furthered this past week by house rallies in Newtonville, West Newton, Waban, Oak Hill, and Newton Centre.

Several questions were asked of Mr. Halliday and among the most frequent were those asking the candidate to explain his stand on the controversial swimming pool at the Albemarle Playground. Mr. Halliday stated that to build a swimming pool at the Albemarle Playground would involve the expenditure of many millions of dollars for a facility that would be usable for 12 weeks at the most in any one year and would be a "criminal waste of money."

The same ends could be accomplished by the expansion of the recreation facilities at the High School to include an indoor pool which could be used 365 days of the year and which would be available to the entire city. There are many clean, safe, healthy swimming spots which are easily accessible from Newton by motor vehicle.

The City of Newton could provide trained supervisors and bus transportation every day of the swimming season to these places for far less money than the cost alone to provide police officers to direct motor vehicle traffic around the proposed swimming pool at the Albemarle Playground.

Rich Speaks to Overflow Crowd

Alderman Paul S. Rich, of 278 Franklin street, Newton, campaigning for the Republican nomination for State Representative, spoke to an overflow audience at his twenty-fifth house party, this week. Mr. Rich, who has been in office for the past four years, made the following comment on his campaign for the vacant House seat: "The Republican voters of this district are intelligent people, I can assure you. They know that it takes more than friendship to qualify a man for the responsibility of assuming the Republican seat from the Fourth Middlesex district, when our party holds only a five vote majority at the present time. It takes a man of ability, of balance, of courage, and of devotion to his trust. Thus the candidate must pass the A, B, C, and D standard set forth. Anything less will not suffice."

By WALTER CHAMBLIN, JR.

Practically every conceivable interpretation has been placed upon the Democratic victory in the special Wisconsin congressional election, but two factors, which have not been stressed, are important.

First, both the victorious Democrat and the defeated Republican were former LaFollette Progressives. The significance here is that no life-long Republican, either young or old, was nominated to carry forward the Eisenhower banner which stands for a return to free competitive enterprise. Unless the Republicans in every section of the country give-all-out political support to the Republican revival stimulated by Mr. Eisenhower, there'll be a return to Fair Dealism in the general congressional elections next November.

Second, "General Apathy," which had much to do with Truman's 1948 presidential victory, was in command of the political battlefield in Wisconsin. Post-election reports indicate that businessmen were over-confident. . . Did not work in the campaign. . . many did not vote. Out of some 150,000 eligible voters, less than one-third took the trouble to go to the polls.

Also, the farm program of the Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Benson, looking to freeing farm prices from government controls, is cited in most post-mortems as a major reason for Republican defeat. This should give cause for pause. . . for Mr. Eisenhower cannot return the nation's economy. . . or any part of it. . . to a normal basis and at the same time continue the high prices for all commodities (including farm products) at the inflated level to which they were boosted under the Roosevelt Truman program of borrowing billions every year so that the federal government could inflate prices by spending more than it received in tax revenue.

Another factor in the Wisconsin election which has not been stressed is that the Republican was a Catholic while the district was predominately Protestant. Now there is no way of actually appraising this situation, but the three factors already outlined should be sufficient to awaken those who want to (1) get away from government controls and price support plans, (2) get government out of competition with free competitive business, (3) get away from deficit financing (spending more than you earn), (4) get the budget balanced and (5) get taxes reduced.

There are many Republicans and Southern Democrats, who have served long on Capitol Hill, who say that the Eisenhower administration offers perhaps the last chance for a return to what heretofore has been regarded as sound national fiscal policy. It is the opinion of this group:

1 — That too little is being said. . . And too little credit is being given to what Mr. Eisenhower already has done to put the nation's fiscal, economic, social and foreign affairs in order, such as — price, wage and (federal) rent controls are gone. . . All metals controls are gone. . . (except on columbium and tantalum and these are going shortly).

2 — Socialized medicine and socialized electric power are no longer discussed. . . Both individual and corporate taxes will be reduced December 31. . . The federal payroll is being cut. . . Commissions are studying how to reduce the size of federal bureaucracy, eliminate government competition with business, return many functions now performed by the federal government to the states and municipalities, and establish foreign trade policy that will open more foreign markets to American farm and industrial products.

3 — Then, too, much emphasis is being placed upon what some regard as the shortcomings or mistakes of the Eisenhower administration. The Capitol Hill Group points out to the critical that it is much simpler to correct the defects of the present administration than to let it go out to power and then, in 1960, try to elect a perfect administration. . . And adds that after all there is no such thing as a perfect administration. By this group is this: if the Republicans lose out in 1956 you will have a return of the Fair Deal with more free spending. . . more inflation, more debt, and more devaluation of the dollar.

The Governor's Day

By HELEN HALL MAHONEY

Since people are always interested in other people, we hope you'll enjoy sharing with us the human side of the news from your Governor's office.

These County fairs certainly test a Governor's versatility. During the recent fairs, Governor Herter has tasted pickles and jellies, given a demonstration of bricklaying, awarded masonry diplomas, viewed prize cattle and sheep, talked on farming, kissed local beauty "Queens,"—he even took a bow from an elephant.

It's amazing, the situations a Governor can get into, and no Governor to cut the tape! Fine thing! A courteous inquiry as to why the caller expected the Governor to be present since he had not been invited brought forth the indignant response, "Why, Representative Mahoney promised me two weeks ago that the Governor would positively come." Unfortunately, said Representative had never consulted the Governor on that point.

We had interesting Indian visitors recently, the Manjeshwars, Shaktuntula, the nine-year-old daughter and her mother were dressed in the colorful garb of the Orient. Putt N. Manjeshwar, the father, a member of the Indian Foreign Service attached to the New York Consulate, wanted his family to see the Capitol of Massachusetts. Shaktuntula is in the fifth grade in a New York school and has previously lived in the Soviet Union, Sweden, England, and Iran. Asked if the teachers had difficulty with her name, she answered, brightly, "Oh, no! When I first come, they say they know they are going to have trouble with it. . . but in a couple of days they say it just as quick and easily as any of the other names." Adaptable, these teachers!

Mrs. James P. Sullivan, of 87 Kenwood street, Dorchester, mother of Lt. James Sullivan who died in a Korean prison camp, received a poignant thrill at the luncheon given by Governor Herter for returning Massachusetts POW's and their families.

It seems that Lt. William J. Killion of Dorchester was with a fellow officer when he died in Prison Camp. Killion knew that the boy's name was Sullivan and that he came from Dorchester so he brought along Jim's college ring (St. Bonaventure's) in case any of Jim's family should be at the luncheon.

He made inquiries and discovered Jim's mother and at the end of the luncheon approached her. You may imagine the rest. Mrs.

Sullivan held her son's ring in her hand and her eyes shone mistily as she thanked Lt. Killion and made a future engagement with him to learn about her boy's last days.

A heart-warming letter was received recently from Dr. George Kelemen of Gloucester street, Boston, recently. While in Congress, Governor Herter had helped to untangle some red-tape snarls in the citizenship applications of his three nephews.

Now that the formalities are practically concluded, he reports that in the interim all three boys have secured degrees from Harvard, one from the Medical School and two from the College, and the oldest, Dr. Peter Kelemen, is now in Korea, a 1st Lieutenant in the Medical Corps. Of such stock is fashioned the backbone of America.

The smart looking modern woman was perfectly exemplified in the group representing the Massachusetts Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Alert, well-groomed, with their president, Mrs. Beatrice Corliss of Gloucester, the women "took in" all the appointments of the Governor's office. In the outer office, Gretchen McMillen, food expert, suggested the addition of a couple of footstools so that the feet of short persons (like herself) wouldn't dangle from the broad-seated "waiting" benches. In the inner office, they were intensely interested in the historical chandelier with its metal sphere reputed to have held whale oil and the twelve light brackets which through the generations have burned in progression oil, gas and electricity.

Mrs. Herter has many unique requests made of her. . . such as. . . for a piece of her inaugural dress. The writer was willing to wait until it was worn as the material was for a patchwork quilt which the correspondent intended to make from the dresses of the wives of the governors of the forty-eight states. Evidently, the time element was not important, since some of the wives might "wear out" their costumes quicker than others.

Another request for a piece of the same dress was for the purpose of making and dressing a doll in an exact resemblance of Mrs. Herter (evidently sort of a "wax works" collection), and another piece was desired to be placed on sale at an auction.

A lady making a log cabin quilt wanted to use the discarded neckties of the forty-eight governors. The request stipulated: "One dark and one light one, please."

Christmas Seal Drive to Begin In Two Weeks

With only two weeks remaining to the opening of the Christmas Seal Sale on November 16, General Chairman Mrs. Gordon S. Pinkham of 27 Somerset road, Waban, reports that many volunteers are busy working in the offices of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association and in their homes preparing material for the mails.

Home workers include, from Newton Upper Falls, Chairman Mrs. Daniel J. Shine, Miss Grace Hunt and Mrs. A. Perry Holt, Jr.; from Newton Centre, Chairman Miss Marie Ulmer and Mrs. Dennis Calnan; and from Oak Hill Park, Chairman Mrs. Robert C. Rier and Mrs. Albert A. Wixon.

In addition to workers previously listed in new bulletins, the following have given time from October 13: from Newton Highlands, Mrs. Allan W. Parmenter, Mrs. Allison T. Budgett and Mrs. Phillip L. Miller; representing West Newton clubs, Mrs. William T. Schenk, Mrs. Ostroff, Mrs. William E. Coulton, Mrs. Edward Abbott, Mrs. T. G. Strater, Mrs. Frank R. Mullaney, Mrs. C. Warren Howe, Mrs. Percival Waters, Mrs. M. A. Warren and Mrs. Frank A. Hannan; from Waban, Mrs. William B. Arthur, Mrs. Milton W. Heath, Mrs. R. F. Wagner; from Newton, Mrs. William Burnett; from Newton Upper Falls, Mrs. Ralph W. Hamilton; from Newtonville, Mrs. Fred C. Alexander; and from Newton Centre, Mrs. John W. Duthie.
